One of the fortunate few; Tom the turkey, is the pet of Ann Vivet. He's sort of a leftover from Ann's try at turkey breeding. Ann says the turkey hens spent all their time sitting on duck eggs, so... Tom is kind of vain, and likes to show off for visitors, which probably accounts for his noble pose.

Pierce County to hear KP interim zone plan

The interim zoning plan of the Key Peninsula, excluding the home area, will be heard by the Pierce County Council at their November 28 meeting, which starts at 4 pm. The interim rezone plan was approved by the planning committee of the Council, which was held November 14. That meeting was attended by Joy Barrera, Olive Bell Reid, John McMenamin, Mr. & Mrs. George Lund, Bob Johnson, Marie Brown, Laurie Nichols, Ken and Stella Retherford and Lee Owens as interested citizens.

The basic provisions of the plan are; a 2 and 1/2 acre minimum lot size, excluding waterfront property, designated commercial areas, and 50 foot buffer zones along the highway. The 50 foot buffer has been one sticking point in the plan, with property owners protesting that paying taxes on unusable land is an unfair burden. Councilman Paul Cyr has been working with the assessor-treasurer to work out a tax credit plan for affected property owners.

If the interim zoning plan is passed by the Council, it will go to the Executive for signing and remain in place until Key Peninsula citizens have worked out a comprehensive land use plan, or until December 1, 1991. Citizens are invited to the Council meeting to give input.

Merrill Lynch reaches out to seniors

A Tacoma commercial agency is spreading holiday joy around again this year, as in the past, by providing for telephone calls to distant loved ones of area seniors.

On Saturday, December 9, 1989 calls will go out from Merrill Lynch offices assisting elderly who might not otherwise be able to exchange holiday greetings to relatives in remote places. Transportation must be arranged by the senior for the trip to downtown Tacoma offices from the home of a participating senior citizen. In certain cases transportation may be arranged by a senior support group.

Persons desiring to take part in this project should phone the Neighbor To Neighbor office at 591-6079 or 1-800-642-5769 (ask for Jean Brooks); or calls may be made to 884-9833. The applicant's name, address and telephone number are needed. Deadline for applications to take part in these free phone calls is November 27.

Fire Commissioners, union in mediation

by Megan Aprile

Early this year, fire district 16 firefighters made the decision to unionize. Contract talks were started in April, but as yet no agreement has been reached. Fire District 16 commissioners hired a firm specializing in independent negotiations, and the union is being assisted by a state council member.

In Washington state, each local chapter of the International Association of Firefighters Union negotiates with the local fire district for a wage and benefit package. Other issues, like the length of a contract and seniority, may also be included in negotiations. Firefighters cannot go on strike, but if an agreement cannot be reached, the two sides will eventually be required to enter into binding arbitration. The contract talks may now go to mediation, an intermediate step in which the state assigns a mediator to hear both sides and help work out an agreement.

The cost to the fire district so far for negotiations has been between three and five thousand dollars.

KPCCA arts and crafts fair

Don't miss the annual arts and crafts fair on Saturday November 25. Shopping hours will be from 9 to 4 pm with a nice assortment of quality handmade items. In keeping with the season, there will be wreaths, Christmas decorations and wonderful gifts waiting to be purchased for that special person. Dori Richards will be there with six of her students with oil paintings and mini prints.

Volunteers from the Key Peninsula Community Services Center in Home will be manning the kitchen, offering a variety of treats. Proceeds from the food sales will go to benefit the food bank.

KPFD Robbed

by Hugh McMillan

Key Peninsula Fire Department officials on a routine visit to station 4 in Longbranch on October 27 discovered that the station had been robbed of an estimated $5,000 worth of firefighting and emergency medical equipment and supplies. Included were tools and a toolbox, a $1,200 fire communications' radio, a $340 chain saw, an 1800 watt gasoline-powered generator, MSA-SCBA facepieces worth $400, a complete respiratory kit, and a complete EMS trauma kit among many other items necessary for firefighters to perform at emergencies.

Without that equipment, the fire engine and tanker at Station 4 would simply have been incapable of doing their jobs had there been an emergency before the theft was discovered.

If you can provide any information leading to the arrest and prosecution of the person(s) responsible for this crime, please call 857-3700 or 884-2222.

Home rezone moves forward

by Stella Retherford

At the second public hearing held November 6 at the Civic Center, the Pierce County Planning Commission approved Home residents' petition to change the zoning from General to Suburban, with a one acre minimum lot size. The commission had voted to delay approval after the first hearing on September 6 to permit further study and allow time for comments by the Fire Prevention Bureau and the County Health Department.

Community House Christmas Project

by Mary Seidelman

Again we come to the time of year when the joys of the season begin to occupy our thoughts. Each of us plans to celebrate in a different way and each of us shares with others at this special time of year. This year, as in the past, we of Community House will be providing Christmas baskets of food, clothing and small gifts for families on the Key Peninsula who are unable, due to loss of income or illness, to enjoy the Christmas season.

This project, of course, is impossible without the help of our friends and neighbors who give so generously to those less fortunate.

To The Editor

Dear Editor:

I wish to thank all of the voters who expressed their confidence in the issues I raised in the recent election.

I also wish to express my good wishes to our Fire District 16 Board of Commissioners and the Department in general, and wish them the very best during the years to come.

Keith Stiles,
 Vaughn

Dear Editor:

I would like to extend my thanks to the many people and organizations that helped get me elected as Fire Commissioner in Fire District 16.

I appreciate the endorsements of the Volunteer Fire Fighters Association, the Fire Fighters Local Union, and the Peninsula Gateway.

My campaign committee put in many long hours attending meetings and making hundreds of telephone calls. I can't thank them enough.

Last, but not least, I thank the voters who placed their confidence and trust in me.

I anticipate an exciting future for Fire District 16 and look forward to serving this wonderful community.

John Hendrickson,
 Vaughn

Dear Editor:

I really like the big American flag that is in Purdy. I'm glad they put it up.

I think they should have a light on the flag at night.

It's the law that if you keep our flag out at night, you have to keep a light on it. This shows respect for our flag and country.

Vaughn school next for remodel

Keith Stiles, Peninsula school district board member, has advised the NEWS that an architect will be selected in January 1990 for the remodeling of Vaughn. Actual work could start as early as the summer of 1990.

The levy passed by the voters in 1986 authorized the re-do of the permanent wing on the north side of the building, the rebuilding of the core area, which includes the office, teacher's staff room and library, and upgrading the rest of the building to district standards. If monies can be found, the lighting, heating and cooling in the south wing of the school will be upgraded also.

Mr. Stiles stated that it was possible that all the remodeling could be completed during the summer months, but it also likely that at least part of the work will take place during the school year. The principal, staff, parents and school board will soon need to make the decision together about whether Vaughn students will remain on site, like the Evergreen elementary school students did, or be bused to another location.

Civic Center News

Stephanie Zampini was elected to a two-year term as president of KPCCA at the election meeting in November.

Stephanie is a native of Montreal, Canada, and arrived in Washington via Florida, New Jersey (where she met and married her husband Joe) and Arizona.

The Zampinis moved to the Key Peninsula about ten years ago. Like many of us who live here, they discovered the quiet country atmosphere while looking for a place to re-locate and have been here ever since.

She brings her outgoing personality, competence and dedication to volunteer service to the position of president of KPCCA. For the last seven years, Stephanie has been on the board of Key Peninsula Community Services.

Volunteers

by Stephanie Zampini

VOLUNTEERS, the neatest people you ever wanted to meet. In a community like ours the need for volunteers is great. Everyone has a talent that they can call upon to help the Civic Center in their many endeavors.

We are looking for folks who would like to serve on the BOARD once a month or on a special event or project, be it one hour a month or once a year.

Many events need coordinators, program helpers, set-up and take-down personnel and many other types of jobs. So call and let us know what you like to do and the number of hours you would like to donate to your community.

Remember, the Civic Center belongs to all of you, the residents of the Key Peninsula. If you want to see a good and viable organization we need your help and input.

Please call me, Stephanie, at 884-9821 for more information.

Until our Civic Center parking lot is striped, please leave the spaces closest to the door vacant for our senior or handicapped users. They will appreciate your consideration.

KPCCA meeting reports:

The Key Peninsula Civic Center Association held its annual election of officers at the November meeting. The Association's new officers are: president, Stephanie Zampini; vice-president, Dave Freeman and treasurer, Ann Larson. The office of secretary is still open.

Ann Larson reported that a large donation had been made by the Angel Guild toward the purchase and installation of playground equipment for the Civic Center grounds. The Association voted to use the skating profits through April towards the playground equipment, and also authorized Ann Larson to ask for donations from other groups in the community.

Association members heard reports on the Arts and Crafts Fair, the New Year's Eve dance, the Halloween dance, Halloween party and Reno night. The Arts and Crafts Fair will be held November 25. The band for the New Year's Eve dance will be the 21st Century. The Halloween dance went well, and the Halloween party was also a success. Reno night went off well, and the spring date for Reno night was set. In addition, Family Game night was set for January 19.

In other business, the continued renovation of the stage was discussed, and it was announced that the parking lot will be striped as soon as the weather permits.

It's a Key Peninsula Christmas

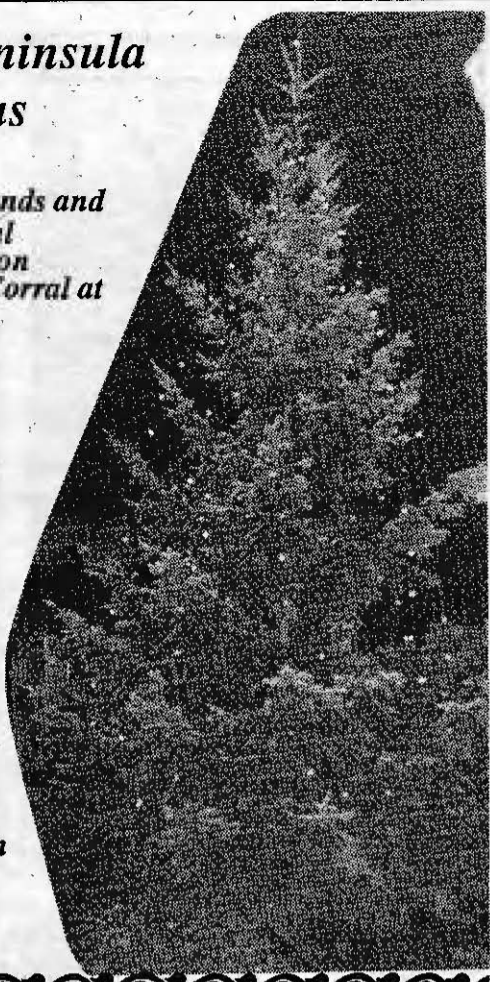

Christmas tree lighting

Please join your friends and neighbors for the annual Christmas tree lighting on December 3 in the KC Corral at 4:30 pm.

Bay View Tree Farm will donate the tree, which will be hauled in a rig and trailer loaned by Rich McCall of Key Pen Manufacturing, set up by a Peninsula Light crew, and decorated by the folks from the Key Peninsula Business Association.

Santa arrives at 5 pm to give out candy canes. Refreshments will be served.

This annual event is organized and paid for the Key Peninsula Business Association as a Christmas gift to the community.

Several person spoke to confirm that they wished to see Home retain its rural character with as little change as possible, and that rising population pressure would endanger the quality of life and our limited water resources.

Louis Gage, chair of the planning commission hearing panel, pointed out that our minimum waterfront lot size is sure to rise as Puget Sound becomes more threatened. Increased population along the shores could lead to overloading soils with septic system effluent. As more water is drawn from aquifers, salt water intrusion is also a danger.

The proposed zone change to SA-1, a one acre minimum lot size, will have two more public hearings before the Pierce County Council makes the final decision, likely before January 1. The hearings will be announced in the Key Peninsula News.

KP Lions offer Entertainment '90

The Key Peninsula Lions' Club is offering Entertainment '90 coupon books for sale at the Key Center Branch of Puget Sound Bank, Key Center Shell, and from Lions members throughout the Peninsula.

The books offer bargains until December 1990 at restaurants, fast food stores, sporting events, stage shows and musical programs at TAG, the Pantages, movie theaters, UPS and PLU football and basketball and cultural events, Seattle Super Sonics and Tacoma Tigers games, golf and country clubs, ski-lift tickets, hotels, bowling, and many other bargains throughout the Pacific Northwest and Canada. As one Lion member put it: "If you use it twice, it's paid for itself; the rest is gravy."

Entertainment books have proven to be very popular as Christmas gifts. Call 884-3485, 884-3319, or 884-9345 to reserve your copy.

A special ballet, a special night

BalleTacoma will present Tchaikovsky's "Nutcracker" December 15-17 and 22-23 at the Pantages Centre in Tacoma.

This magical tale of a special Christmas night begins when Herr Drosselmeyer (David Hitchcock) gives his favorite godchild Clara (Lesley Camille Crowell and Mindy Kellis) a splendid nutcracker doll on Christmas. The nutcracker is transformed into a handsome prince (Robert Caturia), who takes Clara on a magical journey. Clara and her prince discover a wondrous land of imagination, and a host of extraordinary characters.

A Sugar Plum Tea following each of the three matinees will be hosted by BalleTacoma boosters to allow young ballet enthusiasts an up close look at backstage ballet, personal introductions and photos with company and guest dancers, and very special treats. Space is limited.

"Nutcracker" is sponsored by Pacific First Federal Savings Bank. Reserved seating is available at the BalleTacoma office of 272-9631 or at Ticketmaster outlets.

PHS freshman football sets new school record

by J.J. Frame

In the 1988-89 season the freshman boys lost of all their games, but in this year's freshman game against rival Gig Harbor High School, this new breed of PHS players won 27-8. Setting a new school record of 6 wins and 2 losses, the team had a successful season, despite the loss of starter Chris Thornton, number 55, who broke his femur during a practice game October 24. The team decided to dedicate the last two games to Thornton, and all the players wore tape that said 55 Thornton.

A lot of players felt it is an honor to have Jon Znamierowski, who previously coached at White River High School, and Jon Selfors, the assistant coach, there for them. "Mr. Selfors is a good coach. He went here, (Peninsula) so he knows how the program works because he's been through it before," said freshman quarterback Erik Morin.

"This is probably one of the most gifted group of football players to play at PHS in a long time", said coach Znamierowski. "Each week we've gotten a little bit better." Assistant coach Jon Selfors played from 1981-84 at Peninsula, making all-state quarterback in 1984. Both coaches remarked that the team is going to go far in its future at Peninsula.

McNeil, Shelton, slated for expansion

Governor Booth Gardner has proposed a $392 million construction plan to house another 3,091 prisoners expected between now and 1996. The drug offender inmate population increased from 469 in 1988 to 912 in 1989 and is expected to rise to 2,101 inmates by 1991.

To meet the need for additional prison capacity, Governor Gardner proposes expanding some existing facilities. The Washington Corrections Center at Shelton will be expanded to house 300 more prisoners and construction of a planned new housing unit at McNeil Island Correction Center which will house 1,408 prisoners will be accelerated if the plan is adopted. The anticipated cost of $392 million would come from the state's capitol budget over the next six years.

Remember the neediest during the holidays. Sharing time or money makes a real difference to people in need.

Leaves, leaves, everywhere

Is it called "fall" because that's what all the leaves do? Those leaves, prunings, lawn clippings, and even stumps can be recycled. Purdy Topsoil, located near the Peninsula Light Company, has Pierce County's only yard composting facility. Yard waste can be dumped for a minimal charge per yard. It is then run through a hammer mill, which shreds everything to the consistency of peat moss, and the resulting material is left to age as-is for part of a season. In mid to late summer, it is blended 3 to 1 with soil, and stored over winter. By spring it has become fertile soil.

The science corner
by Joe Aprile

The ancient Greeks had first proposed the existence of elementary building blocks of all matter called atoms, but it was not until the beginnings of modern physics that it was shown that atoms existed. By the middle of this century, it was discovered that different kinds of matter are made up of molecules which are made up of atoms, and that all atoms contain protons, electrons and neutrons.

With the use of a simple device called the cloud chamber, physicists began to find evidence for the existence of additional sub-atomic particles of unknown properties. These initial discoveries led scientists to question whether protons, electrons and neutrons were indeed the elementary particles of matter, or whether they too were made of even smaller particles.

To further complicate the issue, particle accelerators provided evidence that there is an almost bizarre array of particles. Particle accelerators can accelerate small particles such as protons at very high speeds with the use of powerful magnets. When these particles collide, many by-products result.

Physicists have been trying to find some underlying principle in all these results. In the October 12 issue of Nature, David J. Miller has an article entitled "The Beauty of the Standard Model" which talks about a simple definition.

According to this interpretation, the elementary particles of nature seem to be protons, neutrons, electrons and neutrinos. Protons and neutrons are members of a family of particles called hadrons, and all are made of sub-atomic particles called quarks. Electrons and neutrinos, on the other hand, are members of a particle family called leptons. Together these particles make up matter as we know it.

Although this is far from the last word in terms of the modern understanding of the architecture of matter, it demonstrates the assumption held by most scientists that beneath the apparent confusion and magnitude of data, there exists a unifying simplicity.

A playground at the Civic Center

by Megan Aprile

All of us with children can appreciate the importance of a new community project; some playground equipment on the Civic Center grounds.

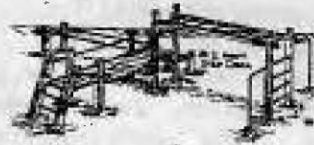

The Angel Guild has already given a large donation toward the equipment, and the Civic Center Association has earmarked all of the profit from skating for the next four months toward the project. In the coming months, representatives from the Civic Center Association will be contacting local organizations to ask for financial or other help.

In the months to come, we'll keep a running account in the NEWS of the contributors. Contributions can be made through the Civic Center Association, PO Box 82, Vaughn. An open committee is forming now to help select the equipment and organize the project. Call Ann Larson at 884-3562 for more information.

Ann Larson, the treasurer of the KPCCA, has worked hard on this project; explaining, fund raising, sending away to many companies who manufacture outdoor play equipment for price and other information. She has accumulated a large sheath of drawings with all kinds of play equipment in all ranges of prices and designed for various ages of children. Ann laughingly tells of her husband catching her poring over drawings of play equipment, and not knowing about her idea, commenting, "aren't you carrying this grandmother thing a little too far?"

Maybe the big toy type structure that Ann was looking at, with the swing, slides, climbing net, walkways and lookout platforms would be a little much for a backyard, but it would be a wonderful sight at the Civic Center, especially to the kids.

Low fat basting

To take the fat out of basting, leave the drippings in the pan and baste with one of these yummy items: sherry, apple juice, cranberry juice, chicken broth, turkey broth, safflower or corn oil.

from the cooperative extension svc.

No fat basting

If you want to go without basting, do your turkey in a brown paper grocery bag. Oil the inside of the bag slightly and put your turkey in. Close the bag with a piece of string and roast in a 350 degree oven for thirty minutes to an hour shorter time. If your turkey is very large, put one bag from each end to cover completely. Juices will flow into the pan through the bag and you will have good drippings for gravy.

Creamed onions

Purchase small boiler onions and cook until done. Drain and put some half and half and a small dab of butter over and keep warm until serving. This has become a tradition in our family since I tried it when our children were small.

Add and mix:

1 c. mashed potato
1 c. oat bran
2 medium onions
1 clove minced garlic
1/2 c. fresh parsley
1 Tbsp. each: basil, oregano, celery seed
1 tsp. salt
1 1/2 c. grated cheese
Separate 3 large eggs. Beat yolks with 1/4 c. oil and 2 Tbsp. Tamari. Add potato mixture. Beat whites and add.
Bake in oiled bread pan, 325-350 degrees, covered with foil. Bake for 1 hour, remove foil for 10 minutes to brown. If not firm, bake longer. Cool for 10 minutes in pan before slicing.

Dory Meyers

Pumpkin Cheesecake

2-1/2 lbs. cream cheese
1 c. sugar
4 eggs
1 c. whipping cream
1 can pumpkin (1 lb.)
2 tsp. vanilla
1 Tbsp. pumpkin pie spice
3 Tbsp. flour

Beat cream cheese and sugar until smooth, add flour and seasonings, add vanilla. Add eggs one at a time, beating until blended. Add whipping cream, pumpkin, blend thoroughly. Pour into graham cracker crust (recipe follows), bake in preheated oven at 425 deg. for 15 minutes, reduce temperature to 275 deg. pour sour cream topping (see below) over cheesecake and bake 1 hour. Turn off heat, leave cheesecake in oven overnight. Makes 1 ten inch cheesecake.

Janice McMillan

Business briefs

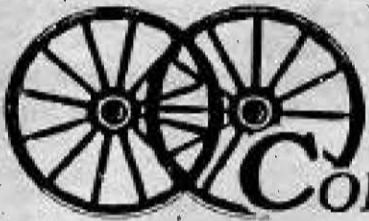

Nancy Switzer and her husband Charles have opened a florist shop on Highway 302 at the Horseshoe Lake turnoff. The Switzers have been planning, researching and developing their dream of opening a florist shop for ten years, and are very happy to be opening The Wooden Tulip. They plan to have a variety of interesting things in the shop. Nancy was formerly a silk flower designer. The Switzers live nearby in Kitsap county, but still consider themselves on the Key Peninsula. They have two sons, 10 and 7.

that the cornucopia logo has got to go. He is currently looking for a graphic design artist to create a new one. Basically, the store will continue as before. Mr. High, his wife and two children have lived on the Key Peninsula for several years.

Jerry High has recently purchased the Harvest Time Country Store. In an exclusive to the NEWS, Mr. High stated

U.S. Department of Commerce figures show that 66.5% of the Pacific Northwest work force is employed by small businesses.

The Small Business Administration will hold a conference in Tacoma on November 30 to provide information and assistance to new and existing businesses owned by women or minorities. For more information call (206) 442-1420.

KP news is 16

We've grown a lot since 1975, when our logo was "neighborhood news from Wauna to Longbranch", but we have never lost sight of our purpose, which is to support and promote the activities of the Key Peninsula and the Key Peninsula Civic Center.

We hope you'll want to show that you read the NEWS with a t or sweat shirt. They will say (of course) "I read the Key Peninsula News." They are available by order in classic newsprint colors, white letters on black or black on white. T's are $8.00, sweats $16.00. You can order by filling out the coupon or by phone.

If you would like to phone your order, please call 884-4699 after business hours and leave a message on the answering machine. Orders will take about 3 weeks to fill. Look for some samples at the Arts and Crafts Fair November 25.

We know that without the support of our advertisers, the Key Peninsula Civic Center Association and the many volunteers who have worked on the paper through the years, the KP News would not have survived, but it is our loyal readers that have made our "little paper" as it's often called, the local institution that it is today, and we thank each and every one of you.
