Future of Volunteer Park, Civic Center on track for '91 and beyond

In a mature display of cooperation, representatives from the Key Peninsula Park District and the Key Peninsula Civic Center Association have signed a contract which ensures the smooth operation of the Civic Center for the next three years by the Civic Center Association.

The contract was designed to conform to all the legal and practical arrangements necessary to transfer the day-to-day management and responsibility of the Civic Center to the KPCCA.

The Civic Center Association will now begin to work on the second challenge, which will be to raise adequate monies and gather the necessary community support to, in fact, keep the Civic Center doors open.

In the coming months, the Association will be looking at various methods to accomplish those ends.

The Key Peninsula Park Board has created a budget for 1991 based on user fees for the park which should provide for its continued operation. Ten percent of the Civic Center rents will be used toward any future election costs. A smaller levy to fund capitol improvements and other big ticket items for the district will be discussed at future park board meetings.

A complete text of the contract is printed in this issue beginning on page 10. The future of the Civic Center is also discussed on page 2.

The Key Peninsula NEWS will continue to be housed at the Civic Center and will continue its regular publishing schedule.

Dr. Penrose Orthopedic Guild's new cookbook

"Taste of the Northwest"

A new, special, locally-produced cookbook, Taste of the Northwest, is a beautifully formulated collection of recipes sponsored by the Dr. Penrose Orthopedic Guild.

Taste of the Northwest has three sections of recipes: Northwest apples, salmon and strawberries.

Recipes are presented in an easy-to-follow format, and they are recipes you just won't find collected together under one cover elsewhere. It has, for example, complete directions for preparing your own smoked salmon ... from scratch ... plus a wonderful selection of other tasty specialties.

To reserve your copy, call 884-3319 or 884-3597. The price is only $10.

All proceeds from sales of the cookbook will assist the philanthropic work of the Orthopedic Association in its support of Mary Bridge Children's Hospital, which treats all children, regardless of race, creed, color or ability to pay.

Poll results

We are extending our poll through the first two weeks of January. There have been some informative responses, and we don't want to miss yours. Call 884-4699 after 5 pm and briefly state your reason for voting "no" on the recent park district levy. See the next issue for the story.

Does it still look pretty?

Just testing. The Key Peninsula was hit nearly the hardest ever by storms. Many residents were without power for long periods, and the entire Peninsula went dark when the main line from Lake Cushman dam went down, not once, but twice. Peninsula Light company called in crews from other areas to assist in the massive job of clearing trees from power lines. Some trees fell onto homes.

The storm also did considerable damage to the bulkhead at Camp Woodworth, which was installed only a few years ago.

Pre-release facility will not be built here

by Megan Aprile

The top two sites for a prison pre-release facility had both been near the Women's Correctional Center in Purdy; one site was state-owned land and the other private property.

The state-owned land almost immediately became controversial because of the old growth forest on the land. That site has now been removed from consideration for a pre-release facility, but is still a possible site for future expansion of the Women's Correctional Center. The privately owned site near the WCC has been moved to number four on the list.

The number one site is now near McChord Field; site 2 is in the LaCamas area and site 3 is on the Tanawax-McKenna Highway. Environmental impact statements will be prepared for the first three sites over the next three months or so. The committee will then reconvene to make the final selection.

Peninsula gets new zip and phone rate zap

Peninsula residents got two pieces of good news recently; a separate zip code, 98329, was added to the north Peninsula "Gig Harbor" addresses, and Telephone Utilities of Washington announced that a rate reduction request has been filed with the Washington Utilities and Transportation Commission. If the request is approved, monthly telephone rates will be reduced for many residents who are currently paying mileage charges. All mileage fees will be eliminated and every residential customer will pay a monthly rate of $11.10 for single line, touch-tone service.

When will we have a comprehensive plan?

By September 1991 the county must have identified and protected its critical and natural areas. Interim protection plans must also be developed for those areas that still have general zoning.

In areas like the Key Peninsula, where interim zoning is in place, the process by which the community plan moves forward is being delayed by these issues, and interim deadlines will be extended.

The Pierce County Council will vote in the next few days on a resolution crafted to address these issues. Councilman Paul Cyr quoted planning head Chuck Gordon as saying that the promised committee of Key Peninsula area residents and planning personnel (which was to have been formed in November of 1990) would be formed "very soon."

Cyr said the top priority of the Council would be to "get on with community planning," and hoped that the top priority for communities would be to think "not only inwardly but outwardly," as they plan growth not only as a local community, but as part of the county and state.

The county must have a countywide comprehensive plan completed by 1993 to meet state requirements.

Cyr will be speaking on the subject of managing growth in Pierce county at the KP Lions' meeting on February 6 at 7 pm at the Huckleberry Inn. The public is invited to attend.

president's report

Well, now that we have enjoyed the holidays and gotten thru the snow and ice storms it's back to business.

With the start of the New Year comes a big change at the Civic Center. January is a quiet month with no fund raisers planned. It will be a month of setting contracts with all users and getting used to the new changes.

The Key Peninsula Civic Center Association is now the manager of the facility and with that comes not only collecting the user fees but also paying the utilities, maintenance, caretaker salary, etc. All programs that we have been running will continue to run as before the levy failure: this includes the newspaper,

Letters

To the editor:

The Angel Guild wishes to thank all their customers for putting up with the upset while we were bringing in the new cabin that was donated to us. This addition is well appreciated by the volunteers who work separating and hanging the clothes and articles which are later brought into the main shop for selling.

The small cabin was donated by Mr. & Mrs. Yokum of Vaughn, and was brought over with the machinery and expertise of Jeff Charboneau. The addition was attached to the original building and replaces the lean-to and rabbit hutches.

There were so many volunteers during the transition that it would be difficult to name everyone individually, but we give a big thanks to each and every one of the volunteers.

Come in and see us after we re-open on January 10 and check out our sales.

Mary Seidelman
on behalf of the Angel Guild

To the editor:

As a recent inductee to the Key Peninsula Lions' Club and a newcomer to Lakebay (December 1989), I am interested in encouraging young adults to become active in community affairs.

As chairman of the KPLions' Club's Leos Club committee, I encourage any young citizen, 14 - 17 years of age, to contact me at 884-4759 or write to 306 195th Ave. KPS, Lakebay, WA 98349 to learn details of the Leos and join this group as a charter member. There are many benefits to membership in this international organization.

Myron Harr
Lakebay

To the editor:

We want to extend our sincere thanks to the three young men who stopped along the icy stretch of SR 302 to help us to get our vehicle back onto the roadway after we made a four turn spinout into the ditch on Friday, December 21. You all got away before we could get your names.

We want to share with other readers a trick you taught us: kitty litter makes an excellent traction device for overcoming icy roadways. We'll never be without it again. Again, many thanks.

To the editor:

There has been a lot of smoke in the newspapers lately about wood smoke. I have always liked the smell of the stuff, but suddenly it has turned ugly, and cannot be trusted. Maybe so, but I smell something besides woodsmoke, it seems like. Could it be someone stands to profit by selling other heating products?

If woodsmoke is so carcinogenic, how come the human race has survived so long, instead of joining the dinosaurs in the oil we will be buying to replace wood? Just wondering— How in Heaven's name anyone could prefer the stink of stove oil, or gasoline, or diesel smoke over woodsmoke is beyond me. If it is so deadly, the human race, huddling in caves, skin tepees, and poorly ventilated sod shanties would have died out years ago.

Notice how they are threatening to fine us for violations of their smoke rules? Are they going to have some political pals running around in cars polluting the air, while snooping for a smoking chimney? Are we supposed to know instinctively when the air miles away is judged to be hazardous, so we will shut off our stoves? Why don't they have a system for notifying the public that everyone can keep track of? The free number that we were supposed to call a couple of years ago apparently had their receiver off the hook all the time; I never did get them.

Of course there are low-lying pot-holes like Tacoma's harbor that are polluted with everything, but not the open areas, like this peninsula, for example. Most of the shutdowns we have had were totally ridiculous, and I will inhale to that, by gosh.

Cecil Paul,
Gig Harbor

To the editor:

As an aftermath of the recent storms which left much of our community without power and water for a time, yet fortunately able to cope, I would like to thank the workers for the power company and the fire stations who performed their duties so diligently and heroically.

Also, I would like to inquire, is there a plan for emergency relief in case of possible extensive storm or earthquake damage in the future? Is there a support network that could be set up that the community should know about?

Virginia Thompson

editor's reply - If the local fire department determines that there is a need for emergency shelters, the Red Cross is contacted for aid in setting them up. Pierce county does have an emergency preparedness committee which has been active in encouraging communities to set community meetings so that a speaker from the committee can talk about how an emergency plan should be set up. The committee has also been working with fire departments, including fire district 16 to develop emergency preparedness plans.

Tom Sutton, co-ordinator of the Tacoma/Pierce County Emergency Services Department will speak on "Family Emergency Preparedness for Earthquakes" at the Citizens Against Crime meeting on February 7 at 7 pm in the Whitmore room of the Civic Center. The public is urged to attend.

bingo, roller skating and our many fundraisers during the year. However, we will need the support of everyone in the community to keep the Civic Center open, as the cost of maintaining the building ($30,000 to $40,000) is much more than the income from fees and current fundraisers.

If all of you who voted or didn't for whatever reason, were to donate $20 (tax deductible), we would have enough money to keep going without added fund raisers. Starting with the February issue of the paper, we will publish a full income and expense report so that you will be informed and know what is going on with the monies.

I want to welcome our new board members Ed Taylkor, Zora Davis, Hurleen Fridline and Jeannine Lurge who joined us in December to help us with everything in the coming years. Anyone who would like to be on the board or just help with one particular event (like Reno Night on March 2), please call one of the executive members and let them know.

WIC started in December with 19 participants. This program, run by Mary Bridge Hospital, helps families who are struggling by supplementing their food budget for their children. You can call 884-3835 for more information. WIC will be at the Civic Center every Tuesday and Wednesday from 8 am to 4:15 pm. The KPCCA provides the space free of charge.

The officers of the KPCCA for 1991 are: Stephanie Zampini, president; Dave Freeman, vice-president; Ann Larson, treasurer; Terry Thomas, secretary; and Dale Loy, past president. Names and telephone numbers will be published every month so if you have a question or comment, please contact one of us.

We, the Board of the Key Peninsula Civic Center Association, want to thank the Key Peninsula Park and Recreation District Commissioners for the opportunity to keep the Civic Center open for the next three years. A copy of the complete contract printed in this issue of the NEWS. S.Z.

New Cub Scout Pack in South Peninsula

A new Cub Scout Pack has just received its official charter from the national Cub Scouting organization. The Pack, which will be number 296, has as its first Cubmaster Scott Carlisle. The Pack Committee Chair will be Joyce Otto. The pack is sponsored by the Longbranch Improvement Club with help from the Evergreen elementary parent group.

If your son would like to be part of the Cub Scout experience and is in the second through fifth grade, call Joyce Otto at 884-2576 for more information. The pack is based in the Evergreen elementary school area, with pack meetings to be held at the Longbranch Improvement Club in Longbranch, but any Peninsula area boy may attend. If enough first grade boys are interested, a Tiger Cub group for first grade boys may also be formed.

Thanks to the many generous donors of food and toys, community house volunteers this year put together 83 special Christmas baskets which fed 240 people. Pictured above are some of the 15 Community House volunteers who worked more than 100 hours putting the baskets together.

Scout Troop 213 disbands

Boy Scout Troop 213 disbanded this fall. As a final gift to the community and to the Boy Scouts of America, they met for one last weekend at Camp Kowanoski to re-roof the large shed at the camp; a full day's work, and then some.

Participating in the effort were former Scout Master Steve Wood and his sons Jeff and Joel. Tor Johannassen and his son Phillip also helped. Charles Diedrich and his son Ben brought tools and contributed a day of work. Ben and Philip are students at Peninsula High School. Jeff and Joel spent their last weekend before heading back to Western Washington University, where Jeff is a freshman and Joel a sophomore, working on the project.

On the ground, working on the clean-up detail and providing an evening meal, were the moms, Lora Wood, Judy Johannassen, and Sandra Diedrich.

All and all it was one more time of good fellowship and lasting memories of the families of Troop 213. Good wishes to the many families that were part of Troop 213 over the years, and may new families come along to revive the tradition.

New park commissioner to be appointed

Because of the resignation of Key Peninsula Park District Commissioner Scott Marcus, who resigned due to work schedule conflicts, a vacancy exists on the Park Board.

If you are interested in the future of our park district and wish to help in the future operation of volunteer park, please consider applying for this position. Send a resume to: Key Peninsula Park and Recreation District, P.O. Box 46, Vaughn, WA 98394.

A Woman's Heart

by Elaine Forch

This is the time of year when our thoughts turn to heroes, like Dr. Martin Luther King, Jr., George Washington and Abraham Lincoln.

We need heroes to help us reach and grow and to keep us trying to be our best. I can still remember that feeling of awe and pride that swelled in me as I studied the lives of Washington and Lincoln in elementary school. Their lives helped to balance out the evil deeds of men like Adolph Hitler and gave me hope.

I am grateful for bigger-than-life heroes and for saintly beings like Gandhi and Mother Theresa, but I am also proud and thankful that I have people in my life like my friends Darlene Boyd and Linda Ritthaler who live their heroic lives before me every day.

Darlene is a quiet, unassuming co-worker and mother of five grown children. Her children have all entered the "caring" professions as church pastors, pastors wives and drug counselors. As a family, they have undertaken the nurturing of a new, small church that already is growing by leaps and bounds. Darlene wears many hats in this endeavor. She teaches Sunday School, Women's Studies, and Bible School; and is secretary, and a licensed missionary with the State Mission Council.

She spends a lot of time collecting for the mission boxes that she sends to third world countries.

Eight years ago, Darlene started a program to feed street people. Every Tuesday for all those eight years, she has prepared a hot dinner meal and delivered it to the people on the street. Sometimes she has help and sometimes she gets food donations, but most of the time, it's Darlene's money and Darlene's efforts

In the Library

Have you always wanted to draw or sketch but felt it was hopeless to try? Why not take a drawing class that is designed especially for people with this feeling?

There will be three classes on Thursdays, January 17, 24, 31 from 1 to 3 pm. Classes will be held at the Key Center Library, Brones Room.

The classes will be taught by Betty Nease, a Lakebay resident with 30 years experience as an artist and professional art teacher to all ages. She specializes in teaching beginners using right brain techniques. She understands the feelings and concerns of adults who want to draw but have never been taught, as well as the problems of people who want to paint, but feel it would be helpful to first learn how to draw.

Please register by January 12 by calling the Key Center Library at 884-2242. We have space for 20 students. Classes fill quickly causing an extensive waiting list. After reserving a place, if you are unable to attend any of the classes, please call Betty Nease at 884-2025. We will notify someone on the standby list to take your place.

Bring an 8" X 10" sketchbook (not newsprint), a #2 or #4 pencil, and an eraser to the first class. For more information, contact Betty Nease.

This is a free program sponsored by the Friends of the Key Center Library.

Preschool storytime for ages three to five will be held each Thursday at 10:30 am, January 31 through March 21. Children may be registered when visiting the library or by calling 884-2242.

Congratulations to Peggy A. Chiarovano of Lakebay, who recently graduated from Pacific Lutheran University with a Bachelor of Arts in Education.

CUSTOMER UPDATE

Telephone Utilities of Washington, Inc. is pleased to announce that it has filed with the Washington Utilities and Transportation Commission a major restructuring of local telephone rates and services provided to customers. This filing will reduce rates for some customers and increase rates for others.

There are three revisions that may affect your telephone bill. First, the Company proposes to provide single party service to all customers presently receiving multiparty service. That means that all present multiparty customers will be converted to single party service and single party rates when it becomes available in their local service area. Secondly, the Company proposes to eliminate all Touch Call and Suburban Mileage rates presently charged to many customers. Finally, local telephone rates will be revised to more reasonably reflect the extent of each customer's toll-free local calling area.

The rate restructuring is designed to maintain existing revenue levels for the Company. If approved, the Company will begin implementing the new rates in February 1991. However, your rates will not change until facilities become available in your service area. Facilities will become available for single party service in service areas over the next three years.

If you wish to know when single party service will become available in your area or how this filing will affect you, please contact us at your local Telephone Utilities business office. You may call the toll-free telephone number listed in your local telephone directory. If you would like to comment on the filing, you may address your comments to: Mr. Paul Curl, Secretary, Washington Utilities and Transportation Commission, 1300 South Evergreen Park Dr SW, Olympia, Wa. 98504, or call 1-800-562-6150 (toll free).

Goin' Out

by Janice McMillan

A side trip to Cle Elum for lunch led to some interesting discoveries. We first stopped for late lunch at Cavallini's Restaurant (on the right-hand side of East First Street). The food was excellent, with small, delightful surprises which made us believe the owner when he told us that the place is filled on weekends.

Entrees ranged in price from $9.50 to $14.50. I had the Scallop and Spinach Fettucini ($9.95), and the salad bar to start. The salad bar was exceptional and included, among other things, a truly fine potato salad and a superior pea salad. My very large portion of Scallop and Spinach (fresh) Fettucini was served in a soup bowl. I thought the sauce, though finely seasoned with cream and parmesan cheese, a little thin and the scallops small and not abundant.

My dear companion started with a minestrone soup made with fresh ingredients and a good beef broth without the usual overabundance of tomato. He thought it excellent.

We each had a slice of "honey bread," a dark, moist loaf with a hint of cloves, nutmeg, cinnamon and a few currants. My guesses of the ingredients (I could not taste the honey) are only guesses as all the sauces, dressings, and breads at Cavallini's restaurant were treated as state secrets. In fact, the owner wouldn't even let me copy prices and entire offerings from the menu!

My dear companion had Meat and Spinach Ravoli with red meat sauce ($9.95) and was ecstatic. He is a devoted ravioli fan and pronounced it the best he had ever had. The pasta dough was tender and cooked to the perfect point of doneness, the filling and sauce an excellent counterpoint to the tender pasta.

We were too full to even consider dessert, but considering the high quality of the food we had they would probably also be first class.

Conclusions: Anytime you are going by Cle Elum, arrange to arrive hungry and stop at Cavallini's Restaurant.

After eating we went a few doors down to the Glondos Sausage Co. where we bought superior sausage, bacon and superb beef jerky (expensive, but worth it). All products are made in Cle Elum by this small company.

A little further down East First Street at 501 is the Cle Elum Bakery, which still uses the original brick oven from 1906. We purchased some excellent bread and some light rolls which were very crispy on the outside and feather light on the inside.

From there we went on to the Roslyn Brewery, a short three miles away. This attractive new "old-style" building harbors a micro-brewery which has more calls for their beer from Seattle establishments than they can fulfill. You can buy a quart for $4 in your own container or a plastic one supplied by them. Free samples of the dark beer are available and you can also buy it by the glass. My dear companion assures me it is, "very good stuff."

Roslyn also has the oldest operating tavern in Washington, worth a look to see the beautiful old bar. Across the street there is a place that has some collectible stuffed rabbits at very reasonable prices. These two tiny towns offered a lot to see and do and made for an enjoyable day - and a late arrival at Lake Chelan.

CAUTION

Downed Wires Are Dangerous!

Storms, wind or snow, and traffic accidents are unscheduled, disastrous happenings. They cause untold damage and discomfort. We urge you to become aware of the following personal safety steps:

- ✓ CALL PENINSULA LIGHT, 857-5950 or 857-5955 and report downed wires, broken poles, trees across lines. Be patient. Seven telephone lines are in the emergency head-quarters where experienced personnel record and locate danger areas.
- ✓ REPORT the specific location of downed wires and poles. Give street address, house number or identifiable landmark (near school, church, road intersection, pole number, etc.) Repair crews will be radio dispatched.
- ✓ STAND BY and enlist assistance to keep others away from downed wires. Stress the danger. Downed wires can carry up to 12,500 volts and can kill.
- ✓ DO NOT go near or try to move wires. A wire on the ground can carry sufficient voltage to cause death. Stay clear of fences, telephone or cable TV wires. They may be charged with electricity. Leave the handling of downed wires to experienced Peninsula Light crews.
- ✓ BE PATIENT. Keep children inside. Keep pets tied up or locked up.
- ✓ DOWNED WIRES are deceitful—they may be "hot" or they may be dead. It requires technical experience and knowledge of the system to determine their condition.
- ✓ EXPLAIN to your children the hidden danger of downed wires.
- ✓ CONTROL YOUR CURIOSITY and do not explore the neighborhood to see the storm damage. Your home is the safest place to be.
- ✓ LISTEN to your battery operated radio for news of the storm damage.

(please post for safety's sake)

For your safety...
DO NOT touch wires.
DO NOT roll up downed wires.
DO NOT cut trees away from wires.
DO NOT make storm inspection trips.
WAIT for "all clear" from repair crew.

Now with talk of recession reaching it's ghostly arms into our minds again, we seniors are reminded of the BIG ONE. We did and still do, call it a depression. War cured that one. Let us hope there is not a repeat of that.

Simple living was the way to go. It would be a lot tougher now, because there are so many more of us. Accessible beaches are already pretty well cleaned of every thing edible, judging by the crowds one sees along the Purdy Wauna Sandspit. All the big rocks are turned over, apparently to capture the little crabs and worms that thicken someones soup.

Way back in World War 1, before dogfish were commonly used for fish and chips, the public was assailed with good words about them, with recipes for cooking, of course. And they were called "Grayfish," to improve their palatability to finicky eaters. Pa once brought home some kippered dogfish. It was real good eating even to a finicky eater like myself. Pa also brought some whale steaks for Mom to practice cooking. No one seemed to feel anxious for second helpings, except the dog. Also in the line of protein, Pa tried muskrat on us, but I think he had to cook it himself, Mom having gone on strike. Actually muskrat is common eating in some areas, where it is served in restaurants as "Marsh Rabbit." Muskrats are vegetarians, and very clean.

Maybe some of you have the late Cora Chase's "Weed Eaters Cookbook." With that, and some open ground to wander over, the table is practically set. Whether one could eat weeds fast enough to maintain normal weight, would be interesting to try!

Illustrations are the work of local artists

The hand-drawn illustrations seen throughout this and past issues have been mostly the work of the students of the Log House studio and Dori Richards.

The individual artists are listed on page two on the "staff roster." The illustrators work with a pre-selected theme.

Next month, as has been done in the past, all our area artists of any age are invited to submit drawings on the theme of Valentine's Day. The deadline is January 21 and all drawings become property of the NEWS.

TELEPHONE UTILITIES of WASHINGTON would like to thank our customers who experienced service difficulties for thier patience during the recent storm while our employees worked through the weekend and on New Years Day.

Happy New Year, and the best of 1991. January is always a busy month for us and this shouldn't be an exception. Last month a train raffle raised $131 for a series of classes on parenting that the Health Center Board is sponsoring, which start on January 24. One of the Centers counselors, Gloria Iverson, will be conducting the sessions which will be every Thursday from 6:30 to 8 pm for six weeks. Baby-sitting will be provided at the center and there will be a sliding scale for tuition if needed.

If your kids drove you crazy over the winter break, make it a resolution to learn a few new coping tricks for the new year and join us on Thursday evenings. If you're interested call 884-9221 and ask about the parenting class.

The Board is also working in conjunction with Vickie Schauer in presenting childbirth education classes at the Health Center on Tuesday nights. Vickie is a certified Childbirth Education Association instructor who lives in the area and will be working with Dr. Roes at Tacoma Hospitals in these classes. There is a nominal fee. If you're interested, please call Vickie at 884-4108, or the Center at 884-9221.

We would like to introduce Ingrid Slade, a Physical Therapist who is working at the Key Peninsula Health Center on Thursday mornings by appointment.

Ingrid is a Washington State Licensed Physical Therapist who did her training at the University of Puget Sound, and has worked in both private offices and local hospitals. We're happy to be able to offer her services locally. If you have a question, she may be reached at her home at 884-3925 or through the office at 884-9221.

Finally thanks to all of you who bought our cookies and raffle tickets last month, and congratulations to Judith Larson, the proud winner of a 1950 Lionel Scout train set.

KPFD's Angel Tree

Ninety four people in 31 families were helped to enjoy a happier holiday thanks to the Key Peninsula Fire Department's "Angel Tree".

For the past few years, shortly after Thanksgiving, the wall of KPFD's Headquarters' Station blossoms with colorful paper cutouts of angels formed as a tree. Each "angel" represents a needy family or person and contains information describing ages, wishes, and needs of each. KPFD personnel sign up to contribute money, toys, clothing, shoes, household items, food certificates, etc. to those in need.

In the headquarters' station's upstairs classroom KP's firefighters had set up a "store" in which the needy could "shop."

This year, the Key Center Tavern and the Purdy Optimists Club each sponsored a family. The KP Lions' Club provided two families with complete turkey dinners. The KP Firefighters' Association contributed toys.

Names of those needing help are provided by the schools, KP Health Center, and concerned citizens who call them in.

$ Tax Tips $

by R. Marvin Keizur

The expenses of a job-related move are deductible without regard to the 2%-of-adjusted-gross-income limitation that applies to miscellaneous itemized deductions.

The requirements: the distance between your new place of work and your old principal residence must be at least 35 miles farther than the distance from your old residence to your old place of work. You must work at least 39 weeks during the 12 month period immediately after your arrival in the new work location. This work need not be for a single employer, nor do the 39 weeks have to be consecutive.

The moving expenses include: travel expenses, including meals and lodging while enroute; cost of moving household goods, personal effects and automobile; cost of house hunting if you have secured a job; cost of temporary quarters at new work location for 30 consecutive days after obtaining work; cost of selling old residence and acquiring new one; and the cost of settling a lease and acquiring a new one. The total deduction allowed is $3,000, of which no more than $1,500 can be for selling and acquiring residences, and/or settling and acquiring leases.

IRS case: an employer did not withhold income or social security taxes from workers overtime pay. Employees claimed it was the employers responsibility to pay the tax, so they shouldn't be liable. IRS ruling: if the employer fails to withhold, the employee owes the tax.

Civic Center Association signs contract with Park Board to manage Center

The following is the complete text of the contract recently signed by the Civic Center Association and the Key Peninsula Park Board.

This agreement is made by and between the Key Peninsula Park and Recreation district, a municipal corporation, hereinafter referred to as "District", and the Key Peninsula Civic Center Association, Inc., a Washington non-profit corporation, hereinafter referred to as "Association."

1. License. The District does hereby license to the Association and the Association does hereby accept from District those certain premises situated in Pierce County, Washington, commonly known as the buildings and grounds of the Key Peninsula Civic Center, legally described as follows: (see addendum "A"), hereinafter called "premises".

2. Purpose. The premises are to be used for the providing of leisure time, social, and charitable activities on a nondiscriminatory basis; and are to be made available as a recreational facility and as a public service to the residents of the Key Peninsula Park and Recreation District. All residents shall have equal access to the premises.

The purpose of this contract is to allow the Peninsula Park and Recreation District Board of Commissioners, hereinafter referred to as "Park Board", the ability to contract with the Association and to provide the Association the authority to administer, operate, and manage the premises.

3. Contract Price. The Association agrees to pay the District an annual fee of Twenty-five thousand dollars ($25,000.00) for the use of the premises for Association functions. The District agrees to pay the Association twenty-five thousand dollars ($25,000.00) to operate and manage the facility plus additional subsidies which may from time to time be needed, and may be negotiated by both parties and agreed to by both parties. The District hereby grants the Association the authority to rent the facility to qualified individuals and community groups and collect the rents and other fees on behalf of the District as reimbursement for all expenses incurred; provided, however, that the Association shall not be held responsible for any obligations incurred by the District.

The Association agrees to pay all day to day expenses necessary to operate the premises on behalf of the District to include, but not be limited to: oil, electricity, refuse service, supplies, minor repair, caretaker's salary, license and permit fees. In addition, the Association will pay the District ten percent (10%) of all rents collected by the Association, during periods in which a Civic Center Contract is in force, which is to be paid at least quarterly.

4. Term and Amendments. The term of this agreement will commence January 1, 1991, and terminate December 31, 1993. At the request of either party, the parties will discuss separate sections of the contract for the purpose of adjusting language or better defining the roles of the parties in operating the premises.

5. Savings clause. If any section of this contract is ruled unenforceable or in violation of law then That section or part thereof shall be deemed null and void, but the balance of the contract shall remain in full force and effect.

6. Use of the Premises. The Association shall conduct and allow only those activities and programs which are consistent with and in furtherance of the purpose for which the premise is licensed. All activities conducted in or upon the premises shall be conducted in accordance with the rules, regulations, and policies established by the District and in accordance with Pierce County ordinances and the laws of the State of Washington.

The Association is hereby permitted to use the facilities for the purpose of generating income to pay the costs of maintenance and programs generated and approved by the Association's Board by sponsoring the following activities:

A. Special fund raising activities such as Pioneer days, fashion shows, flea markets, arts and crafts fairs, Halloween and New Year's Eve balls, and the K.P. News, etc.,

B. Conducting games of chance as authorized by state law such as Reno nights, video games, raffles or bingo;

C. Such other and similar fund raising activities as are consistent with the rules, regulations and policies of the District and this agreement. Alcoholic beverages are not excluded but are subject to the strict rules and regulations of the Washington State Liquor Control Board.

D. The Association within its discretion may allow groups to rent the premises for a lesser amount than the approved fee schedule of the Association. Exceptions to the fee schedule may be granted for such reasons as a general community benefit and/or hardship. Each such request must be presented individually to the Association's Board of Directors for approval, in advance of the event.

E. The Association agrees that during the term of this contract and for one year thereafter all funds generated by the Association within this facility will be used solely for facility purposes and programs.

7. Liens and improvements. The Association shall maintain the premises free from liens arising out of work performed, materials furnished, or obligations incurred by the Association. The Association shall have no authority to contract for any substantial improvements on the premises without the prior written consent of the District, and without first obtaining the written estimates of three bidders, or advertised with thirty (30) days notice. "Substantial improvements" shall be defined as any improvements which cost more than one thousand dollars ($1,000.00). No changes in structural integrity or physical appearance of the premises shall be made without the previous written approval in advance by the District.

Any and all improvements or fixtures which are attached to or built in on the premises shall become the property of the District. Any and all property of the Association not attached to the premises shall remain the property of the Association.

8. User Fees. The Association shall submit to the Board by November of each year, the proposed rental schedule for the following calendar year for approval by the Board within 30 days of submittal. If the Board takes no action within 30 days of submittal then the fee schedule shall be deemed approved for the following calendar year.

9. Assignment. The Association shall not assign this agreement or any part thereof without the written consent of the District.

10. Accounting Requirement. The Association shall, by the second Wednesday of each month, furnish District with the following:

A. The Association treasurer's report covering all income and expenditures for the preceeding month;

B. Minutes of any Board of Trustees and/or Executive Committee meetings held during the preceeding month.

The District may employ the services of an accountant, at its own expense, to review the financial data supplied by the Association and to perform an annual audit of the Association books. The Association agrees to cooperate with said accountant and supply District, not later than January 31st. of each year, a complete accounting of all income and expenditures which have occurred since the date of the previous audit.

11. Caretaker. The Association shall employ and pay the salary and benefits of a caretaker for the premises. The president of the Association's Board or his designee shall supervise and have the authority to direct the activities of said caretaker which are limited to duties associated with the premises.

12. Insurance. The Park Board shall provide and pay for fire and comprehensive liability insurance covering the premises for all activities conducted on the premises, including errors and omissions. The Association and the District shall be named as additional insureds.

The Association agrees to prohibit activities which will increase the insurance premiums without the express written permission of the District. Any increase in insurance premiums during the term of this agreement, which is caused by activities permitted by the Association without prior authorization from the District, shall be paid by the Association.

It is contemplated that the insurance will be paid by levy funds. However, in the event that the District fails to pass a levy, the Association will pay to the District their pro rata share of insurance. Pro rated should mean 50/50 liability and dollar for dollar coverage on casualty, based on the value of that feed those hungry people.

Her home is often a haven or refuge for the homeless or for a child who needs shelter or safety. When queried about her generosity, she simply says that she has dedicated her life and her home for others.

Linda's heroism is more defined. She had raised her own family and was working as a school bus driver for the Tacoma School District's Handicapped program.

The kids were precious to her right from the start. She fell in love with them and they with her. One little guy, especially, tugged at her heart strings. He was severely handicapped and obviously neglected.

Her husband, as big a softy as Linda, agreed that little Joey needed help. After some research and paperwork, they welcomed Joey as their adopted son. His physical care is expensive and exhausting, but Linda and Dick are always there to give him love, care and safety. They didn't have to take on such a burden at a time when their responsibilities had finally eased, but they did for Joey's sake.

I can see and touch Darlene and Linda; they look like everyday, normal people. But they live and think beyond possessions and personal comforts. Their example is worth imitating. They are my heroes - and my friends.
