Rock'n Roll - 50's/60's Style

By Claudia Loy

Tired of "winter blahs?" Ready to get out for an evening of fun and dancing? If so, the Civic Center is presenting a "Night of Rock 'n Roll, 50's and 60's Style" for your dancing pleasure. The band will be "Little Bill and the Bluenotes," and they will be at the Civic Center on Saturday night, April 11, from 9 pm to 1 am, playing music you will like.

Bill Englehart, leader of the band, has been playing in the Tacoma and Seattle areas since the late 50's, featuring rock and roll, country, and the blues. He had a Top 40 hit, "I Love An Angel," a few years back.

It will be a BYOB affair, with free ice, and the kitchen will not be running.

Tickets are available at $7 each at Sunnycrest Nursery in Key Center, at the door of the Civic Center, or call 884-3937 or 884-3456 for information.

Why not forget about winter, have a night of dancing fun with your friends, and yet stay close to home? See you on the evening of the 11th!

OLYMPICS OF THE MIND — EVERGREEN STUDENTS PLACE #2

By Jeanne Sagle

On March 7 at Clover Park High School, over 700 boys and girls from kindergarten through high school gathered to participate in a world-wide competition called "Olympics of the Mind". The object is to promote creative problem-solving and to reward young people for using their brains, just as we do for athletic prowess.

What seemed like a long day of hurry-up-and-wait, mass confusion, and people everywhere in your way, turned out to be a rewarding experience for the three Olympics of the Mind teams from Evergreen Elementary School. Each team had to solve a different and complicated problem involving many rules and boundaries. No adults could help. They aided only in supervision, transportation, and explanation of the rules.

One of the teams from Evergreen won a prestigious second place for their efforts in the regional competition. Their problem was called, "Over to the Rescue". They had to design and build a vehicle which would fit into two suitcases, ride on this vehicle to rescue a person in distress, stop a crime, rescue a kitten, and perform two other good deeds on the vehicle, all within 10 minutes and taped boundaries. The team invented a story about two spacemen, "Over and Sidekick" who landed on a strange planet that had been electrified by an evil dragon. They rescued

KPCC MAY CIRCULATE WATER DISTRICT PETITION

The Key Peninsula group interested in forming an advisory Committee to Councilman Paul Cyr gathered at the Longbranch Improvement Center on March 24th for organizational purposes and to hear an important report relative to the possible formation of a local Water District.

The group adopted the formal name of Key Peninsula Citizens Advisory Committee, and named Lucy Scott as Treasurer Pro-tem. They also named Marty Dickson as a Technical Advisor to the Committee and Ernie Harvey as an Economic Advisor.

The Advisory Committee will eventually be comprised of a total of 28 citizens, two from each of 14 areas of the Peninsula. Already named to this Committee are Cliff Nelson, Sherlie Marietta, Tom Fifer, Avon Gay, and Billie McKinney. The balance of the Committee will be selected from interested citizens who submit applications by April 7th. Application forms may be picked up from Sherlie Marietta at the Washington State Liquor Store in Key Center, and may be returned to her.

Following a report on water problems relating to the Peninsula, the group authorized President Pro-tem Rhys Wood to investigate the actions necessary to file a Notice of Intent to circulate petitions to form a Key Peninsula Water District.

(Please see important related story page 16)

C.C. Easter Egg Hunt

The Civic Center at Vaughn will be the scene on Sunday, April 19, starting at 1 pm, of the annual Community Easter Egg Hunt for youngsters 11 and under.

The hunt will be split into three age groups each group hunting in a separate area. There will be real eggs, candy eggs, and eggs with surprises in. There will also be cookies and juice and coffee for children and parents. Parents will not be allowed onto the "hunt" field - special helpers will be on hand for each group - and the activity will kick-off in the gymnasium so there are no early hunters out on the grounds.

Residents of Rocky Bay will participate in a special Easter Egg Hunt, and other handicapped residents are welcome to join in.

Volunteers are needed to color eggs, and to provide eggs, and if you are interested in helping out, please call Tammy Nichols at 884-3456.

Second Place Winners, Front: B.J. Benson, Jeremy Sagle, Karsten Carlson, Back: Brandon Reid, Raymond Kaperick, Jason Qulp.

Editorial Comment

Committee work is rarely fun, or much appreciated, and is usually best described by its own name, work. The usual result of committee work is that some board or other makes some sort of a splash by adopting the recommendations, study, or proposal of the committee in question, and realization of the work put in tends to fade.

It is hoped such will not be the case for the working committee of Key Peninsula Health Center, which has pounded out the agreement covering sale of the medical practice to Dr. Roes and provision for health services to all for the next 18 months. While every person on the Peninsula may not agree with every last detail of the long and complicated financial agreements that have been reached, Bob Schottland, Dick Gormly, and Andy Rebsamen have done an excellent job of trying to provide for the best interests of everyone. They richly deserve the "thanks" of our entire community for the time and effort they have devoted.

Children at Risk

The Peninsula School Board will be meeting at Key Peninsula Middle School at 7 pm on Thursday, April 23, to hear an important program called "Children at Risk". The presentation will include several different speakers, focusing on the changing role of the family in the modern world of educating children, and the various risks involved in children's lives including drugs, alcohol, learning disabilities, and the like.

The evening is being specially designed to give Key Peninsula parents an opportunity to meet District administrators, principals, and counselors, and a time for informal discussions is being set aside from 7 to 7:30 pm. Principals John Robinson (KPS), Larry Hawkins (Vaughn Elementary), Dave Trochim (Evergreen Elementary), and Dave Southwick have all indicated that they will attend. Refreshments will be served.

CIVIC CENTER SPACE RESERVATIONS

Organizations - or private parties - requesting reserved space at the Civic Center will, in future, be asked for a non-refundable $50 deposit, payable 6 weeks prior to the event. This was a decision made at the March KPOC Executive meeting, where it was felt that plans should be well enough in hand 6 weeks before the reserved date for organizations to put their money up front without experiencing any hardship. The Center can then be comfortable about turning down requests by other organizations for the same date.

KPCC Minutes

In the interest of saving space in this issue, the March minutes of the KPOC have been mailed to Board members and are also posted in the lobby of the Civic Center for interested Key Peninsula residents.

SCHOOL BOARD MEMBERS ACCUSED OF IMPOTENCE!
 Accused of what? Caught your eye, didn't it? Yes, I accuse our Peninsula School Board of being woefully weak in the performance of their duties in publicizing the affairs of the school district. Let me give you examples of typical school news: "SCHOOL BOARD DEBATES INTEREST RATE CHANGE" or, "TEACHERS PLAN VOCABULARY DEVELOPMENT RETREAT", dull, dull, DULL! The only rational, sober citizens, if any exist, who would read stories such as these are school board members' mothers, that is, if the old dears can find their glasses.

What do I suggest? I believe the school board should carefully study newspapers such as the National Enquirer and begin producing stories that would be read with interest by their public. Let me give you an idea or so: "TEMPERS FLARE AT BACK-TO-SCHOOL NIGHT"

At any school event it is always easy to find at least one parent who is ticked-off at one teacher, and at least one teacher who is ticked-off at all parents, or vice versa.

"SCANDAL ROCKS LOCAL HIGH SCHOOL"

The cubbiest of reporters can find a story for this headline simply by hanging around the boys' locker room for a few days.

Income Tax Assistance

VISTA (Volunteers in Service to America) will continue to offer income tax service free of charge to local residents at the Key Center Fire Station on Wednesdays, from 9 am to noon, up to April 15.

"BLONDE KINDERGARTEN TEACHER FLEES SCENE OF ACCIDENT"

Is the word "blonde" necessary? Absolutely! Consider these mental images:

Kindergarten Teacher

Blonde Kindergarten Teacher

Why did she flee? In kindergarten there are hourly accidents, usually involving the spilling of blood, paint, peanut butter, or tears. Sensible woman, she undoubtedly went to find the mop and her sanity.

Yes, I know this letter is silly, a waste of time, and a terrible example of "junior high humor". But after three months of rain, what can you expect!

Marilyn Davis

Editor's Note: It has been a long winter! Dear Sir:

The December blood drive was a great success, and we are having another one at the Lutheran Church on April 20 from 3 pm to 7 pm. Although appointments are not required, donors who would like to set aside a specific time may do so by calling 884-2997. The drive is open to anyone wishing to donate.

TO THE EDITOR

As a member of the Peninsula High School Scholarship Committee, I wish to thank the community, especially the Key Peninsula community, for its gracious support of our program.

Three years ago we asked businesses, service groups and individuals to give donations to scholarships at whatever level they felt was comfortable. The comfort level has continued to grow each year to our great delight and that of many PHS graduates from our area! It has truly been exciting to watch a $100 scholarship double or triple. And it has been very rewarding to watch a small donation, which automatically went to our perpetual fund (from which scholarships are given off the interest) grow into a named scholarship of $100 or more.

Your returns of Uddenberg's Thriftway receipts, from which we get 1%, has given over $1,000 to the perpetual fund just since school began in September, over $3,000 since we began the program. For those new to this idea, just take your Thriftway store receipts to any school on our Peninsula and they'll find their way to us.

We welcome your donations of cars, clothes, appliances, toys, etc. to our S.A.V.E. Thrift Store (located by the PHS swimming pool), as well as your patronage and volunteer help. The Thrift Store will be able to give many more scholarships this year than last.

In general, THANK YOU very much, Key Peninsula, for your continued support!

KPHC Medical Practice Goes to Dr. Roes

By Keith Stiles

One chapter closes and a new chapter begins as Dr. William Roes starts the private practice of medicine at the facilities formerly operated by Key Peninsula Health Center.

The change comes as the result of an Agreement in Principle, reached on March 26th, between Dr. Roes and the Board, in accordance with various discussions and meetings reported on by the NEWS for the last year. Basically, the agreement provides a format wherein Dr. Roes, Dean Shriner (Nurse Practitioner), and other current members of the medical staff will remain at their present location until at least September, 1989. In this agreement, Dr. Roes will purchase the medical practice, accounts receivable, patient records, and supplies as of the close of business March 31, 1987. Exact dollar values for this group of items was to be determined at the time of closing, but for the overall agreed-upon amount, terms were announced as 15% down, with 60 months to pay at 8½% interest.

In addition, as consideration for rental of the building until September, 1989, Dr. Roes will provide certain medical services to the community to an agreed-upon value of $1667 per month. These services will include such items as a sliding-fee scale, Well-baby Clinic, Fire Department physicals, medicare, and certain free medical supplies, medical consultation, and treatment.

As reported in our March issue, the exact contractual details have been worked out between the doctor and a KPHC Board committee of Bob Schottland, Andy Rebsamen, and Dick Gormly over a period of almost a year. Draft copies of the agreement were made available for public review at the Health Center March 10, and each was read aloud and discussed at a public meeting of the Board on Thursday, March 19. About a dozen residents attended the March 19 meeting, and the only questions came from those seeking certain clarifications. No major contractual issues were raised.

Both the Board and Dr. Roes have indicated that the public will see very little, if any, change in the operation of the Health Center. What will be more apparent will be the change in the role of the KPHC Board itself, as it shifts from actual responsibility for medical operations to a monitoring operation, to assure that community medical needs are being met. For the next 18 months it seems certain that the Board will find itself more concerned with community relations, financial management of its assets for income maximization, grant writing, and grant administering. It also seems certain that the Board will turn its attention to its relationship with Dr. Roes and the Pierce

County Library system (owner of the building) for the period after September 1989, and the funding of KPHC community health programs from that time onward.

Jim Penfield Comments...

JIM PENFIELD comments on the sale of the medical practice of Key Peninsula Health Center: "Both the Key Peninsula community, as represented by the KPHC Board, and Dr. Roes appear to be dedicated to the same goals of service to the community. I therefore see the assumption of full responsibility for the medical practice by Dr. Roes as just another phase of the process which started in Longbranch almost 15 years ago. In the light of its successful history so far, I'm confident that the developing partnership between physician and community will continue to be of great benefit to all of us who live here." (Ed. note: Jim Penfield was Board President of the KPHC for four of its early formative years, a period of time which included the receipt of the first major grant in December 1976, and the move from Longbranch to Key Center.)

GUIDING KEY PENINSULA'S GROWTH

In the Civic Center's Gold Room on March 11, Rhys Wood chaired a meeting at which our Pierce County Council representative, Paul Cyr, talked with concerned citizens about planning for the future of our area. "86-1 is a dead issue," he said, "and I want to be involved with the residents of Key Peninsula in getting on with the business at hand." He pointed out, however, that he is only one of seven County Council members, but would do what he could.

For those who wish to be on the Key Peninsula Advisory Board, application forms are available. Helen Saxon will collect and pass them on to Paul. He was asked how much money he had to spend on the formation of the Advisory Board and its first project - a questionnaire polling Key Peninsula voters on the direction of development they think advisable. "About $1000", he replied, "but service clubs might help pick up the tab."

He facetiously replied to a question of secession of Key Peninsula from Pierce County by indicating that it would be impractical to become "Key Peninsula, WA." He thought Key Peninsula residents should stay with Pierce County and work with the system.

A preamble to the meeting was thought by those present to contain "inflammatory rhetoric" and was sent back for editing and rewriting in order to remove offensive words such as despotic, bureaucratic, inept, haphazard and futile in describing Pierce County administration.

Four motions were passed by the assembly requesting (1) clarification of the 12 ordinances presently in force under the General Use classification that applies to most of our Peninsula; (2) a removal of Key Peninsula from the "Critical Water Supply Service Area" in which most of Pierce County has been placed; (3) retention of current zoning (General Use) and return of the northern section of the Peninsula from the Gig Harbor Plan, placing it again "in" Key Peninsula, and, (4) an accounting of tax money (a) received from Peninsula residents and (b) spent on Key Peninsula by Pierce County, for the last five years. A printed statement covering item (4) is requested now and for each year hereafter. Mr. Cyr was also asked to have the Pierce County Health Department check leaching piles of oyster shells as a possible source of contamination of Burley Lagoon and Bay.

Fire Department Awards Banquet

The Key Peninsula Fire Department's Annual Firefighters' Awards Banquet, held at Key Peninsula Civic Center February 28, was attended by some seventy members and their guests. Ceremonies were preceded by a social hour and an excellent dinner prepared by former restaurateur Marty Pederson of the District's Station 6, located on Herron Island.

On display was the impressive first place trophy awarded the District for Management Excellence in 1986 by the Washington Fire Commissioners' Association.

Enthusiastic applause greeted the announcement that Dan Orme of Station 1 had been honored as the District's Officer of the Year.

Marty Pederson received the 1986 "Commissioners' Award" for the great support he has given the Department not only in his role as a leader of the Herron Island fire suppression and emergency medical effort, but for the many nights he has served as a resident firefighter at the District Headquarters' station in Key Center, and for the many times he has served as chef at District functions and other organizations in the community.

Station Number 5 walked off with the honors for the annual "Spruce and Use" Award. This prize is given to the one of our six stations whose personnel have kept the place bandbox clean, added new tidying innovations, and kept the facility stripped and ready for action.

The annual "Helping Hand Award" was presented this year to two deserving non-Fire Department members of the community, Joe Kremen and Rhys Wood. Mr. Kremen gave a great deal of his time and engineering expertise in paving and drainage work between the Headquarters station and the Library in Key Center; he continues to assist the District in developing the back portion of the Key Center station property. Mr. Wood has long been a special friend of the Department, giving his time and work in support of the District.

Career firefighter Chuck West received the "Sustained Superior Performance Award", a title that speaks for itself. Among the many "beyond the call" innovative activities for which he is responsible is the District's Chaplains Program which involves members of Key Peninsula clergy in providing counseling in critical trauma situations.

Volunteer firefighter Bob Gauthier was awarded the "Reaction to Action" honors for his solid record of speedy, professional response to District needs.

In the tradition of the academy awards, disclosure of the winner of the Firefighter of the Year Award was kept to the last. This year for the first time two firefighters received the honor, DeeDee Kerkes of Station 4 in Longbranch and Al Taylor of Station 3 in Home. The selection process for the Firefighter of the Year involves nominations by the officers of each station and a voting system in which the officers vote for a first, second and third choice from stations other than their own. The award is given for participation and contribution to the Department during the year.

Fred Ramsdell, Jerry Forrester, and Leonard Christiansen received 20-Year Service pins, a 15-Year Service pin will be presented to Duane Fleming, DeeDee Kerkes received her 10-Year pin and firefighters John Schmidt, Rick Stout and Jim Misener have also earned theirs; Paul Bosch, Bob Dalton, Bev Pederson, Ken Nichols, and Linda Orme earned their 5 Year Service pins.

Summer Youth Camp

Western Washington youth will have an opportunity to learn about soils, water, forests, fish and wildlife, marine life and wildland recreation this summer at a camp sponsored by tribal, state, federal and private organizations.

The Natural Resources Youth Camp will begin June 21 and end June 27 at Camp Pilgrim Fir, a 100-acre forested site located near Fort Orchard. Attendance is open to students ages 13 through 16.

Instructors are career natural resource professionals who work in the various disciplines on a daily basis. Through "hands on" instruction and land-use simulation games, the instructors will provide the teenagers with a unique learning experience. Outdoor activities will include swimming, fishing, boating and hiking.

The camp fee is $175. The Pierce County Conservation District and the Pierce County Farm Forestry Association are offering four partial scholarships of $100 each to any student who would like to attend the camp. Interested students need to write a letter indicating why they would like to go to the camp. Please include a return address and phone number. The letters should be submitted to the Pierce County Conservation District, 10923 Canyon Road E., Puyallup, Wa. 98373, by April 30, 1987. The individuals selected will be notified by May 4, 1987. Anyone interested is encouraged to apply.

For more information on the camp and the scholarships, contact the Pierce County Conservation District at 536-2945.

(Ed's. Note! We have a bulletin in the office for interested young people to review.)

Vaughn High School Reunion

It will be reunion time again on Saturday, July 25, for all graduates of Vaughn High School, those folks who attended classes in the buildings that now house the Key Peninsula Civic Center. The High School, which started in the Vaughn Church in 1903, moved to the current Civic Center site in 1907.

The last big reunion was held eleven years ago in 1976, coinciding with the Bicentennial Year for the United States, and was attended by an enthusiastic crowd of about 175 who had traveled from near and far.

Plans currently call for the reunion to include a catered dinner, with evening dancing to follow, all interspersed with much visiting and reuniting. A display of history and souvenirs from years past will be assembled in the Gold Room.

The reunion is being planned by a committee of local residents - Francis Kinkaid, Shirley Olson, Joyce Niemann, Jane Van Slyke, Chet Daddisman, Bill Hipp, and Audrey Tittle - and anyone desiring further information is invited to contact any of them. Further information will follow in the NEWS as more committee meetings are held.

VAUGHN CARNIVAL

Many people charted a course to Vaughn Elementary "Games Ahoy" Carnival on March 14 and Carnival chairman Annette Sowers reports another big success.

The carnival raffle was quite an achievement, netting $2,479.90! A total of 25 people from Vaughn and surrounding communities won raffle prizes. It couldn't have been accomplished without the wonderful donations made by our parents and local merchants, and the sale of raffle tickets by committed students and their parents.

We, the People

By Paul Cyr, Pierce Co. Council, District 7.

"All political power is inherent in the people, and governments derive their just powers from the consent of the governed and are established to protect and maintain individual rights." (Washington State Constitution, 1889, Article 1, Section 1).

I've been asked to write a regular column for the newspaper and I gladly accept. I thought I'd start out the column with a quote from our State Constitution, (I promised to protect and defend that Constitution when I was sworn into office January 5 of this year). As you see I've also entitled my column, "We the People." I chose that byline because I sincerely believe that government operates best when it is truly representative of the people. I hope you share that philosophy of government with me.

In this first article let me briefly share with you who I am, and what I'd like to accomplish with this column. First, I'm a family man who has lived on the Peninsula for the past 15 years. I'm married to Carla, and we have three wonderful children. Matthew, soon-to-be 10; Katie 7, and Julie Ann 3. I love the quality of life we have on the Key Peninsula and want to make sure that my family will be able to enjoy a similar quality as they grow up and have children of their own. I know we share a common bond on that score.

Now for the column. First, I'd like it to be an avenue for the residents of Key Peninsula to bring up concerns and suggestions for Improving the County's responsiveness to your area; and second, it will allow me to communicate to you various information that can help in finding solutions to problems, and build bridges to better working relationships. I look forward to working with you over the months ahead. My address: Pierce County Council, Room 1046, 930 Tacoma Ave S., Tacoma, WA 98402, phone: 591-7777. Please write or call.

one of the natives who was in danger of being shocked to death while killing the dragon and saving a scared kitten. The spacemen had to stay on the vehicle the entire skit as part of the rules. This problem, as with the other two, "Poetic License" and "Cromagnon", was worked on at home and at school. Each team had a parent coach, and all teams were supervised by Dave Ellingson, the Evergreen School counselor and challenge teacher.

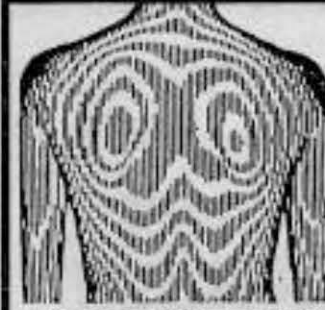

The months of preparation preceding the competition, and the entire day at Clover Park High, were somewhat exhausting, but rewarding. The students learned about teamwork, brainstorming for ideas, and patience, and for those valuable skills the effort was worthwhile.

Bingo night at the Civic Center comes around every Wednesday at 7 pm. Lori Drew runs the show, and Sheldon Fancher does the calling. It is a great way to get out of the house and have fun with friends, AND win some spending money. The March 11 jackpot of $500 was won by Kay Gott.

For the month of April, the coupon below will give you one free card with six you buy; it is good any Bingo night in the month.

Bingo is one of the ways we support our Civic Center - so come out and do both the Civic Center and yourself some good.

"A Real Savings"

A WOMAN'S HEART

by Elaine Forch

I've always known that I am a strong woman. I've been grateful for that strength many times in my life, especially during my years as a single parent. Money was always in short supply, and every minute of my time was allocated to something. After caring for my three children, keeping up the house and yard, pursuing a college degree, and working two jobs, I had little time to spend on the luxury of worrying about whether I could manage it all. I loved my family and their needs had to be met, so I simply did what I had to do. Now, I can't imagine how I did it all and lived to tell about it, but I know that I did and I'm proud of it. I am a "survivor". Recently though, I had an experience that has caused me to look at that period, and my "strength" in a different light.

It was late fall. My husband and I were out in our woods cutting firewood. We were working on a large pile of good-sized logs that needed to be cut into manageable pieces, thrown into the back of our pick-up truck, and transported to the woodpile for splitting. I have never liked to operate a chain saw, so I was in charge of "set-up". It was my job to drag the logs off the pile over to the clearing where my husband had rigged up a couple of sawhorses to hold the logs while he cut them. After the logs were cut, he would toss them into the truck and I would return to the pile for another log. We had the procedure "fine tuned" and were working along at a good pace. The noise of the chain saw made conversation impossible, so we worked in silence. I allowed my mind to wander where it wanted, enjoying the freedom from concentration. Eventually, I came to a large log that looked too big for me to pick up, but, after a moment's hesitation, I decided to try it. I called upon all of my "brute strength", and lifted the log easily. I smiled as I dragged the log to the clearing and thought about how much stronger I'd become since I'd been attending my aerobics class regularly. I heard a sound behind me and quickly turned around to see my husband standing there, looking like my idea of Paul Bunyan, dragging one large log behind him with one hand while he was holding up the other end of my log with his other hand. It was one of those moments when understanding warms you like an embarrassed blush. My super-strength had been an illusion. I was so lost in my thoughts that I hadn't realized that my husband had picked up the heaviest end of my log. I had never carried that log alone.

I've thought about this experience many times and I realize now, that my strength has never been an independent thing. During the tough times I have always had help with the greater part of the burden. Even when I got "lost" in my own thoughts and forgot the true source of my strength, He was there.

Razzmatazz Report

The March 1 Spaghetti Dinner fundraiser for the PHS singing group, Razzmatazz, turned out to be most successful with more than $800 being raised.

Working on the project to provide travel expenses for the young people were Georgia and Vernon Turk, Ann Marie Kanno, Nancy Gladstone, Cindy Higgins, Joyce Tovey, Cindy Johnson, Linda Olson, Corothea Bennett, Janet Johnson, Barb Talotta, Vicki Henschel, and several others.

KP BUSINESS ASSOCIATION

By Mary Ann Huntington

Prizes and surprises for the whole family will be given away during the Key Peninsula Business Association's Treasure Hunt. The drawing will be held April 17, a great opportunity for you to do your Easter shopping locally and also become better acquainted with our merchants.

Norma Burbridge from Tacoma Community College is trying to determine if there is enough interest to warrant holding classes on the Key Peninsula. A questionnaire in the NEWS was suggested.

Terry Bendixton presented a program on crime prevention. Among the many good ideas for merchants were - keeping a minimum of cash on hand, making banking trips at random times and keeping bills with registered serial numbers handy.

Cassandra and Steven Sparks, representing the Gig Harbor Lighthouse Association, displayed the time capsules being sold to help build a 20-foot high lighthouse in the harbor. They need to raise $40,000 for construction and an additional $5,000 to $10,000 for maintenance.

The final wrap-up of our sign proposals were presented by Bob Truitt and Chuck Hornbuckle from the State Department of Transportation along with Paul Cyr and Tom Weber representing the County. The State has added "Key Center" signs in Purdy and will add more signs along Highway 302 during the next six weeks. The County gave their go-ahead for the installation of a sign at Vaughn directing traffic to the Key Peninsula area. Since the 4 x 8 size sign qualifies as a billboard the proposal will have to be reviewed by Bob Patton of the Gig Harbor site plan commission. County Councilman Paul Cyr says he supports our effort strongly.

If you would like to get to know Paul Cyr better or have any problems that need some answers, he will be holding town meetings at 7:30 pm the 2nd Monday of every month at the Civic Center in Vaughn. The KPBA meets the first and third Friday every month at The Eatery, 7:30 am. Visitors are welcome.

Longbranch Mercantile

A business that has served the southern tip of the Key Peninsula for many years is the Longbranch Mercantile store located on Filucy Bay and Key Peninsula Highway. New operators are completely renovating the building and plan to expand eight feet to the rear. The new owners are Bob Williams, who is in real estate; Jack Essman, a contractor, and Jack and Beverly Pederson, who operated a chicken fryer business. These people believe in the growing potential of the Peninsula, and plan to provide for neighboring residents and pleasure boat operators who put in at the adjacent marina.

Representing them, and operating the business as manager, is nearby resident Jean Young. Opening in April this store will offer groceries, meats, produce, feed, gas and oil, also a new deli section.

Burley Galleria Update

Burley Galleria opens April 1 featuring an exquisite selection of handcrafted gifts, art, children's clothes, and fashions for fuller figured women.

If a three-four day "dry spell" occurs, Burley Galleria's exterior will be painted. New yellow paint or old yellow paint, Burley Galleria will open at 11:30 am, Wednesday, April 1.

The last day to enter the Burley Galleria sewing contest is April 15. First prize is a $50 gift certificate.

There are also five category prizes valued at $10 each. Entry fee is $2. All monies collected in excess of $100 will be awarded to winners.

Hummingbirds in the Library

Despite the good intentions of gardeners who feed hummingbirds, feeding these tiny birds may be harmful. Heavy sugar solutions in feeders used to attract these darting flyers may cause a fatal hardening of the liver. Honey may result in a δ sease of the tongue. Even in the absence of disease the birds become dependent upon easy handouts and fail to do their assigned ecological task of pollination.

If you want to attract these beautiful creatures to your yard, the best procedure is to plant a good variety of spring and early summer flowering plants. If you insist on using a feeding tube, do not use a syrup containing raw calories only. A balanced diet is a must, such as this one suggested by University of Puget Sound ornithologist, Dr. Gordon Alcorn:

1 cup boiling water

$\frac{5}{8}$ tsp. cane sugar

Several drops of a weak Peptone, or unflavored gelatin solution.

1 drop of concentrated liquid vitamin solution

Beet coloring or use a painted glass tube (Information from Cooperative Extension Service)

Did you know that the hummingbird's wings vibrate 200 times a second flying at a speed of 60 miles an hour? And that they can keep up a speed of 60 miles an hour nonstop for hundreds of miles, frequently passing ships at sea? (Information from the NORTH AMERICAN ANIMAL ALMANAC.)

Books on hummingbirds in the library for children: Simon. WONDERS OF HUMMINGBIRDS/

McClung. RUBY THROAT, THE STORY OF A HUMMINGBIRD, and for adults: Grant. HUMMINGBIRDS AND THEIR FLOWERS/ Johnsgard. HISTORY OF NORTH AMERICAN HUMMINGBIRDS/ Scheithauer. HUMMINGBIRDS, 76 color photographs/Tyrell. HUMMINGBIRDS, Their life and behavior, a photographic study of the North American species.

Citizen of the Year Award

Preparations are continuing for the Key Peninsula Lions "Citizen of the Year" Award Dinner, to be held at the Civic Center on Saturday, May 2.

The event is planned to provide recognition of the person voted Key Peninsula's "Citizen of the Year" for 1987. Nominations are being called for now, and will be accepted until April 15 - the cutoff date.

Dinner Chairman Bob Phair has announced the catered dinner will provide a choice of "Redbridge" Baron of Beef or Fresh Halibut Steak, and will be a full-course affair, including steamed fresh red potatoes, asparagus spears, a spring garden salad, and dessert. Dinner will be served by Peninsula's Razzmatazz singing group, who will also provide entertainment during the evening.

Bob has announced that the keynote speaker for the evening will be Tom Hulst, Peninsula School District Superintendent.

Tickets, priced at $9.95 each, will go on sale shortly, and will be available at a number of outlets, and from members of the Key Peninsula Lions Club.

Community House

Sharon Billups, Director of Operations at Community House, has announced the election of two new board members at the Annual meeting held on February 23. New to the Board will be Lars Showalter of Longbranch, and Della Claxton of Key Center, both of whom will join several hold-over members.

Billups has also announced that the facility has been awarded a $10,000 grant from the Pierce County general budget, these funds to be handled through the Area Agency on Aging. This is the third year that Community House has applied for and been awarded such a grant from Pierce County.

In other news, Billups stated that attendance on Wednesdays, called "Senior Daze" continues to grow, and 30-35 people now attend regularly. New classes now in session, or being formed, include woodcarving, Spanish, handcrafts, and creative writing. A class on dog obedience has been put on hold due to an injury to the teacher.

Income tax assistance is being offered to seniors and low income patrons of the facility, and will continue until April 15. Volunteer of the Month for March was Janet Graham, and for April is Chuck Billups.

Rocky Bay Yard Sale

Rocky Bay Staff to have Yard Sale
The staff at Rocky Bay will have a yard sale on May 15/16/17, to raise spending money for their residents. Anyone wishing to donate any saleable items may do so by contacting Rocky Bay Health Care Facility at 884-2277 or Vicki Henschel at 884-3642.

DESSERT THEATRE

A great evening of theater and desserts is planned for members and friends of the Dr. Penrose Orthopedic Guild on April 25 in the Civic Center to benefit Mary Bridge Children's Hospital.

"Country Girls", a play written and performed by Patti Dobrowski and Molly Thompson, and directed by Dale Soules, is a heart-warming comedy about the growing up and coming of age of two young pioneer women in the west. The theater troupe is composed of professionals who are experienced in bringing entertainment to communities such as ours. An assortment of luscious desserts will be served at 7:30, and the curtain will open on "Country Girls" at 8:15. Tickets are available from Guild members for $10. Call Vicki Henschel 884-3642, or Virginia Thompson, 884-2588, for further information. Also, tickets can be purchased at Colony Real Estate in Key Center.

Peninsula Advisory Committee

A group of about 40 citizens interested in Pierce County issues such as water, land use, and other local concerns gathered at the Longbranch Improvement Center on Tuesday evening, March 17, as a first step in forming a Citizens Advisory Group to Councilman Paul Cyr.

Rhys Wood was elected as Chairman (pro-ten), and the group unanimously adopted a "Preamble" stating their areas of concern. The possibility of future regulation possibly threatening private water development was designated as the "Number One" concern of the group, and future meetings are planned to study the problem.

VAUGHN GARDEN CLUB

Vaughn Garden club will meet April 15 at the home of Elsie Olson on Vaughn Bay. Bes Boquist will co-host, and there will be a plant exchange.

Cars will leave the Civic Center at 10:15

ORTHOPEDIC GUILD

Dr. Penrose Orthopedic Guild will meet at the Longbranch home of Olwyn Merrill on April 9 to finalize plans for their Dessert Theatre venture planned for April 25 at the Civic Center. Co-hosting will be Joyce Tovey and Vicki Henschel.

Lions Spaghetti Feed

Tickets are now on sale for the annual Key Peninsula Lions Spaghetti Feed, to be held at the Civic Center on Saturday, April 4, from 4 to 8 pm. This event is one of the club's regular fundraisers, with proceeds to be used for Lions' projects here on our Key Peninsula, such as the provision of glasses and hearing-aids for persons unable to afford them. Lions programs also support certain state projects, such as the Washington Eye Bank at the University of Washington, which provides for the acquisition and storage of cornea to be transplanted in cases where patients have lost sight. Dinner tickets are: adults $4.95; 12 to 18 years $2.95; 6 to 12 years .95c and children 6 and under will be served free.

Tickets may be purchased from any member of the Lions Club, or at the door.

K.P. SPORTSMEN'S CLUB

Marking the return of the outdoor season, the annual and highly successful Sportsmen's Club Fishermen's Breakfast will be held on Sunday morning, April 26, 7 am to about 1 pm at Jackson Lake. B. Endl is in charge this year, and breakfast will consist of "all you can eat" hardy items such as eggs, pancakes, ham, orange juice, milk, and coffee. Each year the Sportsmen's Club has provided about 300 meals for those about to go fishing, and those who just look forward to the good food and company. Breakfast will be $2.00 for those under 10, and $3.00 for the over 10's.

Secretary Arthur Kasper states there will be a rummage sale the same day in the building next to the Club. Proceeds will be used to improve the buildings and grounds at Jackson Lake. Sportsmen's Club officers this year are George Parrot, president; Willard Both, vice-president; and Annabelle Evans, treasurer.

Having been asked to write a column for the NEWS, my first thought was, why me? I don't know anything about writing for a newspaper...I hate to write letters, let alone a monthly column. Then I gave it more thought, and figured, why not!

What do you, the readers, want in the column? I would like to know more about what is going on and that includes the Wauna area out to the end of Key Peninsula. If you have any ideas, please give me a call at 851-4968, and we will see if a column can be put together. If you would prefer to drop a note, the address is 11613 138th ST NW, Cig Harbor, WA 98335. Hope to hear from you soon.

Minter Creek Greenhouses

Do We Need to Form a Local Water District?

by Martin Dickson

Over the last few months a great deal of concern has arisen over what to do with our water. In 1977 the state legislature passed bill #165, PUBLIC WATER SYSTEM COORDINATION ACT OF 1977. Essentially stating, "The lack of coordinated planning has resulted in a proliferation of inadequate systems providing less effective, less efficient, and more costly service to consumers than is desirable. The wide diversity of types of system ownership and the conflicting statutes that govern the development and management of the systems have prevented cooperative planning. Many communities are served by public water systems which do not have the capability of reliably meeting peak water demands."

"In order to maximize efficient and effective development of the state's public water supply systems, the Department of Social and Health Services shall assist units of local government by providing a procedure to coordinate the planning of the public water supply systems."

Pierce County's response to this legislative act is known as the COORDINATED WATER SYSTEM PLAN. In this plan are some very good points of interest if you are willing to take the time to read it. The one very important point that has gone by the wayside is the interpretation of the word "critical" as described in the State Legislation, and is the key word for the intent of that 1977 legislative act. Webster defines this work as (1) "To criticize severely and unfavorably." (2) "Exercising or involving careful judgement or judicious evaluation."

In reading the proposed coordinated water system plan for Pierce County you only need to look at the recommendations set forth in that document to see how your, or should I say, "their", water will be handled in the future. (Editors Note: Through Mr. Dickson's assistance, the NEWS has a copy of the various "Glossary of Terms and Acronyms" and "Recommendations" to the Pierce County Council relative to the Public Water System Coordination Act of 1977. You are welcome to drop by the office of the NEWS in the Civic Center and review this information...or call us at 884-4699 and we can read you some special part of this material).

The most important thing to remember is that the water on this planet is ours, not theirs, and if there are to be controls on how our water will be used and protected in the future, then it is going to need the wisdom of definition #2 "The exercising or involving careful judgment or judicious evaluation."

So the question remains, what to do? There is a way, and that is by the people of the Key Peninsula forming a Water District to put in motion a plan that will address needs of our area, so we will have a say in what happens with our water not just the private purveyors who ultimately stand to gain at the expense of our loss. So what is your idea?

(Editors Note: At a meeting the Pierce County Planning Commission in Tacoma, attended by Rhys Wood and Avon Gay from our area, the Commission adopted the recommended County Water Plan (with a few amendments relating to fire flow), and forwarded it to the full County Council for action sometime in April or May).

Key Stitch Upholstery

Last month the NEWS carried a story about a relatively new business in town, Tom Fifer's Key Stitch Upholstery, located about a mile north of Key Center on the KP Highway. In it we mentioned that Tom is a fine finish carpenter, and he is. This expertise, however, he confines to his upholstery workshop - and does not cover larger scale carpentry as, perhaps, was the impression given by our article. Isn't this the spring that you planned to have that chair recovered? If so, give Tom a call at 884-9288.

Natural Home Remedies

The monthly program sponsored by the friends of the Key Center Library will be presented by Dr. Steven Davis on the subject of natural home remedies. He will include remedies for a variety of ailments: colds, infections, flu, headaches, allergies, burns, insect bites. He will discuss problems specific to children such as diaper rash, colic, teething and caraches. He will recommend supplies for the home medicine chest.

Dr. Steven Davis is a Washington State licensed naturopathic physician currently living and practicing at Purdy. Dr. Davis attended the John Bastyr College of Naturopathic Medicine in Seattle, graduating in 1983. He was then selected to work in the JBC teaching clinic. Dr. Davis continues to teach in Seattle, though devoting most of his time to his Purdy practice.

The free program will be held Wednesday, April 8, at 7 pm at the Key Center Library.

Preceding the program at 6 pm, the Board of Friends of the Key Center Library will meet to discuss bylaw changes and draw up a slate of candidates for officers. Anyone interested in holding an elected office may contact Donna Smith-Dalley, 884-4473. Members and the community are welcome to attend.

New Business

J & M Auto Electric is a new business started on the Peninsula in early February. Jim and Margaret Elmore, operators, recently moved here from Tucson, Arizona, where they were in auto repair work. They are now located next to Key Stitch Uphostery at 14910 101st (one mile north of Key Center) on the K. P. Hiway.

Their specialty is late model cars having electronic ignition and carburation. The work involves tune-ups, adjustment or replacement of components in computer controls, carburetors and emission control elements. They welcome your business, and their phone is 884-9414.

BUSINESS NEWS

A new baking business, to be named "Goodies Galore", will open soon in the new Minter Village business complex at the intersection of Highway 302 and Elgin-Clifton Road, about three miles north of Key Center. Kandy Van Laanen, proprietor of Goodies Galore, states she will be offering decorated cakes, breads and rolls, and other bakery items, as well as candies, cake decorating classes, party supplies, balloons, and paper goods. Kandy and her husband, Bill, are natives of this area, and she has been working in the field of specialty cake decorating for about 15 years. It is anticipated that the new business will be open in four to eight weeks, following completion of the building activities at Minter Village.

Lakebay Lumber, previously located in Lakebay, will be moving in the very early part of April to their new location in Minter Village at the intersection of Elgin-Clifton and Highway 302. Tom Edwards has announced that there will be no change in company name or general policies, but a large increase in their lines of products and merchandise offered.

Pat Blundell has announced that she is moving her Country Mouse store to the Lake Kathryn Village Mall.

Jim's Home Improvement Center has recently opened its doors in Downtown Key Center. Welcome to Jim and Carol Winkle, owners!

The Longbranch Mercantile Store now has new ownership, new management, and is remodeling. The manager is Jean Young, and she is looking forward to greeting old and new customers. Opening is currently scheduled for April 15.

Changes are brewing at Red Dog's Mini-Market in Key Center about April 1, when it is reported that owners Tom Ord, Jerry Madison, and Dan Zelinski will lease the operation to Bill Holland, a current Tacoma resident. Ord told the NEWS "We have met a lot of very nice people during our operation in Key Center, and we have had lots of fun bringing our mini-market operation to town!" Tom also owns a realty firm in Tacoma, and stated he will be devoting more time to that business in the future.

Puppets of the Library

The Children's Department of Pierce County Library will present a puppet show for ages 6 and up at Key Center Library, Thursday, April 2 at 2 pm. Two favorite children's stories will be performed: FERDINAND, the story of the beloved bull who loves to smell flowers more than fighting, and GUMMIDOLF, the story about the little girl who ignores her mother's warnings that the Gummidolf will get her if she wanders away from home.

The puppet show was scheduled to coincide with spring vacation to make it easier for children to attend. Welcome all, and enjoy!

Do you have: an interest in animals - an interest in people - four hours a week for volunteer work?

If your answer is "yes," becoming a docent at Point Defiance Zoo and Aquarium might be your ticket to a fascinating and worthwhile activity.

Docents are volunteer teachers and helpers in zoos, museums, and art galleries throughout the United States. Pt. Defiance Zoo and Aquarium currently has about 50 docents. As it is rapidly expanding its public relations and educational programs it hopes to double this number within the next two or three years.

What must one do to become a PDZ&A docent? First, the trainee must attend thirty hours of classroom instruction, taught by staff professionals who present a basic course in zoology and ecology. The next training session, tentatively scheduled for September, will give participants a choice of attending two week-day mornings each week for five weeks or attending all day on consecutive Saturdays. There is assigned reading for the classwork, the first week's being the most difficult. The student is expected to become familiar with a few fundamental terms, such as habitat, niche, invertebrate, and mammal. A final test is given, but failing it would be as unlikely as flunking Sandbox 1 in preschool. After all, live, warm, willing volunteers are becoming an endangered species, creatures to be protected and treasured. Following the classroom sessions, fledgling docents participate in four workshops, one each week for a month. The trainees observe and assist experienced docents in programs and activities. Following the training, each docent is expected to commit himself or herself to working a half-day each week.

Docents' jobs are many and varied. During the school year docents conduct the field-trip programs for school groups. Docents will be acting as instructors and aides in the new Simpson Marine Discovery Laboratory. During the summer months they staff the information booth and provide supervision and assistance in the aquarium and other buildings. They represent the zoo at local fairs and exhibits. There are frequent opportunities for hands-on interaction with live animals.

If you're interested in becoming a docent, call the educational department at Pt. Defiance Zoo and Aquarium, 591-5333, and ask for Lily Moore. You will be welcomed with enthusiasm!

RESTAURANT REVIEW

By Janice McMillan

I could hardly believe it when I heard there was a new restaurant on Key Peninsula right off the Home Bridge. My dear companion and I immediately went to try it and I can assure you it was an interesting experience.

To get to the restaurant you must make reservations by ship-to-shore telephone; ask the operator for the special underwater line. The number is 884-DEEP.

Guests assemble at the Home Country Store at the appointed time and are escorted to the nearby Home Bridge where they board a waiting rowboat. Parties of no more than four are accommodated at a time. The rowboat is tastefully decorated with huckleberry branches and beach driftwood.

As we stroked toward the waiting restaurant, cocktails and canapes of smoked salmon were served. It was a little tricky balancing all this in a rowboat.

I understand that the restaurant was purchased as surplus from a Jacques Cousteau expedition which explored the Great Barrier Reef. We were assured there would be no problem with Joe's Bay. Boarding the restaurant was rather shaky because of small waves, but all the patrons managed quite well. I understand the restaurant will provide a hair dryer in case of mishaps.

The management of the DEEP SIX Restaurant has gone all out to decorate the new place. Slightly used nets with small tears and embellished with Japanese glass floats and some sea shells left from the Great Barrier Reef Expedition are artfully draped on the walls.

Before we began our descent to the depths, one patron complained of feeling a little claustrophobic even though the management explained that six men had lived for forty-eight days on this vehicle.

I found that my bending and stretching exercises proved helpful in using the rather cramped "facilities." I must add that the "facilities" were tastefully decorated though I could not quite understand why the lid cover was embroidered with "C'est la vie".

We anxiously awaited our first course from the set menu ($25.00 per person) as we began our descent into Joe's Bay. The view from the large windows was fascinating and the search lights that had previously swept the depths of the Great Barrier Reef brought a marvelous world into view.

We noted many strange creatures of the deep and wondered how an object so foreign as a Safeway cart had come to this spot. We watched with interest as we drifted by old tires of various species. Some of the fish wore plastic beverage can holders as body decorations and we were amazed at the variety of pop bottles, plastic wrappers, and beer cans in this area.

Because space is quite limited aboard the DEEP SIX the Nouvelle Cuisine menu is quite appropriate. The first course was three very lightly cooked shrimp surrounded by a sauce of pureed pomegranate. Our main course consisted of several thin slices of breast of duckling surrounded by a sauce of kumquat garnished with two lightly poached asparagus spears. Slender bread sticks were an accompaniment.

In the spirit and tradition of nouvelle cuisine all the sauces were reductions of fruits or vegetables. No butter, cream, or flour was used. For some reason the sauces were always served under the food. This is the French version of "relishing" or diet food.

It is very stylish in France at this time.

Our dessert was three banana slices topped with a green grape, surrounded by a sauce made from lightly sauteed grapefruit rind.

As our dinner and our interesting experience ended, we left the DEEP SIX feeling slimmer and anxiously awaiting our next unusual dining experience on the first of April 1988.

WOMANHOOD'S UNIQUENESS

Women in the area will be interested to know that Dr. Jean Lush will be at the Vaughn Community Church on Saturday, April 4, from 10 am to 4 pm for a "mini retreat."

Dr. Lush is a Marriage and Family Counselor with Christa Ministries in Seattle. She has talked on radio for 33 years and has been a guest on Dr. James Dobson's "Focus on the Family" program many times. She has researched the unique problems of women, such as premenstrual tension, hormone imbalance, emotions of women and menopause. She speaks at women's retreats and has graciously accepted an invitation to come to Vaughn. Now is your chance to ask your question.

The cost is $4, and please bring a sack lunch. The Church is located at 17616 Hall Road, Vaughn. For more information, call 884-2269.

LAKE HOLIDAY NEWS

The Annual Board meeting of the Lake Holiday Association was held February 28 for election of officers. They are Geraldine Leslie, chairman; Russ Morgan, secretary; Grace Kutzke, treasurer; and Sheldon Plumer and Ray Luttrell, trustees.

Your Park Board Reports

By Daphne Deas

At the March 11 Park Board Meeting Oskar Schock, President of Key Peninsula Athletic Association announced the donation of a 20' X 34' building valued at $11,000. The building was donated to Volunteer Park by Kermit and Joy Olson. A motion was made and carried that the Park District would fund this project, and would require the Athletic Association to hold fundraisers to defray the $5,000 expense.

Volunteer Park also received a donation of 600 lbs. of fertilizer from Pacific Turf of Tacoma.

A presentation was made by Keith Stiles on behalf of Key Peninsula News. Keith advised the board of the intent of the Newsletter to expand to a twice a month publication. A request was made that the Park Board purchase a Desk Top Publisher computer and all peripherals and resell the equipment to the Key Peninsula Civic Center Association. This would allow the Civic Center to purchase the equipment at a greatly reduced price as the Park Board, being a municipality, has the ability to purchase directly from Apple Computers. Commissioner Mike Kent had contacted the Auditors office regarding the legality of this request. It was the opinion of the Auditor that the Park Board would not be in compliance with the law if we honored this request. The Auditor gave the following reasons: 1) the terms of our contract with the Civic Center do not address the purchase of equipment for the association, 2) the Park Board would have to offer the same opportunity to all non-profit organizations, 3) it is not the intent of the bid law to purchase equipment for resale. Chairman of the Board Roy Madsen has since researched the situation and advised the Civic Center that it, as a private non-profit corporation, has the same opportunity to purchase directly from the manufacturer. Hence, the Civic Center will be able to move ahead with the purchase as planned.

Vicki Henschel indicated a new phone has been installed in the Civic Center for public use. A discussion was also held regarding the completed cover over the whale and the intent of the Civic Center to carry that architectural theme to a roof over the reader board. The Commissioners were delighted with the cover over the whale and applauded the Civic Center on a job well done.

The public is encouraged to attend the Park Board's meetings held on the second Wednesday of each month at 7:00 p.m. at the Civic Center. The next meeting is scheduled for April 8th.

Age is of no concern unless you are a cheese.

To Your Health

By Dr. Roes

Many patients have asked recently about their cholesterol level, and what it means. For many years, considerable controversy has surrounded the significance of an elevated cholesterol level, but recently the consensus has developed that elevated cholesterol is truly a risk factor in developing heart disease and arteriosclerosis (hardening of the arteries). We now know that there are several types of cholesterol, and that at least one type, High Density Lipoprotein Cholesterol (HDL), is a "good" type that can actually lower your risk of these diseases. The ratio between total cholesterol and HDL-Cholesterol appears to be the critical factor. The normal ratio is 4.5:1, a low risk individual has a ratio of 3:1, and a high risk can run up to 20:1. Women tend to run a lower ratio than men, probably on a hormonal basis. Traditionally, a "normal" cholesterol level was felt to be 200 plus a patient's age, but recent evidence suggests that this level has been too high.

A person's total cholesterol and HDL cholesterol level are the results of many factors, some, like heredity, which cannot be controlled but others which can be modified. Diet is an obvious factor, and eggs are probably the largest single source of cholesterol in the average American diet. Other dietary factors, such as using poly unsaturated fats and oils in cooking, avoiding fatty meats, and increasing the amount of fish in the diet are also important. Exercise appears to be an important way to increase the level of HDL-Cholesterol. Occasionally people will require medication to lower their cholesterol levels, but this is uncommon if a prudent diet and exercise program is undertaken. If you have questions about your cholesterol level, contact your family doctor for the appropriate

TO THE EDITOR

Dear Editor

I'm writing this as a parent, and I'm asking that all of us parents just look up from the daily grind a bit and look at what Governor Gardner is trying to do for our children with his educational legislation. Many physicians, attorneys, architects and other professions who have absolutely no problem sitting down to write an articulate and convincing letter have let our legislators know that they are not happy with Governor Gardner's proposal. They don't want to deal with the paperwork and regulations involved in collecting sales tax. Many of them probably don't want to increase their fees or rates, and of course that will happen.

I think it's wonderful that we live in a free society where expressing your views to your elected representative can make a difference. Even though it's a little harder to sit down and write an articulate and convincing letter when you're a working parent, it is just as effective to your legislator; maybe even more so, because he understands that you had to sit down and do it between working and taking care of your family.

Frankly, it's a sunny day, and I would rather be out working in my garden than inside writing this letter, but I know how much my children and all Washington children are going to benefit if this proposal is adopted. I know how many "emergency" levies and special bond issues are going to have to be passed if this proposal is not adopted, and I know that it will ultimately be much more expensive to fund education in that kind of haphazard way. I know that I won't be happy about paying more for a doctor's visit, but I'll probably save that money and more if I pay a lower sales tax.

I think Governor Gardner must be a practical, realistic and pretty smart person, because he has come up with a very good funding plan, and a good set of principles upon which to base Washington's educational system. The very bottom line is that when we send our kids off to school in the morning, we'll be sending them off to better schools, including a lot more help and resources if there are problems. However, these improvements will not just be handed over on a silver platter, as my grandmother used to say. We parents must say that we want these very sound improvements in our educational system. If we don't speak, no one will hear.

Find out about Governor Gardner's proposals and see if you don't agree with me that this legislation should be passed; then write to your legislator and say so.

Megan Aprile

Letter to Editor

We are informed that a Port Orchard weekly newspaper intends to invade the Key Peninsula area presently served by our own Key Peninsula News, which very adequately meets our needs. All of us, most especially the senior residents, enjoy the paper not only for the current news and announcements but also for the reminiscences and articles of historical and human interest.

Of course our local merchants know where their bread is buttered and can be expected to give loyal support, so let's give them better service! Support our efforts to gear up to publication of a bigger and better bi-monthly newsletter. The only way to keep the jackal out of the hen house is to reinforce the hen house! Please call your local representative on the Civic Center Board and let that representative know that you support this needed and sensible approach to our problem. We should give thanks to the Port Orchard paper for alerting us to this problem, enabling us to take immediate corrective action to counteract this "Greek bearing gifts".

Rhys Wood

The Editor Says: Vaughn, Wa.

Thanks, Rhys, for the kind words. We are sure our community realizes that any proceeds from the NEWS go to support our programs for children and all adults at our Civic Center, not to line the pockets of some large newspaper syndicate in South Bremerton, or wherever. Our merchants, also, will probably have their own opinions about advertising to siphon their customers off to some Mall in another county, someplace up north.
