KPFD Cuts Ribbons On Two New Stations

by Hugh McMillan

Long-awaited ribbon-cutting ceremonies were held Saturday, June 29, at the Key Peninsula Fire Department's two new stations in Home and at Wright Bliss and SR 302.

Key Peninsula's Fire Commissioners Don Tjossem, Ed Taylor and Ruth Bramhall, Fire Chief Gary Franz, Deputy Chief Fred Ramsdell, and a number of Key Peninsula fire officials and citizens joined Pierce County Executive Doug Sutherland, County Council member Karen Biskey, State Senator Bob Oke and Representatives Tom Huff and Lois McMahan, Gig Harbor Fire Department Assistant Chief Glenn Stenback and Captain Bob Black paused in a moment of silence for military personnel who died in the terrorist bombing in Saudi Arabia, then ceremonies proceeded to officially open the stations.

In the entryways of each station are framed special-process copies of the July 19, 1995, Peninsula Gateway and August 1995 Key Peninsula News these issues cover the first-ever Key Peninsula Firefighters Associations-sponsored 1995 Firemen's Muster. "Now that's real art for a fire station," said Key Peninsula's Bob Fearnough, chairman of the muster. The special process-and Lake Kathryn," said Deputy Chief Ramsdell. Work on these latter two buildings is expected to begin in the near future.

"I can't wait until we perform these ceremonies at Longbranch

Flavor Of Fall Update

We're getting close - only two months away from the first Saturday in October when we will be feasting in "La Fiesta" style and buying all kinds of interesting things at the auction. The proceeds go towards improving our own Civic Center. It costs a lot of money to run the Civic Center and this is one of our major fun-raising events. How often can you spend money on good food, bid on wonderful 'stuff' and afterwards feel that you also have done a good deed? For the ninth year in a row you can do that at Flavor of Fall at the Civic Center on October 5th. Tickets will be available at Sunnycrest Nursery in Key Center. To make the auction part memorable and profitable, we need your input and donations of items and services. Surely you have something or can do something that others happily will pay for. How about homemade cookies, delivered, once a month, a theme children's birthday party, a summer day at the beach or some unused item that may be special to someone else? We have by now sent forms to past donors and others that we felt would be interested, but of course we have missed many, so if you'd like a form (or several...), call Kristen Bottiger, who is auction chairperson at 884-5420. (If you have no idea WHAT you can donate, you can get suggestions at the same time.) All donations are tax deductible. Donors' names will appear in this column over the next three months.

Around twenty patrons that had bought tickets for the 'Garden Tour' event at last year's Flavor of Fall, gathered in perfect weather on July 21 for a tour of four gardens, orchestrated and donated by Claudia & Dale Loy. It was a feast for the eye as well as the stomach; coffee and scones in the first garden, lunch in the second, dessert in the third and wine and cheese as well as a slide show of English gardens as an extra bonus in the fourth... We all hope to see this as an auction item again for the fourth year in a row!!

Last, but not least, the Flavor of Fall has many parts to it: decorations, food prep, advertising and soliciting auction items, just to mention a few, and we are always in need of people to help. If any of these areas interest you, please join our Flavor of Fall Fan Club, call Claudia at 884-3937 or Sharon Miller at 884-2536!

It's August! Think of it - only one more month until school starts! I've got so much to tell you about this month, I don't know where to start!

Thanks to the generosity of a lot of people, we now have logs all around the field. Sylvia Haase and Virginia Liebergesell made what they call a "donation under duress" when they donated the logs from their sea-side bulkhead. Winter storms had damaged it and they had to replace it. We had the logs - now we had to find a way to get them here. Jeff Charboneau gave us the use of one of his dump trucks, a "pup" trailer and a driver to accomplish this. The driver drove all the way to Fife to pick up the logs, then brought them here. Along came Jerry Davis with his tractor and pulled all of the massive logs into place. Somehow, thank you just doesn't seem like enough! The combined effort of all these people is certainly appreciated!

Some of the other things we've accomplished this summer can be seen in new paint, (the trout pond and the railings on the school building), and newly glazed and painted windows on the Whitmore room.

Thanks, too, to John Donnelly for cleaning and fixing the stereo system in the gym.

The summer fun programs are going well, and all the kids attending seem to be having a great time learning new things.

The Firemen's Muster was so much fun! I particularly liked riding on an antique fire engine in the parade through Home. It truly was a case of an antique on an antique! Fred Ramsdell, the Key Peninsula Lions Club, VFW Post #4990 and all the people who helped make it possible, certainly have my thanks. I loved the contests, too. I'm looking forward to it again next year!

Pioneer Day is here on the 3rd. Krys Wylie has done a fine job on the float for the Civic Center. It really fits the parade's theme of "Education - the Key in Key Peninsula!" Be sure to look for our "Train of Thought."

Old Timers' Day is fast approaching. The fun begins on August 17th with logging contests, good food, great music, helicopter rides, belly dancers and fun!

TOPS (Take Off Pounds Sensibly) is starting a morning program. The new group, headed by Betty Jopp, will be meeting on Tuesday mornings from 9:00 am to 11:00 am in the VFW Room here at the Civic Center. Weigh-in will begin at 9:15 with the meeting starting at 10:00 am. Our local TOPS group has really grown - more than 80 people attend on a regular basis. This will make it easier to attend for those that can't make the evening meetings. Welcome aboard!

Flavor of Fall is fast approaching, and donations are needed for the auction. Contact Claudia Loy at Sunnycrest Nursery, 884-3937 if you have items to donate.

This month's vandalism was gas theft. All the vehicles on the grounds, including mine and the van belonging to the Children's Home Society, were hit. The little devils even pried off my locking gas cap! One hopes that they swallowed a sufficient amount of petrol to make them ill. The only other incident of destruction was the downspout on the front porch. It was actually torn off the post and thrown into the garden. It has since been repaired.

Now for the bad news. Although the Civic Center received a substantial grant from HUD for necessary up-grades to the restrooms and gym ceiling, we desperately need help with our operating expenses. In order to keep the building up to code, pay for fire extinguisher recharging, event permits, water analysis, kitchen permits, insurance (that alone is $10,000 per year) and up-keep, our costs border on the $75,000 per year for operating expenses. We're asking for the help of the community in meeting these expenses. Donations in any amount will be gratefully appreciated and receipted. All donations are tax deductible! Thanks again for your continued support!

The Pierce County Council met here on July 16th for their regular session. There was much lively discourse between the council members and the audience. Approximately 60 people attended. Thanks to Karen Biskey and the other council members.

If I've forgotten to thank anyone, please forgive me, and thank you! See you next month.

"Briefly Speaking"

by Rogers S. Wilson

"Two men can't marry. They would be husband and husband and that wouldn't be right." Patrick Wood, age 7, soon to be 8.

In the practice of law it helps to have a 7 year old to call on for advice. I don't have one, but my secretary does, and I borrow him from time to time, particularly when I have a troublesome case. Little do my clients know that he has solved many of their most vexing problems.

I consider him a sub-contractor of sorts and he works cheaply, too. I charge my clients $150.00 an hour, but I have never yet paid Patrick more than a popsicle, his going rate, although there is that one case where he held out for a Happy Meal. All in all, it is a good system and it benefits both of us.

His advice is always pure and untarnished by legal precedent and he doesn't listen much to the argument of lawyers. I have often thought that if I became a judge before he turns, oh, about 10, I could park him unseen near the bench and we could work out a system for communicating his rulings.

And so it was that last week I asked Patrick about his thoughts on same-sex marriages, a topic much in the news lately. I had just heard Rush Limbaugh say that his main objection was that gay couples could not have children which, to his mind, was the main point of marriage. Patrick had no trouble with that at all. If two men wanted to have a baby that would be just fine with him, but he just didn't think they should be allowed to marry. Hmmm.

As usual, my own views are in conflict. Over the last seven years, my wife and I have come to know many gay people and couples. I have in mind now one of those couples, whom I will refer to as

Shotgun Weddings

Dave and John. Dave and John spent 28 years together until Dave's death from cancer last year. Their love for each other could not have been more complete whatever the length and shape of their urinary tracts. If it is true, as some say, that homosexuality is an abomination and none shall enter the kingdom of Heaven, then I say send me to wherever it is that my friend Dave resides. It may be hotter there, but the company is better.

The opposition to gay marriage raises inescapable parallels to interracial marriage. In the Louisiana of my youth, the legislature deemed racial mixing a prison offence. Miscegenation they called it. It sounded like a terminal condition, and to the Klan, if they caught you, it was. But people everywhere have always said one thing and done another, and after the sun went down it was fun to watch who went where.

Marriage is a legal institution and states traditionally have been given leeway in its regulation. In potential conflict with that freedom is the declaration in our state, and many others, that the right to marry is a fundamental constitutional right, meaning the government should have strong and rational reasons for its abridgement.

Once upon a time, gay and lesbian relationships were viewed as inherently illicit and seamy, and even as a mental illness. But, we now know that these relationships can be as loving and supportive as any other. Times change and people change and it is probably inevitable that, within Patrick's lifetime if not mine, there will be legal recognition — in some form — that these relationships have merit and that they provide a benefit to our larger society. It is the right thing to do.

As I placed an unmarked item on the supermarket checkout counter, I said to the salesperson, "There is no price on this." She quickly zipped the bar code across the scanner and said, "Oh, we don't go by prices here."

Literature is mostly about having sex and not much about having children; real life is the other way around.

All members of the Veterans of Foreign Wars and Ladies Auxiliary are reminded that the Pioneer Day parade is coming up on the 3rd of August. For the first time, the VFW Auxiliary Junior Unit #10018 from Tacoma will participate in the parade as well as Girl Scout Troop #83. Members of the VFW and Auxiliary need to be at the Fire Station in Key Center by 9:30 a.m. Let's have a good turnout and let the community know we care.

On August 12th the Post and Auxiliary will have their annual picnic. Weather permitting, the picnic will be at Penrose State Park. If the weather does not cooperate, the activities will be moved to the Whitmore room at the Civic Center. Remember this is potluck and starts at

Key Peninsula Civic Center Association Minutes

The meeting of the Key Peninsula Civic Center Association was called to order by the president, Tim Kezele. After the roll call, the minutes of the last meeting, as printed in the Key Peninsula News, were approved.

Correspondence: Thank you letters were sent to the Association for the wonderful Volunteer Appreciation Dinner by the Lions Club, VFW and the Children's Home Society.

Treasurer's Report: There is a CD valued at $4600, however, there is also a cash deficit of about $2000, as the insurance bill was due.

Manager's Report: Irene reported that there are now logs around the grounds area of the Center. A big thank you to Sylvia Haase, Virginia Liebergesell and Bay Marine for the free logs, to Jeff Charboneau, who donated the use of a truck and driver to transport the logs from the Port of Tacoma, and to Jerry Davis, who dragged the logs into place. The septic system cover, which was damaged by vandals driving over the field, is also complete. A great deal of painting and fixing has been going on.

Newspaper Report: The computer has been fixed and all that is needed now is the OTR software for the scanner. Due to increased mailing costs, the newspaper will no longer be mailed after the August issue. Jan Sparks reported there will be approximately 39 places in the Gig Harbor-Key Peninsula area where people can pick up the paper. It was msc to spend $175 for wire racks and msc to pay Jan $150 per month to distribute the paper. Both motions passed.

TOPS: It was reported that TOPS has now over 80 members and a new daytime chapter will be started. It will meet on Tuesdays at 9:00 a.m.

Children's Home Society: The Summer Fun Program is going well and a wide variety of classes are being offered.

Historical Society: Tim reported that there are over 100 members. The museum is open two days a week.

Flavor of Fall: Claudia reported that letters to merchants will be going out soon.

Pioneer Day: August 3 is the date for Pioneer Day. Plans for the parade are shaping up and there will be about 20 booths. The prizes for the raffle: first prize, a water-wheeler boat, second prize, a wooden bench with planter, and third prize, a cord of wood. The drawing will be held at 4:00 p.m. on August 3.

Old Business: As far as the fire marshal is concerned, the wiring in the downstairs office still needs repair, and a date for that has been set. R&M will extend the outlets. It is not necessary to put in another exit, as the rooms are above ground level. We are still waiting to hear from HUD regarding the furnace repair and the remodeling.

New Business: The nominating committee will meet in order to nominate persons for the vice-president position at the at-large position.

The meeting was adjourned at 8:50 p.m.

Respectfully submitted,
Sylvia Haase, secretary pro tempore

Tax Tips

by R. Marvin Keizer CTP

Would you go to the meat market to have a surgical operation? Of course you wouldn't, but how many people try to do their own taxes or accounting work? Too many it seems. It looks like we care about our bodies, but not about our money. There's an old saying: "if you pay little you can't expect to receive a lot."

Did you know that when you inherit property, your cost basis is stepped up to the value of the property as of the deceased one's date of death? This can mean a big savings when you sell the property, because you are using a higher cost basis than you would otherwise if you had to use the cost of the property when purchased by the deceased.

TOPS News

by Frankie Johnson

Big News!! New chapters are forming - the new daytime group will start July 23, at 9:00 a.m. in V.F.W. room. The new group will decide on a permanent time and day.

Members of WA #1019 are getting ready for Pioneer Day. We will have a face painting booth, parade entry and mud wrestling!! All proceeds will go to the Civic Center.

Laural and Frankie Johnson recently attended the International Recognition Days in Washington, D.C., July 10 through 13. It was a wonderful experience. Over 4,000 T.O.P.S. members from U.S.A., Canada, and overseas attended the sessions. Laural was honored on stage three times as Washington State Queen. We had a special time with our senator, Slate Gorton. The two participated in "Shape Up America", a fitness program headed by C. Everett Koop.

A walk-a-thon around Washington, D.C. was held at 7:00 a.m. on July 12. It was very exciting as peace officers blocked off the route and TV cameras were all over. Delegates from every state and Bergel Ziegler, area Capt. of TOPS from Lacey, Laural Johnson, State Queen; and Frankie Johnson, past leader and chairperson pose before Walk-a-thon.

Canada participated. Singing "America The Beautiful" and "Oh Canada", the marchers were joyous. Many congressman and aides joined in.

On the local scene, our group has gotten so large, we are starting new groups. To be effective as a support group, smaller is better. There is talk of a Home/Longbranch chapter as well as the new daytime chapter and possibly another night time group on a different night.

Watch for T.O.P.S. unit in the Pioneer Day Parade. Our Queen, Laural will be riding in a convertible, along with other successful members. Our face painting booth has been a favorite of kids (and young at heart) for three years. Betty Ostoyich claims she is the "Best" at mud wrestling and she is ready for challengers.

For more information call 884-4102, C-U-Slimmer.

Old Timers' Day Celebrates 10th Anniversary

by John Van De Brooke

Old Timers' Day, the annual major fund raising event for Key Peninsula Community Services, the local food bank and senior center, will again be held this year on the grounds of the Longbranch Improvement Club. The date to circle on your calendar is August 17. If you forget to do so, there will be plenty of signs and banners along the Key Peninsula Highway to remind you.

Festivities begin at 10:00 a.m. with a flag raising ceremony conducted by local Veterans of Foreign Wars Post 4990. Immediately following will be the hour's long old-time loggers' show. If you have never seen a steam donkey, a one lung motor, or a skidder, come to Longbranch and see them in action. There will also be all types of logging competition. Pole climbing is an annual favorite. There will be small chain saw bucking as well as large chain saw bucking.

From its humble beginnings 10 years ago on the cramped grounds of Community House, the former Lakebay school, Old Timers' Day soon outgrew that location and was forced to seek larger quarters in Longbranch. The event is almost outgoing this venue. This year's doings take place on both sides of the highway. Last year's popular helicopter rides will be back. New on the program will be an antique car show at which over 100 entrants are expected to be on display. Car buffs will not want to miss this. All sorts of arts and crafts booths will be available. A myriad of kids' games will entertain the little ones. For "big kids", an auction featuring many eclectic items will begin at 12 noon. One of the featured items will be free cable installation and six months of free basic cable service provided by Summit Cablevision. There will be continuous entertainment featuring a variety of exotic belly dancers, western line dancers, and the return of the ever-popular Old Time Fiddlers. For the athletically inclined we're repeating the annual horseshoe pitching tournament. Delicious home cooked hamburgers will be available both inside the Improvement Club and outside. Plenty of cold drinks will be iced down for the occasion.

One thin dollar buys a raffle ticket that has far better odds than the state lottery. First prize is $1,000 cash, second is $500, and third prize is the always welcomed shopping spree. This year's spree has a value of $250 and will be redeemed either at Walt's Lake Kathryn Village or Walt's Fine Foods in Key Center; the winner has the option.

There's lots of activities crammed into Old Timers' Day and there's something for everyone. You won't want to miss it. Put a note on your refrigerator right now so you won't forget. See you there.

TO YOUR HEALTH

by William F. Roes, MD

Americans seem to be obsessed with losing weight and reducing fat in their diets, and both goals can be an important step in improving your health. It would seem that a new product, the fat substitute olestra, may be the answer to a dieter's prayer, but as is often the case, when something seems too good to be true, it often isn't. In a recent article in the Washington Family Physician, Dr. Elizabeth Smoots summed up some of the potential problems with this miracle of the 90's.

Fats have the highest calorie to weight ratio of any of the foods we eat. It makes sense then if you reduce the fat content in your food, you would reduce the calories as well. Unfortunately, some studies show that when people know they are eating low fat or low calorie foods, they often eat more.

In her article, Dr. Smoots describes olestra as a synthetic chemical comprised of fatty acids attached to a sugar molecule. In essence it is a fat, but too large to be absorbed in our digestive tract. The result of eating it is very similar to using other non-digested oils like mineral oil, diarrhea. In one study half the patients eating three ounces of potato chips made with olestra developed diarrhea.

Because it is an oil, olestra binds fat soluble vitamins such as vitamin D, E, A, and K, and carries them out of the intestines. It has been proposed that olestra products be fortified with these vitamins, but not demonstrated that they will be absorbed.

I'm not saying that olestra may not play a role in satisfying our appetite for low fat snacks, but I doubt this will be a major health benefit to Americans. A prudent diet with lots of fresh fruits and vegetables and low in saturated fats will still be what this doctor orders, even if it's not always what he eats.

It's never too early to plan for those school physicals and updates on the required shots for children entering kindergarten or the 6th grade MMR booster. The Key Peninsula's Well Child Clinic is every Tuesday at 9:00 a.m. at our office. It's open to all peninsula children on a first come first served basis, but we can only see 10 children per clinic, so if your little ones need an exam, come in early in the month.

F.I.P The Forgotten Disease

When cat owners are asked to identify one or two diseases they fear most, most name FeLV or Feline AIDS.

These are very deadly viruses that, after attacking the cat's immune system, can either quickly or over years cause a cat's demise. Another virus, FIP, is also fatal, but seen less commonly.

FIP stands for feline infectious peritonitis. It is a coronavirus and is usually transmitted via the feces and sometimes via the urine or nasal secretions of asymptomatic (show no symptoms) carriers. Asymptomatic cats are very common and shed very small amounts of viral particles. Queens (mothers) that are asymptomatic may infest their offspring via the placenta or shortly after the kittens are born. These infected kittens may immediately become sick or develop the disease later when their immune systems become impaired.

In the early stages of the disease, cats with FIP may be presented with nonspecific signs such as fever, loss of appetite, lethargy and progressive weight loss. Cats may become anemic and in severe cases, jaundiced due to liver disease. Re-curing bouts of diarrhea and constipation are occasionally observed. In the wet form of FIP fluid builds up in the cat's abdomen or in the chest cavity making it difficult for the cat to breathe. In the dry form symptoms are related to what body organ the virus attacks. Included are the kidneys, the eyes, and the brain.

If a cat is sick with FIP, the prognosis is poor, since there is currently no effective treatment for the virus. Some drug regimens allow short-term remissions in carefully selected patients. The best patients for palliative treatments aimed at eliminating symptoms, but not curing, are those cats with FIP that are not infected with FeLV, are in good physical condition, maintain a good appetite and have no evidence of severe anemia or neurologic signs. Unfortunately, few cats with FIP are presented early enough in the course of the disease to meet these criteria.

Cats can be prevented from getting FIP in two ways. One, is to remain an indoor pet, the other is vaccinations. I doubt that it is 100% successful, most vaccines aren't, but it is better than no vaccine at all!

Lions Volkspport Club's Volksmarch

Scouts of Troop 220 clearing KP Lions' Volkspport Club trail.

Photos by Hugh McMillan

by Hugh McMillan

The Key Peninsula Lions' Volkspport Club's eighth annual volksmarch began at the Lind family homestead in Home at 8:00 am on Saturday and Sunday, July 13 and 14 and wandered over trails never before used for this purpose. "Everyone told us they loved the beautiful heavily forested primeval terrain, the historic Home Colony cemetery and one of the newest state parks," said Lion LeRoy Challengier. The park is on land acquired from the Haley family (of Almond Roca fame). The trail reached its halfway point on a picturesque Puget Sound beach. Several of the 366 who walked the trails were so impressed with the beach area that they remained there several hours.

The Lions want to thank all who helped make the event a success, particularly non-Lions Bob and Nancy Lind, Fred Haley, the Cubs and Boy Scouts of pack and troop 220 and Rick Stout who co-chaired, cleared, and marked the trails.

"Considering that the temperatures were in the 90's, and that there were three other simultaneous events," said Stout, "we can be more than satisfied with our walk."

Did You Know?

How Longbranch Team Was Started

by Aileen Froehlich

Key Peninsula Historical Museum

Baseball has always been one of man's greatest means of entertainment. Longbranch was blessed with an overabundance of robust young men, one of which was my father, Albert (Slick or Slippery) Rickert. There was another Albert Rickert, whom they referred to as Windy. He too played baseball.

The fathers of these young men got together and decided the best way to use all the excess energy of these young men was to encourage them to get together and play baseball. Who knows, they thought, some of them might even be talented. They established a makeshift baseball field on the property of Adolph Rickert, who lived on what is now known as Nelson Road. They had a large flat field so after hay season it worked out very well.

There were Rickerts, Summerfelts, Ottos, Guses, Crevistons, Watkinsons, Schultzes and more. Sometimes even one of the Web boys from lower Skokomish would accompany some of the boys home from their weekday jobs of logging and would join in. As they played their various chosen positions, they became very good and had tons of fun.

I always wondered why my father was referred to as Slick. I was told it was because he was such a good and slick catcher. I grew and became interested in playing ball, I always chose the spot of catcher when playing softball.

As their talents grew, their fathers thought it a good idea to make another field which they could use all year around. They also put up a grandstand because they were beginning to attract a crowd. They were going to invite other teams to come from Tacoma, Steilacoom, and other areas. This field was constructed on the hill above the now existing Longbranch store. Later, an even better field was built by the now existing Longbranch Gym.

So the team began. My father, Albert, was catcher, Fred Rickert, pitcher and the rest in their best positions. The opposing team was invited, and they gladly accepted as they knew for sure it would be easy to beat these country hicks. However, when the game began, they realized that they had their hands more than full. They retired, losing badly, going home with "their tails between their legs" so to speak. From then on, opposing teams had a great deal of respect for the Longbranch team.

Bill Otto, being one of the younger ones, was chosen to be water boy. He had to carry water from Summerfelts home, which was several hundred yards away. Moreover, he had to crawl between a barbed wire fence. He informed me that he really became frustrated when he had to go for water during the game. He said he would be hurrying and inevitably he would get caught on the barbed wire, at the same time he would hear the fans really yelling excitedly, only to find out, when he got back with a big tear in his pants, he missed a grand slam.

Their fame and reputation grew. Other teams really enjoyed coming with their families. Longbranch decided they needed a hall to entertain them in after the game.

Thus came into existence what was known as Library Hall. Next time we will talk about Library Hall.

A View From Home

by Marty Marcus

In last month's Key Peninsula News, there appeared a short article on "Beautification Day" planned as part of the Home Centennial celebration. People who wished to participate were to send in a form with a brief description of their project. However, the form referred to in the article never appeared in the paper. I never called the editor about it because I figured there probably was a rational explanation for the omission. Anyhow, I'm really not interested in assessing blame, I just want to set things straight.

So, if any of you in the vicinity of Home want to do some small project to improve the appearance of your home or its environs, drop me a note to P.O. Box 760, Lakebay, when your project is finished, and we'll come by and take a picture to put into the time capsule to be buried in October. I guess mid-September would be a reasonable deadline for a project.

A sort of related item that has recently been brought to the attention of the Home Town Meeting is that the property at the corner of 8th

Avenue and KPHN is now for sale and it was noted that this site could make a great park, museum, or recreation and meeting hall for the community of Home.

While many people view this particular piece of property unfavorably because of its present appearance, let us not forget that had not most of the discarded appliances been gathered to this one location, they probably would have been scattered around in the woods and fields of the whole Key Peninsula.

Looking ahead, some of us see not only the problems associated with cleaning up this spot, but we also see the trees, a creek, a potential multi-use recreation and learning area relatively close to "greater downtown" Home. This could be a splendid opportunity to involve members of all ages in this community-wide project. People with ideas shouldn't keep their ideas hidden. Come to the Home Town Meeting on the second Thursday of each month at 7:00 p.m. at the Home Fire Station and share your ideas.

Letters To The Editor:

Editor:

Each year, as most of us celebrate Independence Day with our families, a few people in our community donate their time by helping to work the fireworks stands, one in the parking lot the Key Center Tavern and the other at Lake Kathryn Village.

This annual event is a cooperative effort between the Key Peninsula Civic Center and the V.F.W. Post 4990 and Ladies Auxiliary. All profits are used to support the Civic Center, and the numerous community programs through the Veterans of Foreign Wars.

Thanks to the cooperation of Fire District 16, the season started on the 22nd of June with a fireworks demonstration at the Civic Center. In addition to providing a show for the audience, everyone got a reminder on the safe use of fireworks. Girl Scout Troop #83 helped by passing out fliers.

The 1996 season again was a success. Chairmen Wally Cornman and Wilma Haines with co-chairman Jim Wooldridge want to extend their deepest appreciation to all the volunteers that helped work the stands. Special thanks to the proprietors of the Key Center Tavern and Walts' Fine Foods for allowing the use of their property.

DeaBee Blum,
Publicity Chairman

Editor:

Not enough is being done, or said about Fetal Alcohol Syndrome, Fetal Drug Syndrome, Fetal Smoking Syndrome. A young mother is not allowed to hit her baby in the head with a hammer, however, many young girls after becoming pregnant are doing equal damage to the unborn child, when they use drugs, alcohol or tobacco.

Trapped inside the womb, the infant cannot escape the "injections" of these burning toxins. These children will be born with fear, hatred, confusion, nervousness and the lack of clear thinking. Many will be social drop-outs, criminals, and feel rejected by their fellow humans. Such carelessness by the young mother causes a life time of suffering and lack of ability. It can turn an "Einstein" into a hobo, or a "Mother Teresa" into an undesirable criminal.

The "American Dream" is a joke to the children born with three strikes against them. These youth face discrimination and intimidation from their fellow students and even most teachers because they cannot compete. Lack of understanding is part of the problem. The suffering continues on beyond school and into a menial job. Most of these young people accept their "second rate" position in life and many become withdrawn and even paranoid. Prisons, mental institutions, hospitals, and convulsion centers are overcrowded with victims that could be traced back to pre-natal abuse.

When we evaluate the effects on society and the future it becomes a serious social problem with millions of victims and billions of tax dollars. And consider the torture of an entire life these individuals face.

For these reasons, I am sending a copy of this letter to the First Lady, Mrs. Hillary Clinton. There needs to be more involvement by government, communities, schools, and families. The most intimate and effective help would be from the girl's mother, grandmother, sisters, aunts, friends and even neighbors. Husbands, fathers and grandfathers can play an important role, too. We must stop the pain.

Cub Pack And Scout Troop 220

by Hugh McMillan

Saturday, June 15, found Penrose Point State Park playing host to an estimated 150 Pack 220 Cub Scouts and their families and friends. The occasion was the first annual picnic and graduation ceremony for the pack's exclusively Key Peninsula membership. The Friday night before found 53 cubs and family members clustered around a campfire eating, singing and telling scouting stories before bedding down in tents and RVs.

Introducing his replacement Lethanial Ray, outgoing Pack Chairman Bill Macaras announced that he has formed and will lead new Boy Scout Troop 220 which is sponsored by the Key Peninsula Lions Club. Cub pack 220's 47 registered members range from 6 to 11 years old and attend 1st through 5th grades at Evergreen, Minter, and Vaughn Elementary schools. A new scout troop accommodates those over 11 years.

Not long after its formation, the troop enlisted a group of its scouts, cubs, and parents to assist with clearing trails for last month's KP Lions-sponsored volksmarch. "We're not looking for a handout," said Macaras, "we want to earn our way." The Lions helped them earn their first $100 on the trails.

The June picnic and graduation's schedule included games, a tug-o-war, and a picnic dinner prepared by volunteers "Buzz" Simon and wife Deb. The dinner consisted of hamburgers, hotdogs, chicken donated by Pederson's Chicken to feed 200, and watermelon contributed by Steve's Produce. Colorful ceremonies took place for Cubs graduating from Tiger Cubs to Wolf, Wolf to Bear, Bear to first year Webelos Scouts. Second year Webelos to Boy Scouts were crowned with the Arrow of Lights awards to second year Webelos. Chris Hagen, Anders Karlson, Mathew Macaris, Michael Mayfarth, and Aaron Van Arsdale "crossed over the bridge, and were welcomed into the Boy Scouts. As they crossed over the bridge, the boys were welcomed by their new Den leaders who removed their old neckerchiefs and tied on new ones denoting their promotions to new ranks.

Macaras thanked Jackie Ray, Cub Master Larry Malcolm, Assistant Cub Master Larry Darbyshire, and Henderson Bay Products, Cenex Co-op, Capitol Lumber, Coast to Coast Hardware, and Richard Eyrish among others for volunteering help that made the event a big success.

Anyone interested in Cub Scouts or Boy Scouts on the Key Peninsula should contact Lethanial Ray, 857-7667, or Bill Macaras, 884-3133.

On graduation to new levels, Key Peninsula's Cub Pack 220 members "cross over the bridge" to be welcomed by their new Den leaders, one of whom is seen here changing new for old neckerchiefs
