Working together for the social and economic good of our Key Peninsula...

Citizen of The Year Nominees Announced

Names were announced on April 15 of the persons nominated to be the "Key Peninsula Citizen of the Year for 1986-1987." Cited for their contributions to the community were:

Marguerite Bussard, Shirley Olson, Earle F. Knapp, Vickie Henschel, Wilma Rodman, Roy Madsen, Maxine Wilson, and Laretta Jaggi.

The person to be cited as "Citizen of the Year" will be elected by a secret vote of the members of the Key Peninsula Lions Club, with the final result to be known only at the time of the presentation of the award at the banquet.

All those named will be honored guests at the Key Peninsula Lions dinner at 6:30 pm on May 2, at the KP Civic Center in Vaughn, and one will be designated "Citizen of the Year".

Keynote speaker for the evening will be Tom Hulst, Superintendent of the Peninsula School District and a noted member of the educational community. Tom has been with the local district since 1974, and has served as superintendent since 1983.

Lion Secretary Bob Phair is in charge of the evening, and he has announced that a very special dinner is being planned with the assistance of trained chefs being brought in for the occasion. The main course of the dinner will provide for a choice between Baron of Beef or Fresh Halibut Steak, and the dinner will be served by members of the PHS Razzmatazz singing group. Razz members will also provide entertainment during the evening.

This is the Third Annual "Citizen of the Year" Award Dinner, previous winners being Sally Gorman in 1984-85, and Dr. William Roes in 1985-86. Tickets are $9.95 each and are available from members of the Key Peninsula Lions Club and from a number of outlets around Key Center.

Warm Weather April 1 - No Foolin'

82 degrees in Seattle and 75 degrees at Sea-Tac Airport also saw 70 degrees at Lake of the Woods. In the picture above your KP News photographer caught these young people enjoying the sun, the beach and water at Lake of the Woods swimming beach.

"Children at Risk" to be Topic of April 23 Meeting at Key Peninsula Middle School

All Peninsula-area parents and others interested in the future and well-being of the children of our community are urged to attend a special presentation, "Children at Risk," at Key Peninsula Middle School at 7 pm on Thursday evening, April 23.

This program will be the main feature of a mid-monthly meeting of the Peninsula School Board, and will be designed to give the entire community information on the risks and pressures that are now being presented to children of school age.

It will include a panel presentation by counsellors from elementary, middle, and high schools of the Peninsula School District giving a profile of student life today, particularly as it may be impacted by the new "non-traditional" family situation.

Jin Baker, principal of Henderson Bay High School, will present a reading of a proposed policy for school district participation in intervention and prevention of drug and alcohol abuse by students in the district.

There will also be a report given on the Early Childhood Assistance Program (ECAP) that is currently being conducted at Vaughn Elementary School for children of pre-school age.

Tom Hulst, Peninsula District Superintendent, characterized the program as "an opportunity for the school board and the community to hear and discuss the effects upon students and the educational process of the changes that are taking place in our world and in the American family."

A time has been set aside from 7 pm to 7:30 pm for coffee and refreshments, and to allow parents to meet members of the school board and the Peninsula School District administration.

Park Board Calls Public Meeting

By Daphne Daus

All Peninsula area residents are urged to attend a special Park Board meeting scheduled for April 22 from 7 to 9:30 pm. The meeting will be held in the Gold Room at the Civic Center.

Discussion will center around the recent decision by the Park Board to terminate the contracts with the Key Peninsula Civic Center Association and the Key Peninsula Athletic Association. These contracts were terminated due to the inability of the associations to negotiate a new contract which would meet all the legal requirements set forth by the State of Washington.

It is the desire of the Park Board commissioners that individuals address the board regarding specific questions or concerns they might have as to the roles of the three organizations, or any other Park District questions that need clarification.

Call Your Pierce County Council Member - For Free!

Thanks to the efforts of newly-elected Pierce County Councilman Paul Cyr, there is now a toll-free line to call members of the Council from the Key Peninsula-Gig Harbor area. That new number is 851-9739, and some calls may also be forwarded to other Pierce County offices.

Access to council members without the burden of costly long distance charges is an advantage that has been sought for many years by residents of the northern portion of the county. Numbers for other county offices remain unchanged, and will still be toll calls from this area.

Needed! Secretary for Civic Center Board.

If you have a few hours a month to spare, and are interested, please contact Vicki Henschel at 884-3642.

50's-60's Dance Success

The 50's-60's dance last Saturday night (April 11) at the Civic Center turned out to be a big success, with everyone attending having a good time. Thanks are due to Jarne Dukeshire and her family, Dale and Claudia Loy, and Brian and Tammy Nichols for their work in making it all happen.

Claudia Loy asks that those who would like to see more dances of this type make their wishes known to members of the Civic Center Board -- more can be scheduled if folks will just speak up.

Editorial Comment

It is always painful for us to report on the accidents on our local highways particularly when our young people are involved. Our deep feelings, of course, go out to the family and close friends. At the same time, we take the opportunity to call attention to the dangers of our local narrow and increasingly busy roads in the hope of a safer tomorrow.

Elsewhere, it appears that our "Pierced" County government officials let fly with a tax adjustment proposal before it had been very well thought out.

At press time, the issue seems to lie between adding the sheriff's deputies that we need so badly, at the expense of funds for Fire District 16 which we cannot afford to give up. Maybe if our Tacoma-based officials will take this one back to their think-tank for a while, they could fund those deputies by not charging us for some of the services that we do not actually receive!

Paul Cyr, our new 7th District Councilman, did not make many campaign promises. However, he did say that if elected he would fix us up with a way to talk to him (and the rest of the Council) without it costing an arm and a leg.

This he has done, with a new toll-free telephone number to call his office in Tacoma, 851-9739. Thanks, Paul, we have waited a long time for this one!

And, finally, whatever your religious persuasion, may this Easter season be a pleasant and rewarding time for you and yours, and may life be good to you in our Peninsula country!...KLS.

Easter Egg Hunt

All Peninsula children, 11 years of age and under, are invited to take part in the annual Key Peninsula Civic Center Easter Egg Hunt, starting at 1 pm on Easter Sunday, April 19.

Tammy Nichols is heading a group of volunteers who will be boiling and dyeing eggs, making cookies, and generally doing all the things that are necessary to stage an event that young children will enjoy. There will be cookies and coffee for parents, also, but they will have to leave the egg-finding to the younger set. The children will be divided up into three different groups according to age. All children will first be gathered together in the gym and then will start out on their quest, so that there will be no early hunters out on the grounds. Once out on the trail, they will find real eggs, eggs with candy in them, and eggs with surprises inside.

There will also be a special Easter Egg Hunt for residents of the Rocky Bay Nursing Home, and other handicapped residents are invited to join them in the fun and the pursuit of the egg.

So, maybe take the family to church, use your best influence for good weather, and then bring the kids to the Civic Center to enjoy a fun afternoon!

Ben and Melissa Nichols are ready for Easter with their own Easter Bunny.

Who won the Easter Dinner for Four?

In our April 1 edition of the NEWS, we ran a little contest in which we had a drawing of entries for a delicious free Dinner for Four at the Huckleberry Inn in Key Center. After all the entries were received on April 12, we had a drawing of the valid coupons and pulled out the name of Barbara Clark.

We forwarded a certificate for the dinner, and hope that a good time is had by all. Our thanks to the folks at Huckleberry Inn for making this all possible, and to all of you who sent in your entries! We will have more drawings from time to time, and wish good luck to our readers everywhere!

Animal Park Facility under study by Park Board

Roy Madsen, Chairman of the Park Board, has announced that the Board is now actively looking into the possibility of building a "Animal Park Facility" for activities of horsemen and others on five of the twenty acres the Park District owns at the site of Volunteer Park.

As such a project would involve various permits, authorizations, and possible funding from both Washington State and Pierce County agencies, Roy wrote initial letters on April 10 to both groups, describing the project in general outline.

The overall plan currently envisions a covered arena, about 110 feet by 300 feet, with a height clearance of 25 feet, and may include bleacher seating.

Cost of the arena building has been estimated to be between $115,000.00 and $135,000.00 for building costs alone. Funding for the building might come, at least in part, from a grant from the Washington Interagency Committee for Outdoor Recreation, based in Tumwater, Wa. Services "in-kind", such as site preparation, clearing, grading, and landscaping might be done by local user groups on a donation basis, such as Volunteer Park was originally built.

The five acres being discussed, which is just up behind the lower ball field, adjoins approximately 73 acres owned by Pierce County which might be designated for riding trails if County permission can be obtained. Further information on this project will appear in following issues of the NEWS.

Mark your calendars for Mother's Day Brunch at the Civic Center May 10! More to come on this in the next issue of the NEWS.

Drive with Care - Everywhere!

The first few days of April were full of danger on our local roads, pointing to the need for extreme care in driving and concern for other drivers.

Shown here is (1) the car in which young people escaped serious injury when it went over the bank and down the hill just north of Key Center; (2) the damaged bus at the scene of a fatal bus-car collision south of Key Center on the morning of April 8; and (3) Peninsula Power crews repairing one of the high(80 ft.) power poles seriously damaged in a car-pole accident in the early morning of April 1 at the intersection of Lackey Road & the Key Peninsula Highway.

Bus/Truck Accident under Further Investigation

Further investigation is continuing on the light truck-bus accident that occurred on April 8 between Key Center and Home. The Longbranch highway was closed for about two hours on Monday morning, April 13, while members of the Washington State Patrol reportedly made a time and event study of the area of the accident.

Consideration is also being given to the possibility of the involvement of any other vehicles.

Pioneer Days Set

The Civic Center Board has officially voted to set the annual Pioneer Days Celebration for the second weekend in August.

LAMA Changes its name(slightly) Schedules May 1 Dance

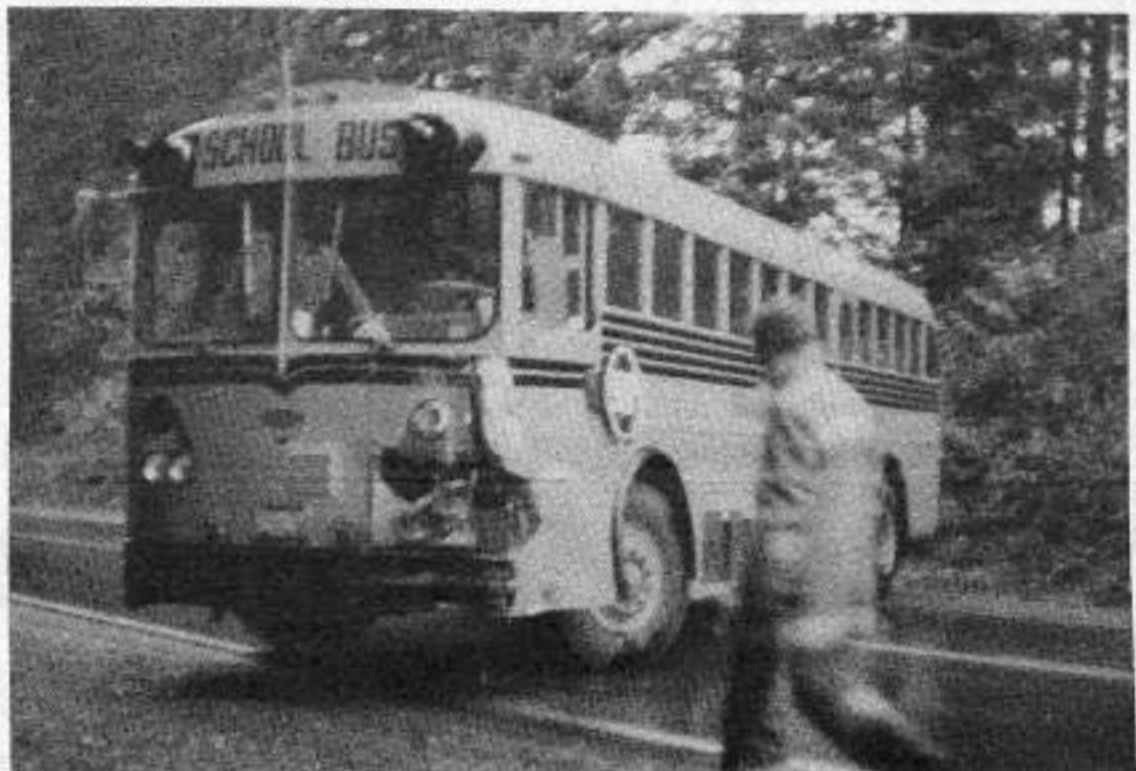

The members of the Longbranch Arts and Music Association have changed the group's name to "Lama Arts and Music Association," noting the widespread geographical location of its membership. In a March 6 meeting the members scheduled their first spring event, a May 1 dance to be called "May Day Madness." Music for the event will be furnished by "Drivin' Wheel", a good-time blues, R&B dance band, and it will all happen at the Civic Center starting at 9:00 pm. It will be a BYOB affair, with LAMA supplying ice and mixers as usual. Tickets for members and guests will cost $5 plus the 1987 membership renewal fee, which will also put those attending on the mailing list for future events.

Tickets will be available at Sunmycrest Nursery in Key Center, or by mail from LAMA, PO Box 351, Lakebay, Wa, 98349. For more information you can call Sandy at 884-2132.

New P.O. Box Hours at Home

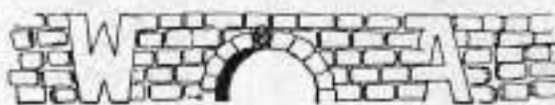

The lobby of the Lakebay Post Office (located at Home), will soon be open longer hours for postal box patrons, according to Postmistress Terri Moore. A new, automatic, electric door locking system is on its way, and installation should be completed soon, she states. New hours will be formally announced, but are expected to be from 7 am to 7 pm Monday through Saturday, making it more convenient for postal box holders to pick up mail on their way to and from town. The automatic door locking system had been planned at the time of re-building some time ago, but budgetary difficulties got in the way.

More rental boxes may also be coming, as nearly all 400 boxes currently installed are rented and demand for more box space continues.

Grange Week April 19 - 25

Members of Upper Sound Grange 705 will join in celebrating Washington State Grange Week, April 19-25, with the theme, "Building Bridges to the Community." As always, Grange 705 is providing services to our communities, recent examples being the giving of food to the food bank, scholarships to students at Peninsula High School, and the gift of car seats to a Tacoma hospital for the first trip home for babies.

Next meeting of the Grange is scheduled for 7 pm on May 1, when there will be a potluck supper, a business session, and a memorial service paying tribute to Grange brothers and sisters who have passed away in the last year.

Grange officers this year include Sam Atkins, Master; Marguerite Bussard, Lecturer; Robert Ingersoll, Secretary; Allen Nichols, Overseer; Bernard Stokesberry, Steward; Wally Comman, Assistant Steward; Janette Nichols, Lady assistant Steward; Juanita Glass, Chaplain, and Bob Fields, Treasurer.

PHS Planning June 5 "Mega-Reunion"

All students who attended Peninsula High School from 1948 to June 86 are being invited to a "Mega-Reunion" to be held June 5 at the school. It is currently estimated that about 6000 people have either graduated from Peninsula, or attended at one time, and members of the Reunion Committee are trying to reach as many as possible to invite them "home". Events will start at 6 pm with refreshments and finger food, and there will be time for eating and getting together prior to a program in the auditorium at 8 pm. Master of Ceremonies for the evening will be Bob Merry, a PHS graduate of the 70's. Tickets are priced at $6.00, and organizers hope to use the event to build a larger and stronger alumni organization, which in turn will increase the donor base for the PHS Alumni Scholarship Fund.

The reunion is the brainchild of PHS Vice-Principal Dave Wheeler, and is being coordinated by the PHS Alumni Association.

All former students and teachers are invited, and more information may be obtained from Helen Prosser at 851-2708.

FIREWORKS NEED A MATCH

by Hugh McMillan

Planning for the Sixth Annual all-Key Peninsula Community fireworks display on Von Geldern Cove on the 4th of July is well underway according to firefighter Chuck West. (Firefighter West is chairman of the Key Peninsula Firefighters' Association's 1987 Fireworks' Fund Drive Committee.)

For those who may not be aware, for the past six years our community has accepted a Fourth of July challenge. Anonymous donors have contributed $2,500 to the community. The money is held in an escrow account for release to the Key Peninsula Firefighters' Association (KPPFA) when certain challenges are met.

The $2,500 is divided into two packages: $1,500 are to be used for a fireworks' show on Von Geldern Cove (Joe's Bay) in Home on the Fourth of July provided our community contributes matching funds in the amount of $1,000. The donors also stipulate that we must contribute another $500 to go with their $1,000 toward the purchase of emergency equipment for our Key Peninsula Fire Department. If we fail in either category, all of the $2,500 will go to a Tacoma charitable organization. It is required that we meet our obligation prior to a specified date. Each year thus far we have met the challenge on time.

The spectacular, professionally staged extravaganza is put on by volunteers of the Key Peninsula Firefighters' Association who are licensed, certified pyrotechnicians in conformance with Washington State legal requirements.

Each year, crowd size for the show has increased and last year an estimated 3,500 viewers crowded the shore of Joe's Bay. As in any such gathering, there have been a small number of irresponsible hooligans, some lacking respect for private property, and a number of viewers who inconsiderately litter the area.

Firefighter West plans that this year's celebration will be more tightly organized. The Pierce County Sheriff's office will have personnel on the scene to handle crowd control and to insure that those intent on abusing the privilege of enjoying our show will be properly dealt with.

In response to last year's viewers' requests, porta-potties will be arranged for.

Firefighter West is seeking individuals or organizations interested in setting up concessions for cold drinks and snacks near the boat launch ramp and is arranging for trashcans to encourage spectators to assist in keeping the area clean. He is also interested in having artists and other vendors set up in the boat ramp area and asks that those interested in providing these services contact him on 884-4824 or 884-2222.

The Key Peninsula Firefighters' Association would be most grateful if you would help to make this year's show match or be an even greater success than its predecessors. Please look for the traditional "firecracker" collection cans which can be seen throughout the community and contribute whatever you wish: "We'll take anything," said Firefighter West, "including pennies." Please make your checks payable to the:

Key Peninsula Firefighters' Association,
8911 Key Peninsula Highway KPN,
Lakebay, WA 98349.

Although most old-timers in the area are familiar with the background of the Guild, many newcomers are not. Ten years ago the only medical facility on the Peninsula was a clinic in Longbranch, staffed on a volunteer basis by three retired nurses, Jean Brodsack, Judy Wilson, and Nat Knox. The Angel Guild was organized by several local women to raise money to buy equipment and supplies for this clinic. As the Guild's original purpose has been accomplished, and Key Peninsula now has fulltime medical services, the Angel Guild has extended its contributions to other local groups. Guild members decide which groups will receive money. In the last three years the Guild has been a major contributor to District 16 Fire Department to help purchase special equipment such as the heart defibrillator and "Jaws of Life." Among other organizations aided have been Peninsula High School's Scholarship Fund, the Key Peninsula Park Board, St. Joseph Hospital's Lifeline program, and the Humane Society's Dogs for the Deaf.

As its chief means of raising money the Angel Guild operates a thrift shop, located in the KC Corral in Key Center. The members are asked to spend at least 12 hours each month in such jobs as sorting and displaying donated items and staffing the shop. Business meetings are held in the Brones Room of the Key Center Library at 10 am on the fourth Monday of each month. Several times a year a social activity such as a potluck lunch or picnic is held instead of the regular meeting. Any person interested in joining the Guild is asked to come to one of the monthly meetings or call president Nita Glass, 884-2431.

Wear a Halo and a Smile!

By Marilyn Davis

Would you like to become an angel? Several ways come to mind, the most obvious being to knock at the Pearly Gates. Or, if you have an extra million dollars, you might back a Broadway show. The easiest way to be an angel, however, is to join the Key Peninsula Angel Guild, which is an active and friendly group always open to new members.

A Woman's Heart

by Elaine Forch

I have always loved the sunny disposition of a daffodil, so last fall I planted lots of bulbs around the yard. This morning, through the drizzling rainy mist, I am delighted to see splashes of yellow everywhere. These bright little flowers are more to me than mere harbingers of spring - they sing out a personal song of new hope. Nine years ago, I filled a little church with these perky yellow blooms. It was the occasion of my second marriage - a time of new hope for me.

There was a period when all of my hopes for anything good in my life were gone. I was a single mother of three - exhausted, broke, afraid of the unknown and unsure of my ability to cope with the responsibilities of raising my children alone, I somehow dragged myself through my days in a heartbroken trance. I felt unloved, unwanted and ashamed of my failed marriage. My mother tried to tell me that life would get better, but I couldn't believe her. I couldn't see any kind of future for me at all. Ahead was nothing but emptiness and loneliness. A great, black void. At one point, the emotional pain was so great that the only commitment I could make to life was to allow my body to breathe. But, always I saw my children. It was the thought of them that nagged me out of bed each morning and forced me to go on. As time passed, the victories began to come. I became stronger and more confident. I took risks, tried new projects, and began to "feel" again. Finally, I cried out to God. There had to be more. Now, I knew that I could survive, but I wanted more. I was lonely. Surely, He must have someone for me somewhere. Someone who could love a woman like me, and her three wonderful children.

A few miles away, in another little house, lived a man, his son, and a little daughter that he saw on weekends. He, too, cried to God out of his loneliness. Three years was long enough to be alone. Surely, there was someone who could love a gentle man like himself, and his two wonderful children.

There was a "chance" meeting and an instant attraction. We learned that we had common interests, common goals and a shared God. Our friendship grew into love. We had a ceremony in March in a little church filled with daffodils. We were a family once again.

Both of us had felt the blackness of despair and were blinded by the unknown. We were afraid of what seemed to us, a bleak, hopeless future. Neither of us could see the hope ahead. We could have given up. Some do. Some refuse to wait it out and take their lives. Others give up in other ways. They surrender to bitterness - to hating and abusing themselves, or hating and abusing others. If only they could wait until their spring - until the daffodils bloom again.

Super-math v. Basic English

Since losing WWII the Japanese have been quite busy with a number of projects. Their latest, using their new SX-2 supercomputer, has been to calculate the mathematical value of pi to 134 million decimal places. Wouldn't it be nice if they could use some of their time to write more understandable instructions and information for the products they are sending to us!

Tom Hulst, above, will be the keynote speaker at the "Citizen of the Year" Dinner, May 2.

New Business

By Jim Updike

Wetzel Recycling

Forced retirement led John Wetzel to move to Key Center in 1986. He had been hit by a car in a crosswalk entering the Navy Yard, and was partially disabled at age 54. Noticing garbage, cans, bottles and old appliances discarded along the roadways of this area, he decided to start a recycling business. Now, John, Lula and son Pat keep busy cleaning up the community! Business location (and home) are at 16511-84th KPN. These items and more are collected until adequate loads are accumulated to truck into Tacoma.

Appliances are put through a shredder that separates metal from plastic. Heavy metal frame-work, including engine blocks, go to an overseas buyer. Aluminum cans, paper and bottles are re-processed. Glass is separated by color. When cans are crushed and bagged, 2 cents per pound is added to the price paid. See the Wetzel ad in this edition for prices paid on various items.

The Wetzel family enjoys helping make our area cleaner and paying others to do the same. Business is increasing, and they invite everyone to join them in working for a junk-free community!

Timber Auto Repair

Timber Heay, owner of TIMBER AUTO REPAIR, is a young man of the Glenwood area who learned mechanical skills working with oil companies on the North Slope of Alaska. Starting in 1974 he worked up to foreman mechanic position, then came to his South Kitsap location during Christmas of 1985. He has built up his shop next to his home at the corner of Glenwood Road and Christmas Tree lane.

Helping him as a mechanic is his brother Jim Heay. They do all types of auto repairing and engine rebuilding. Restoring auto glass is another service of Timber Auto Repair. Tune-ups, complete brake service, wirefree welding, oil change, lube jobs, as well as sales of tires, fine belts and other accessories are other services they perform.

Burley Galleria

The Burley Galleria held an "invitation only" showing on Sunday afternoon, March 29. This new business, located in a renovated house located on the Bethel-Burley Road in Burley, is owned by Larry and Dolores Nicolai.

Co-managers operating the Galleria are Elisabeth Bouvia and Pat Anthony. Opening for regular business on April 1, the Galleria will feature a showcase of Washington Art and hand-crafts. Items are placed for sale by state and local artists and handcrafters. Some full-figured women's clothing and children's clothes are also available.

Paintings are also well represented, and particularly unusual are the paintings for a child's room by Lisa Rasmussen.

19th Street Overpass

A new overpass for 19th Street over Highway 16 will become a reality if the Legislature passes a big increase in the gas tax. Failing that, no one can say how long that mess will last, and it is getting worse all the time.

Red Dogs under new operators

New operators who took over Red Dog Mini Mart in Key Center on April 1 are Bill and Lesi Holland (shown above). The Hollands are from Tacoma, where he worked as a salesman and she as a nurse. They have two grown children and a 2½ year-old at home. They expect to move to the Vaughn area in the near future.

As a promotional welcome to the community they will feature a pleasant surprise on Easter Day. This will be a "Harvey" type Pooka figure waving at passing cars and passing out chocolate eggs to children passengers 12 and under. Good luck to the Hollands and their Red Dog business.

LAKEBAY LUMBER has now moved from its previous location to large new buildings and yard at Minter Village. Grand Opening will be May 2 and 3, with free soft drinks, popcorn, door prizes and Grand Opening Specials. Drop in and see them where the Elgin-Clifton Road meets the Key Peninsula Highway.

ACTION ELECTRIC is also planning a Grand Opening on May 2 and 3. They are in quarters right along with Lakebay Lumber, and Action Electric will be offering retail electrical and plumbing supplies, and contract electrical work. You can catch their new outlet when you visit the new Lakebay Lumber facility.

THE CROW'S NEST, famous for excellent hamburgers and tasty pies, has just re-opened for the season at their drive-in location on Highway 302 near Rocky Bay, very close to the Mason County line. The Crow's Nest Antique Store, which is just next door, is also open, with a great opportunity to browse.

BETTY'S CONSIGNMENTS in the KC Corral in Key Center has changed hands and is now operating as CONNIE'S NICHE. The new owner is Colleen Fridemaker, a lady who has returned to the Northwest after spending ten years in the warmth of Arizona and the desert.

CONNIE'S NICHE will feature gifts and toys of many different types, as well as "a little bit of everything." Drop in next time you are at the KC Corral and see the changes that have been made.

DESSERT THEATRE

By Virginia Thompson

Something unusual is happening on the evening of April 25!

A new play will premiere on the stage of the Civic Center at Vaughn under the auspices of the Dr. Penrose Orthopedic Guild. Farm Girls, written and performed by Patti Dobrowolski and Molly Thompson, and directed by Dale Soules, is a lively account of growing up in the West as told by two young pioneer women, whose destinies are shaped by their life-long friendship as well as the times they live in. There is both humor and pathos in the performance, which has been written as a tribute to Dobrowolski's grandmother.

The young women who bring this comedy to the Key Peninsula are eminently qualified artists both in training and experience. All three have a lifelong commitment to theater and they have joined forces to create Farm Girls. It promises to be an exciting evening for its audience.

In addition, Dr. Penrose Guild members will present seven mouth-watering desserts, guaranteed to tempt the strongest down the road to weight gain! You may sample several or choose your favorite.

The evening gala begins at 7:30 with dessert, followed by the play. Tickets are going fast. Contact a guild member for yours, or pick them up at Colony Realty or the Liquor Store in Key Center. The cost is $10 and the cause is most worthy. Proceeds go to Mary Bridge Hospital. There will be NO tickets sold at the door.

Bike-a-thon Benefit for Cystic Fibrosis

The annual Cystic Fibrosis BIKE-A-THON sponsored by the Gig Harbor Cycles, is scheduled to begin at Discovery Elementary School on Sunday, May 3 from 1 to 4 pm. Money received will benefit the Cystic Fibrosis Foundation's programs in research, care and education. People of all ages who want to take part for health, fun and prizes can register.

Prizes will be awarded to participants based on the amount of money they collect, and will include T-shirts, AM/PM cassette recorders, 5" black and white TVs and more. Grand prizes include a Disneyland vacation for two, computer, color TV and more.

Longbranch Bellringers

The Longbranch Bellringers participated at the second annual Bell Festival at Chapel Hill Presbyterian Church in Gig Harbor on March 22, 1987. This popular group of women of the Longbranch Community Church as seen in the picture above are as follows: top row, Kris Suter, Jean Humphreys; middle row, Joyce Case (Director), Ruth Wood, Pearl Huff; bottom row, Marjorie Anderson, Eloise Paul, Betty Proctor, Deloris Smith; absent from picture are Lois Crandall and Marjorie Radonich.

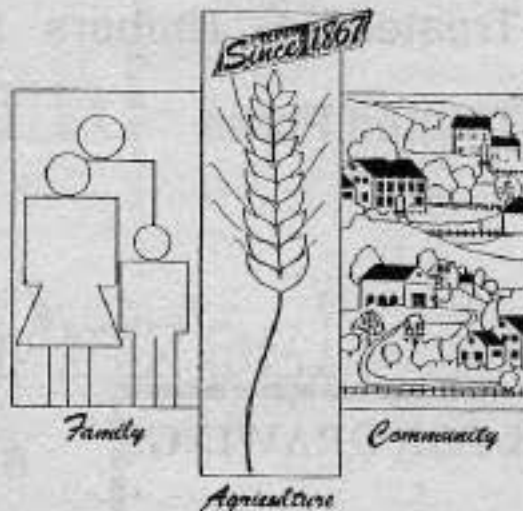

The group plays monthly at their church services and is affiliated with the American Guild of English Handbell Ringers. They meet for rehearsals at 1 pm each Friday and new members are welcome in September and January each year. June of 1987 will be the group's fourth anniversary. For information call 884-3786.

KP BUSINESS ASSOCIATION

By Mary Ann Huntington

Guest speaker April 3 was Paul Sorensen, President of the American Camping Association, and Director of Camp Easter Seal in Vaughn. Mr. Sorensen, assisted by his wife Peggy, have been at Camp Easter Seal for 10 years. He showed slides and explained that the camp is situated on 67 acres donated in 1972. It is the highest populated camp in the Pacific Northwest with 55 employees and 400 volunteers. It is also the smallest camp on the Peninsula. Mr. Sorensen said that year-round therapeutic horseback riding is very popular with the campers. Staff members include Bill and Mary McIntyre and Sue Root.

KPBA purchased a time capsule to help build the Gig Harbor Lighthouse. Each member will contribute an item along with our by-laws, promotions, etc. It should turn out to be a lot of fun for all of us.

This is not too early to start planning for Pioneer Day, August 9. What a great day we had last year, even the weather co-operated. The KPBA is an exciting, hard-working group that gets the job done. We welcome all newcomers. Bring your ideas to The Eatery, April 17, 7:30 am.

Filucy and Rocky Bays May Top Pollution Cleanup List

By Stella Retherford

Most Key Peninsula residents interviewed applauded the announcement in the March 31 article in the Tacoma News Tribune, "Filucy and Rocky Bays, where shellfish already are threatened by pollution from human and animal waste, could be among the first Pierce County sites targeted for cleanup under the mammoth Puget Sound project."

Douglas Blundell of Blundell's Chowder House in Longbranch agreed that Filucy Bay is still quite clean but as populations grow and old septic systems fail, pollution will increase. Heading it off by repairing aging septic systems now will protect tidal muds and shellfish beds. His business recently installed a $10,000 new septic system and he considers it a good investment in the water quality of the bay.

Another waterfront resident was concerned about the raw sewage released into the water from recreational boats anchoring in the bay for the night or longer. This is a growing problem in all of South Puget Sound, along with that of old septic systems.

Harold Wickstein of the Minter Oyster Company is bitter about Pierce County's delay in testing and clean-up of Minter Bay. His operation there has been closed down for six years awaiting clean-up. The article stated however that "Burley Lagoon and Minter Bay already have guaranteed funding under the on-going shellfish protection projects." Mr. Wickstein remarked that Kitsap County has done an excellent job of clean-up, but Pierce County is slow to respond to the problem. A

TNT article on April 6 stated, "A financial crisis facing the Tacoma-Pierce County Health Division is forcing it to cut back services to County residents."

Wickstein also has oyster farms in Rocky Bay and he considers it clean, although he is required to take the oysters from the bay out into Case Inlet for 21 days before harvest for them to cleanse themselves. This makes oysters more costly.

Other residents on Rocky Bay shores are not as convinced of the high water quality. Some mentioned sewage-like odors from the tidal flats. They blame it on poorly functioning septic systems. Farm animals improperly fenced from the streams are considered to be less of a problem. Pierce County Health Department has been called to monitor this problem but does not respond, say residents. Another shore-side homeowner remarked that feral dogs run deer to death and their bodies end up in the bay to rot, contributing to pollution.

Most people interviewed were pleased to hear that the Department of Ecology is considering selection of Filucy and Rocky Bays for early cleanup work as part of the Puget Sound Water Quality Management Plan.

Joint Chamber-KPBA Dinner

A joint Chamber of Commerce and Key Peninsula Business Association dinner was held in the Gold Room of the Civic Center, Vaughn, on April 2. Besides its Key Peninsula functions, the Business Association is formally becoming part of the Gig Harbor/Peninsula Chamber of Commerce. Karen Arntson, Chamber Program Chairman, introduced the evening's speaker, Tom Ott of Point Defiance Zoo and Aquarium, who presented a slide program on the Aquarium's development, in particular the acquisition of a Beluga whale from Hudson's Bay, Churchill, Canada.

Awards for Student Employees of the Month went to Rhonda Ray for March, and Christina Gurn for April. Both are from Peninsula High School.

Citizen of the Month went to Henry Stock for March, and Geric Mastro for April.

Can Chiropractic Help You?

If you have a health problem, we invite you to make an appointment for a free spinal examination. These screening tests are performed as a public service, at no cost to you, to determine whether your health problem is likely to respond to chiropractic care.

These screening tests require approximately 15-30 minutes and are simple and painless. The doctor will discuss the results of the examination with you and advise you whether or not additional chiropractic services may be of benefit to you.

There's no charge for the screening test, however, if additional services are indicated and you choose to go ahead... all fees and services will be fully explained prior to any such services being rendered. Remember, most insurance covers chiropractic services.

We hope you always enjoy good health, but should health problems develop, remember this invitation to find out if chiropractic may be the answer.

FREE SPINAL EXAMINATION

Danger Signals of Pinched Nerves:

1. Headaches, Dizziness, Loss of Sleep
2. Neck Pain, Tight Muscles
3. Pain Down Arms, Shoulder Pain
4. Numbness in Hands or Feet
5. Pain Between the Shoulders
6. Painful Joints, Nervousness
7. Lower Back Pain, Hip Pain, Pain Down Legs

Why FREE? Thousands of area residents have spine related problems which usually respond to chiropractic care. This is one way of encouraging you to find out if you have a problem that could be helped by chiropractic care. It's also one way of acquainting you with our staff and facilities. Each exam includes a minimum of 10 standard tests for evaluating the spine and a contact analysis of the discs above.

While an one accepting new patients, no one need feel any obligation. Free examination does not include a report or treatment. If a report or treatment is indicated, other services are available with charges.

At Home on the Range

By Janice McMillan

This festive Easter menu is planned to let you indulge in early spring fruits and vegetables that are available in the Pacific Northwest. Each dish is an old favorite with flair, made special with the addition of sauces, glazes, herbs and spices.

AN EASTER MENU:

Avocado Shrimp Salad
Baked Ham with Cider Glaze and Rosy Pear
Garnish
Asparagus with Mustard Dill
Potatoes Mont d'Or
Tossed Green Salad

Avocado Shrimp Salad:

1 lb. small cooked shrimp (not canned)
1 thinly sliced lemon
3/4 c. small black olives (Italian olives from a deli are best)
1 large red pepper, roasted, peeled and diced
1/2 c. fresh lemon juice, divided
1/2 c. olive oil, divided
2 TBSP red wine vinegar
3 large cloves garlic, crushed
2 TBSP Dijon mustard
1/4 tsp. cayenne pepper (or less, if desired)
Salt and pepper to taste
2 ripe avocados, peeled and sliced
1 small red onion, thinly sliced
4 TBSP snipped parsley

In bowl combine shrimp, lemon, olives, and peppers. Pour on 2 TBSP lemon juice and a little olive oil. Toss; marinate and refrigerated 2 hours. In jar combine remaining lemon juice, olive oil, cayenne pepper, salt and pepper. Shake to blend and set aside. Add avocado to shrimp, pour on dressing, coating avocado well. Add onion and parsley and toss gently. Chill 2 hours, return to room temperature and serve on lettuce leaves. Makes 6 servings.

Ham:

Baste with natural cider (such as our own Lakebay cider available at Walt's) every twenty minutes or so. Bake ready-to-eat hams at 350 deg. for 15 minutes per pound. The cider will give the ham a fresh, uncomplicated taste that is not overly sweet.

Rosy Baked Pears:

3 fresh pears
1 c. canned whole cranberry sauce
1 tsp. grated orange rind
1/4 c. orange juice
dash salt
2 TBSP. melted margarine
1/4 c. diced, toasted almonds

Peel, halve, and core pears, place cut side up in baking dish. Mix together all remaining ingredients and spoon into pear halves, pour liquid over and around pears. Cover and bake at 350 deg. for 30-35 min. Serve as garnish around baked ham with parsley bunches as accents between pears. Makes six servings.

Asparagus with Mustard and Dill Sauce:

1-1/2 lbs. fresh asparagus, trimmed and stems peeled
2 whole eggs
2 TBSP. Dijon mustard
1-1/2 TBSP lemon juice
1/2 c. fresh dillweed, snipped (or 6 tsp. dried dillweed)
1/2 c. green onions, minced
1/4 tsp. salt
1/8 tsp. pepper
3/4 c. peanut oil

Cook asparagus until tender, about 10 min. Drain and set aside, keeping warm. To make sauce: In container of blender combine remaining ingredients except oil. Blend well. With motor running slowly add oil in steady stream until all is used. Consistency of sauce should be of soft mayonnaise. Pour over asparagus, leaving tips exposed. Garnish with fresh dill if available, or finely chopped parsley. Makes six servings.

Potatoes Mont d'Or:

6 baking potatoes, about 2 lbs.
salt to taste
1 c. milk
pepper to taste
1/8 tsp. nutmeg
2 eggs separated
3 TBSP. parmesan cheese

Preheat oven to 350 deg. Peel potatoes, cut into quarters, drop into saucepan with cold water to cover, salt to taste and bring to boil. Simmer 20 min. or until done. Drain potatoes and shake over hot burner for a few seconds until completely dry. Bring milk just to boiling. Press potatoes through food mill into saucepan, beat in butter, salt pepper and nutmeg. Beat in egg yolks, then beat in hot milk. Beat egg whites until stiff, fold into potato mixture. Spoon into baking dish (about 8 X 14 X 2 in.), smooth top, sprinkle with cheese, bake 20 min. Brown under broiler until glazed. Serve piping hot. Makes 6-8 servings.

Strawberries and Oranges:

2 pints fresh strawberries
3 oranges, peeled and sectioned
3 c. Burgundy wine
1 piece lemon peel (2 inches)
1 cinnamon stick
3 whole cloves
3 TBSP Grand Marnier

In a glass serving bowl combine strawberries and oranges. In heavy 1-1/2 qt. saucepan combine remaining ingredients except Grand Marnier. Bring to a boil, cook until reduced by half. Strain and cool completely. Add Grand Marnier, pour over fruit and toss gently. Makes 6-8 servings.

Schedule for preparation:

Easter morning, at least four and a half hours before dinner make salad and refrigerate, according to recipe (this involves refrigeration for two hours and an additional preparation and two hour refrigeration).

Prepare ham for baking, according to type used. Start baking ham.

Prepare strawberries and oranges and refrigerate; make sauce. Set sauce aside to cool.

Prepare Rosy Baked Pears; set aside.

Clean and peel asparagus, set aside.

Peel potatoes, cut and place in cold salted water until ready to use. Fifty minutes before ham is done cook potatoes until tender. Prepare Potatoes Mont d'Or according to recipe.

Prepare Rosy Baked Pears. Thirty minutes before ham is done bake pears.

Remove salad from refrigerator.

Twenty minutes before ham is done, bake potatoes. While ham and potatoes are baking, follow recipe for "Asparagus with Dill and Mustard Sauce," preparing sauce first and, ten minutes before ham is done, cook asparagus. When ham and potatoes have finished baking, turn the oven up to broil and glaze potato dish. Pour mustard and dill sauce over asparagus.

At this point everything should be hot and ready to serve. It should also be one of the grandest and most delicious of Easter dinners. Enjoy!

If your guests don't praise you for this extravaganza, never speak to them again!

Health Center Changeover

Dr. William Roes hands a check to Key Peninsula Health Center President Andy Rebsamen, making the first payment on the transfer of the medical practice to private ownership. Looking on and smiling are KPHC board members Dick Gormly and Bob Schottland. The transfer of the medical practice in Key Center has taken place after approximately one year of negotiations, public meetings and discussions.

Paul Cyr Named to Water Quality Committee

Seventh district Pierce Councilman Paul Cyr, who represents the Key Peninsula and other areas, has recently been named as Chairman of a newly-formed select committee on water quality. The committee will be charged with preparing a county plan for water quality control and improvement, and dealing with various types of groundwater pollution. Also serving on the committee are council members Dennis Planagan and Barbara Skinner.

Councilman Cyr has now adopted a regular schedule of meetings with residents of the Key Peninsula, the next of which is scheduled for Monday evening, April 20, at 7 pm in the Civic Center Gold Room.

OBITUARIES

Douglas Franklin Stencil, 17, of Home, died as a result of a traffic accident about three miles south of Key Center at about 6:30 am on Wednesday, April 8. He was the son of Douglas H. Stencil of Home, and Donna Matlick, Olympia, and was a junior at South Kitsap High School. Survivors also include three brothers, all of Olympia. Services were scheduled for Saturday, April 11, at 2 pm at Haven of Rest in Gig Harbor, and remembrances were requested to be made to The Doug Stencil Scholarship Fund at South Kitsap High School.

Buckle Up!

by Andrea VanSlyke

In July 1984, Elizabeth Dole, head of the United States Department of Transportation (USDOT), required that all auto manufacturers put restraining devices, such as seatbelts, in all vehicles. Before 1989, two-thirds of the U.S. population must have mandatory seatbelt laws, and a certain percentage of all automobiles must have seatbelts.

The percentages are as follows:
 As of Sep. 1 - 1987 25%, 1988 40%, 1989 100%.
 The fine for not wearing a seatbelt is $25. Additionally, one must pay $14.84 for justice training and $7.42 for traffic safety education, which rounds the total out to $47! For people under 16 responsibility for buckling up lies with the adult in the car - their kid or not! So remember, BUCKLE UP!!!

TO THE EDITOR

Dear Sir:

I am writing you in regard to community spring house-cleaning. There are a lot of recyclable materials, bottles, metals (both precious and ferrous) which bring a good price, and some of them premium prices. Aluminum, for instance, and copper, such as wiring and plumber's tubing. The landfill charges for old appliances that are no longer useful, and I would be glad to accept them here at the recycling center. Enough money could be derived from recyclable products in each household to pay for the dumping of other materials that are not recyclable.

You hear about toxic gasses that are seeping out of old landfills and into houses. Something needs to be done about this. I would like to see a spring house-cleaning go on not only in the Key Peninsula area but all the outlying areas also. I will offer premium prices to all who will stop dumping these products into the landfills. I am told the landfills salvage thousands of dollars each year from material dumped; people could benefit by recycling those products, which would, in part, pay some of the garbage rates. Seattle's garbage rate has gone up drastically and I understand Land Recovery is in the process of doing the same. For this reason I opened a place in Key Center - to help keep our recyclable products out of the landfills.

I encourage joggers to help clean up our roads. I presently have four customers who do this. We need people-participation on every road in the Key Center area. We advertise our parks and recreation area's so people will have a place to enjoy and use, yet our roads are filled with garbage. People dump on the backroads and think nothing of it. All we need do is find something with a name on it and report the dumping, or better yet- call the person.

Only 5 out of 100 people recycle today - not a very good average, I'd say.

Sincerely,
 John H. Wetzel

Dear Editor:

We hope you can find a spot for this letter. We had cause to call the Sheriff on Saturday, March 7, and would like to say THANK YOU to the very nice young man that responded. It was a pleasure to be treated with such courtesy. With your attitude Deputy Larson, we feel proud to have you serving us in our area. Also we would like to thank 911 for their pleasant attitude and helpfulness.

Mr. and Mrs. James Taylor

KPCAC Continues Study of Water District

The Key Peninsula Citizens Advisory Council is continuing to study the possibility of forming a public water district for this area. According to KPCAC President Pro-tem Rhys Wood, the formation of such a district would require the filing of petitions, and the petitions, in turn, require an exact legal description of the boundaries of the district to be formed. Rhys, therefore, has been busy the last several days researching this information, and he expects to have a report ready for the KPCAC very shortly. Further information on this will appear in the next edition of the NEWS.

Friends of the Library

By K. Retherford

At the March 12 meeting of the Friends of the Key Center Library Richard Conlin addressed the members on the current problems in South Africa. He titled his speech "The Shattered Rainbow: the Many Peoples of South Africa." Mr. Conlin is sponsored by the Washington Commission for the Humanities in Olympia and is well qualified to speak about South Africa as he spent two years teaching at the University of Botswana in Swaziland.

Some key points made by Mr. Conlin were that South Africa is a very dry area and the western half is a desert. There are no navigable rivers. Early settlers (1650-1840) from Britain, Germany, Holland and France (Huguenots, Protestant) were opposed by various black tribes over a long period. As in our country where similar groups of whites destroyed the culture of Indians, blacks were eventually subdued. Philosophically, in both cases, justification for these actions was on religious grounds, as the locals were regarded as "heathens" and as such had no rights to the territory they occupied. Early on there was no racial bias as many of the first settlers were men who took native women as wives and their descendants were referred to as "coloreds". They were not discriminated against as long as they embraced Christianity.

At the present, of the 31 million population, 70% are classed black, 18% white and 12% colored and Asians. The Asians are mostly from India and are a diverse group. The languages spoken are English, Afrikaans (mixed Dutch and native), and tribal languages which are generally understood by most natives.

Under the "apartheid" policy initiated in 1947 when the Afrikaner Party came into power, each person is assigned one of the six "ethnic identities". If a person is not satisfied with his assignment, he can appeal it to the Race Classification Board. Frequently a change is granted.

Apartheid means separation and people were then ordered to move to areas designated for their race or ethnic identity. As a result some 3.5 million persons were forced to move. Soweto, a black township outside Johannesburg has become the home for 2.5 million people. Blacks may own property in the 36 square miles of rolling hills, although they may and often do work in white townships.

Both blacks and whites in South Africa look to the United States for help in solving their racial problems since we have a multi-racial society that seems to be working. They feel our experiences could be helpful in working toward an equitable arrangement between the various racial, religious and linguistic groups.

Until 1800 about 20% of all marriages were inter-racial; now it is forbidden. When the Afrikaners came to power in 1947, they justified apartheid on religious grounds citing the Bible as authority.

The future course of events in South Africa is uncertain. Mr. Conlin left a list of references in the Key Center Library for further reading. South Africa is important to us as it is exceptionally rich in minerals we do not have, and is one of the world's largest source of diamonds. It is the most industrialized nation in Africa and is of great interest to American blacks who identify with the problems.
