Kids show their pride and patriotism and celebrate the end of the year at Minter Elementary's Field Day.

July is Goodwill month Allyr

Seattle is the host city this year for the Goodwill Games, but all of Washington will be in the spotlight. The Goodwill Games, which were first held in Moscow in 1986, showed that sports can have a postive influence on politics and culture.

The state has embarked on a nationwide advertising campaign and local merchants have also gotten involved in a Goodwill Games promotion (see story on page 15).

The NEWS would like to join other businesses and organizations in the spirit of Goodwill towards others that the Games were started to foster.

We at the NEWS encourage everyone to attend the local celebrations that are coming up, or even better, to sign on the dotted line..... This month there are lots of entry forms in the NEWS. You can enter your horse or your crocheting in Pioneer Day events. You can enter your horse, but not your crocheting, in the Pioneer Day Parade. Actually, you probably could enter your erocheting if you want to carry it on a float. The whole spirit of Pioneer Day is to reflect our community; to show both group and individual interest, as well as to recognize our not-so-distant pioneer past.

Join your Peninsula friends and neighbors on this special day. Many people dress up in Pioneer or Indian costume to get in the spirit of the event. Get to town (Key Center) early to get the good seats along the curbs, especially if you have children, since parade participants have often been known to throw candy.

Patience - road work is almost done

There is probably nothing that raises blood pressure faster than road delays, but a member of the Ace Paving Company crew confirmed that work should last about another week. She advised motorists to "look for the stripers". Their appearance means the job is almost finished.

The paving project, to widen and re-pave 302 from Key Center to Elgin-Clifton Road and add a turn-out at the Elgin-Clifton intersection, should mean safer and easier travel for all of us.

Allyn Days

The annual Allyn celebration and all day salmon bake will be held this year on July 21 at the waterfront park, a part of the Port of Allyn. Allyn, which is about eleven miles from Key Center, is reached by following Elgin-Clifton road towards Shelton. After winding along the water, you reach Allyn, which is situated on the shores of Case Inlet. The park features a dock, a gazebo, (built last year with the proceeds of past Allyn Days and other fundraisers) and a rose garden.

The celebration this year will feature bands, an afghan raffle, a dunk tank, kid's fishing derby, boat races and of course the salmon bake. Salmon will be available for eating from 11 am to 6 pm. Meet your closest neighbors and enjoy the food and entertainment. Proceeds from the event, which is put on by the Allyn Community Association, go to improve the park.

An Allyn days booth application for those who like to sell food or crafts is in this issue on page 12

It's news for kids

It's summer; kids are home and time is freer. In this issue and the next, there will be a kid-news page, thanks to Walt's Fine Foods, Puget Sound Bank, Sunnycrest Nursery, The Key Peninsula Volunteer Firefighters Association, the Key Peninsula Lions Club and Citizens Against Crime.

There are some things on the page that probably will be of interest to parents too.

If you like the kid-news, let some of the folks who sponsored the page know. They care enough about kids to have made their page possible by sponsoring the cost.

Look for kid's news on page 13.

More money needed for July 4 show

by Hugh McMillan

A dramatic increase in contributions to support our ninth annual fireworks extravaganza is needed.

Anonymous donors have made a generous gift each year to assist in sponsoring this delightful all-community event. Their annual gift normally is between $2,500 and $3,200. This year, they contributed $4,000!

Normally, the gift is divided: $1,500 for fireworks and $1,000 for purchases of special emergency equipment for the Key peninsula Fire Department provided our community contributes matching funds of $1,000 toward the fireworks and $1,000 toward the equipment purchase by June 15. Otherwise, the money (all $4,000 of it) will be contributed to a Tacoma charity.

At the moment, we're barely half way to meeting our side of the bargain.

This year's show will go on as scheduled. This will happen only because the Key Peninsula Firefighters' Association loaned our community the required balance due to meet the deadline - and that balance due is substantial.

Please, if you enjoy the fireworks, if you appreciate the benefits of those purchases of special equipment, make out your check to: KPFFA, 8911 Key Peninsula Highway, Lakebay, WA 98349.

And enjoy a safe fun-filled celebration on our Key Peninsula at Von Geldern Cove on the 4th of July.

Letters To The Editor

To the editor:

If you drive 302 you have surely noticed the camival cart hawking fishsticks and hot dogs at the Minter Village location. This project (Minter Village) has been in violation for two years for excess signage and lack of required greenbelt and landscaping that was necessary for site plan approval.

The owner of Minter Village has been notified that he is in violation with letters from Joseph Scorcio of the Planning Department; from Fred Ogle, Zoning Inspector; Mike Erkkinen, Assistant Planner; and Stephen Shelton, Deputy Prosecuting Attorney—plus Paul Cyr our County Councilman has had this matter brought to his attention.

When Minter Village was seeking site plan approval, the plans were sent back for additional requirements and with a two year period for completion. That was in 1986.

When an infraction has been going on for years at this location, at Dairy Queen and at Schucks, to name two other offenders, then what good will all the new county growth planning be if no one is able to enforce the rules? It is my understanding that a business has to have a Certificate of Occupancy in order to operate that business. Why not just shut the businesses down until they meet all site plan requirements?

Sincerely,

Jaunita Short, Gig Harbor

To the editor:

I hope this letter will not be taken as an effort to find fault with our very fine Fire Department. I have only the highest opinion of our staff, from Volunteers to Chief, from Paramedics to office personel.

However I would like to point out what our Commissioners cost our district for the year 1989. Art Fenton, $950.00 pay; Hugh McMillan $3000 pay, $555 expenses; Ex-commissioner Duane Fleming $2800 pay, $1019.10 expenses. In addition to these amounts there was a considerable amount spent for class fees, hotel bills and the like. I can only hope Hugh McMillan and John Hendrickson will follow the fine example of Art Fenton who has not only been very thrifty but has not accepted any pay after June 1989. We will see in my letter to you next year.

One other thing to say for now. Union and management have finally come to an agreement but only after more than $9100 to Calbot Dow to do the bargaining for the commissioners, $300 for a wage benefit study and $350 salary to Duane Fleming to attend negotiating sessions.

I can't help but hope in the future our Commissioners will be able to handle this job themselves. Possibly if they didn't rely on secret executive sessions and everything was done in public meetings, we would know who was the other end of the horse and who was reasonable.

Since public labor negotiators are not totally new, seem to make things a whole lot clearer to us taxpayers and could save the cost of paid negotiator bills, it is more than likely things would go a lot smoother if they could be used in any future disputes.

Allan Yanity, Lakebay

To the editor:

As a member of the Hemlock Society, which is part of the coalition called Washington Citizens for Death With Dignity, I'm proud to announce that the initiative the coalition is sponsoring, #119, is now available for signatures.

The initiative is in the form of amendments to the Washington State Natural Death Act of 1979 and will substantially expand and redefine the provisions of the Act. Some of the new provisions are: inclusion of irreversible coma as a terminal illness; recognition of physicians "aid-in-dying" at the request of a terminally ill person, and adequate safeguards for both patients and physicians.

As Pierce County Coordinator for the Hemlock Society, I will need volunteers and the support of those here on the Key Peninsula who share my belief in this progressive step toward individual control of end-of-life decisions. Please call me for detailed printed information about the initiative and to offer your services. You may also contact directly or send contributions to: Washington Citizens for Death With Dignity, P.O. Box 84463, Seattle 98124.

Mary M. Watson, Gig Harbor

To the editor:

Over the past decade hordes of former city dwellers have flocked to the country to get away from the city and leave the problems of city life behind. People move to Key Peninsula for country peace. They do not always realize that the amenities they take for granted in the city are nonexistent out here or only exist because of the work of volunteers - people who donate time without pay to their community.

Bingo has been held every Wednesday for years. It was cancelled during June because it was running in the red. We were having a hard time finding volunteers. Bingo will be held this summer starting in July, but if volunteers don't come forward, we will lose it.

Four years ago, the Pioneer Days celebration was cancelled for lack of volunteers. Lots of people wanted it held, they just didn't want to help. The KP Business Association worked hard and managed to run Pioneer Days that year.

People complained that we did not have any "Pioneer" in Pioneer Days. Last year the Angel Guild donated the money

Civic Center News

From the Prez.....

The kids are out of school and the calendar says it's summer. The fireworks stand is up and running in downtown Key Center, with VFW and Civic Center Association volunteers manning it. Please supervise your children when using fireworks of all kinds. The play structure at the Civic Center is now a reality; take the kids and enjoy.

Bingo will reopen on July 11. In order to stay open, it needs all Bingo players' support, or at least 50 players each Wednesday night.

The newly formed Theater group will be putting on a 20 minute drama at Pioneer Day. Don't miss their first performance. And talking about Pioneer Day, which is Saturday August 4, come and enjoy all the activities. Pioneer Farms will be there again. The Angel Guild, through their generosity, has again paid for the Pioneer Farms display. Our thanks to them. Help is needed for that display, so if you have a couple of hours to volunteer, please contact me. Mark your calendars for August 4, for the parade and fun. See you all there.

Roller skating will be closed until September. See you kids in the fall.

Our Park District, which is our own and has nothing to do with any other park or recreation district in the state, will be going for a levy this fall which must be passed by local voters in order for the district to be funded. Our Park district receives all funding from levies. In order for us to have this building and the ball fields open we are going to need everyone's support. It takes a lot of money for insurance, heat and maintenance of these facilities. So please support the levy this fall.

Vacation Bible School

Hey, parents! Let us have your kids for a week. We'll take them with us to outer space at Vacation Bible School, following the theme "Exploring God's Ways." Where? At Vaughn Community Church, July 16-20, 9:00am - 12:15 pm. It's for children age 4 through 5th grade. Call 884-2269 to pre-register your child for an exciting week of crafts, skits, games, Bible lessons, and refreshments.

Free preschool for limited income families

Peninsula School District is accepting applications for the 1990-91 ECEAP preschool. Classed are held four days a week at Harbor Heights Elementary and Vaughn Elementary.

Children must by four on August 31, 1990 to qualify, and their family incomes must be below federal poverty guidlines. For more information, call 884-4928,

Allyn Gazebo Tile Project

Help pave the Allyn Picnic Area Building and immortalize yourself by purchasing a tile with your name or the name of a loved one on it. Tiles sell for $35. To order by check, Visa™ or Mastercard™ send order with your name, address and phone number, along with the name you would like on the tile to: Gazebo Tile Project, c/o Allyn Community Association, National Bank of Bremerton, Allyn Branch, P.O. Box 800, Allyn, WA 98524. For telephone orders call 275-2841 or 426-7187.

Little League needs your cards and letters

Little League was popular this yait will probably be even more popular next year. If it is, some kids will have to be turned away.

The reason? Not enough field space. The fields at Volunteer Park were scheduled to their maximum capacity this year. That's great, because it means the park is being well-used, but it also means there is no room to expand.

In addition, Little League has its own field specifications and it is really best if games are played on a field built to those specs. The Little League president, John Dierck, is willing to work toward getting a Little League field, but he needs the support of Little League parents and the community. He has received some letters in support of a field, but he needs more.

Your letter can be brief; just indicate your support for a playing field for Little League players. Send letters to John Dierck, 6116 Crescent Beach Rd KPN. Vaughn, WA 98394.

Burley Library Association

Those who attented the May 23 Potluck meeting of the Burley Library Association were treated to an interesting talk and slide show by Rick Eltrick of the Washington State Department of Fisheries. He spoke about our creeks and local fisheries and their part in stocking local streams with fish. The food and company were excellent as usual.

The next meeting of the Burley Library Association is on July 18, 7:30 pm at the Burley Community Hall. The Association is a non-profit community organization concerned with the betterment of the Burley area. Everyone is welcome to attend. For more information contact Ron Roper at 857-6372. Community Hall is available for your club or group. Contact R. Roper for details.

Lions & CAC share Volksmarch

The Key Peninsula Lions' Volkssport Club, sponsors of the walk through "Historic Home" Saturday and Sunday, July 7 and 8, will be joined by members of Citizens Against Crime who will provide modestly-priced food and beverages for the estimated 1,000 Volksmarch enthusiasts expected to enjoy the event.

Everyone is welcome to join the fun along the trail from the Key Peninsula Middle School through Home and back. Historic sites on the route will be marked.

Start time is any time from 8 am through 1 pm each day. Those desiring official credit who have not pre-registered may register and pay the regular $1.50 fee at that time and must complete the trek by 4 pm.. There is no cost for those not wishing official credit but you are required to sign in.

This is the second of what the Lions plan will be annual Volkssport walks on the Key Peninsula. Last year, almost 1,000 walkers, some from as far away as Germany, followed the first-ever volksmarch on a trail around Burley Lagoon.

Those who completed last year's 10 kilometer walk qualified to purchase a colorful commemorative award medal depicting a Tyrolean-hat-and-lieder-hausen-wearing walker. In this year's medal, the walker is accompanied by a lady. Next year, the couple will be joined by a child riding in a backpack. Each year thereafter, the medals will play on the growing family theme in what has already become a collector-item series. The medal is $5 to those pre-registering, $6 on site. Matching hat pins are $2.50 in advance or $3.00 at the event.

Pre-registration forms may be obtained from Don Tjossem 884-9345, Rick Stout 884-3684 or Hugh McMillan 884-3319. They must be received by July 5 and should be sent to KPLVC, P.O. Box 500, Vaughn, WA 98394.

The Lions' Volkssport Club is affiliated with Washington's Evergreen State Volkssport Association, the American Volkssport Association and the International Federation of Popular Sports.

Summer Fun '90

Summer Fun '90 will be open to children aged five to eleven. Two sessions will be offered each day. The first session runs from 9 am to noon, and the second session from 1 to 4 pm.

Each day will be filled with a variety of activities including: games, crafts and physical activity. In order to make the program available to as many participants as possible, it was decided to keep the fee at $5 per week for each three hour period. Children are also able to attend both sessions for a fee of $10 per week. Scholarships will be available through a generous donation from the Civic Center Association.

In order to schedule certain events we are asking that children be pre-registered for each session. There is a limit of twenty-five children per session, so register early.

As it was last year, Summer Fun is once again made possible by a grant from the Washington State Parks and Recreation Commission.

This year's program director is Byron Smith, a student at Central Washington University. Byron joins us through an internship program provided by the Parks Commission in full cooperation with CWU. He is majoring in recreation and leisure services and comes with excellent management skills.

Volunteers are needed to assist. Please plan to spend a few hours each week helping the children of the Key Peninsula by volunteering for Summer Fun '90.

Fourth of July note - celebrate your right to vote

As a US Citizen, legal resident of Wahington, 18 years old or older by the date of the next election, you have the right to vote. You can register in person at County Courthouses, Election Offices, City and Town Clerks Offices.

You must register at least 30 days before an election. Your registration is permanent if you vote at every Presidential election or vote once every 24 months in state/local elections. You must reregister if you move outside your registration county, change your name, did not vote in every Presidential election or did not vote every 24 months in state/local elections.

To change your registration record, notify your election office in person or by mail, supply old and new addresses. If you change your name, supply your old recorded signature and your new one.

Who are the Longbrancheros?

The "Longbrancheros" is a newly formed group of people with horses who are a part of (and sponsored by) the Longbranch Improvement Club.

The "Longbrancheros" will be having four free gaming events at Pioneer Day at the Civic Center starting at 1 pm. Please come and bring your horse. We will also have a dog judging and a category for other animals.

We will also be having an Open Game Show at Old Timers Day on August 25. The entry fee is $10 per person or $15 per family. Registration is at 10 am and the games are at 12 noon. For more information call 884-3213.

A new arena was built by community volunteers to provide a place for people with horses to congregate in a safe and friendly environment. While western gaming is our primary activity, we hope to add trailrides too. The "Longbrancheros" were formed to be family and community oriented with a special interest in promoting activities for children and big kids too.

to Pioneer Days. It was great, but we are required to have enough people to man the exhibit and last year we had a terrible time getting enough volunteers. We will have the Pioneer Farm exhibit again this year, but if we don't have the volunteers, then this year may be the last for the exhibit.

Last year we had a children's musical production, "The Wizard of Oz". Because one generous lady volunteered her time to chair the production, over 50 children had the opportunity to be in a play and hundreds more had a chance to watch. That lady moved. This year the kids on Key Peninsula will do without because no one has volunteered to chair a children's theatre program.

The excuses are many: I have a family; I'm a single parent; I'm working; I don't use the center; I don't have time; I'm too old; I've already done my share.

The complaints are many also: You don't have enough programs; there is nothing for teenagers; I don't like the way any present/past program is run; I would help but I can't work with him/her, you should have some other program but I can't help; I don't like the people on the park board; I don't like the people on the Civic Center Board.

If you want the current programs and activities that exist to continue then you must be willing to volunteer.

Don't expect your neighbor to do it. He has already suggested you. If you have ideas for new programs or activities please tell us! Please be willing to help make your idea reality. If you are willing to volunteer your time to help your community please call the Civic Center at 884-3456 or Stephanie Zampini at 884-9821. Get involved in your community and help make Key Peninsula a good place to live.

Ann Larson, Lakebay

To the editor:

On behalf of my daughter Amy Rose and the rest of our family, we wish to express our gratitude to each and every one of you who were involved in helping out after Amy's injury during the Little League game on June 14.

So many people were so very helpful and just seemed to know just what needed to be done and took charge. Too many to name individually, it included the other players, parents and Little League officials as well as the ambulance crew. This allowed us to concentrate on taking care of Amv.

Amy suffered from 2 broken bones in the ankle area of her leg. The doctors were able to set the leg without performing surgery and don't expect any complications. She will have to endure a long hot summer in a cast, but we expect a normal full recovery.

Thank you again to all of you who helped us our and for all the expressions of care and concern. We really do appreciate it. It is a good feeling to know we belong to such a wonderful community. Kirsti Feldmann, Gig Harbor elevated temperature. The first line of attack is avoidance, then over the counter antihistamines, then prescription drugs. When all of these still leave the patient with sneezing, stuffy nose, itchy eyes and sinus pressure, I often get asked, "What about allergy shots, Doc?"

Allergy shots are part of immunotherapy or desensitization therapy. Very small amounts of an allergic material are injected on a weekly basis. The amount of the allergen is gradually increased. The serums are individually prepared on the basis of allergy testing performed by an allergist or a special allergy testing lab. Usually, several different allergens are combined in a single shot. As the series is given, your body's immune system learns to "ignore" the offending allergen, and exposure to the offending material in the real world no longer triggers the typical hay fever symptoms.

Desensitization therapy usually lasts 12-24 months. Approximately 80% of patients report good results, but often benefit is not noted until the second summer after starting. The down side of desensitization therapy is the local pain (minimal), cost (frequent doctor visits), and the small risk of a severe allergic response. The shots should be given where emergency medical support is available if needed, and the patient should be observed for at least 15 minutes after the shot. If you've tried everything else you may want to talk to your doctor about this form of treatment.

Finally, we wish you all a safe and sane Fourth of July. Enjoy the Fire Department's display and be very careful with your own fireworks. Dean and I are busy enough already.

Tax Tips

by R. Marvin Keizur

The IRS says it will not follow a recent Tax Court decision to allow a deduction to a person who had a home office to keep business records, even though he performed all income producing services elsewhere. The IRS is appealing the case (Soliman v Commissioner, 94TC #3) and will continue to allow a deduction only when income producing work is performed in the home office.

The "filed when mailed rule" - if the Post Office loses a return that was sent to the IRS by ordinary mail, the return is treated as if it was never filed. The tax-payer can be held liable for failure to file penalties. So always send tax documents to the IRS by certified or registered mail. A certified or registered mail receipt is accepted as proof that a document was mailed on time.

New auto deduction rules - the standard mileage rate is now 26¢ a mile, but it is possible to get a higher deduction by keeping track of gas, oil, insurance, licenses, garage rent, parking, washing, tolls, auto club fees, and depreciation. Depreciation is limited for "luxury" cars, defined as those costing more than $13,100 in 1989, indexed for future inflation.

Four of us tried out the new Japanese restaurant in Gig Harbor. Kinza Teriyaki is located on Kimball Drive, right behind John's Burgers, etc. and Dreyers Interiors, in the newly built complex.

We all had the Kinza Combo 4; chicken teriyaki, shrimp tempura and gyoza (steamed pork dumplings).

The salad was shredded lettuce topped with a wedge of tomato and what looked like creamy French dressing, but turned out to be a very nice and light sesame scented dressing that made the pedestrian salad quite palatable. Soon after the salad our dinner platters arrived.

The four gyoza were expertly stuffed with a mild pork mixture. We tried dipping them in the dark brown sauce which was in shakers on the table. Turned out it was teriyaki sauce and we had to ask for soy

The teriyaki chicken was perfectly cooked with a glaze of not-too-sweet teriyaki. The tempura, two butterflied shrimp accompanied by fresh green bean, slice of zuccini, carrot slice and onion rings was hot and freshly cooked. The two scoops of rice on our platters were sticky, the normal way for rice to be prepared in Japan, which makes it easier to eat with chop sticks (we were automatically provided both silverware and chopsticks).

The Kinza is most unusual in its' decoration. There isn't a sign of red in the place, no "oriental" lamp shades or big brass good luck characters. It is all done in light colored wood, palest grey walls, and table tops with acents of white. It all works together to make a most attractive and serene place.

Menu prices range from $4.50 to $9.99. The food is all well prepared and fresh. It would be the perfect place to take a teenager to show them something beyond pizza or burgers. I think that most little kids would enjoy this food too.

Because of the close proximity of a grade school, State law dictates no beer or wine may be served, a pity in the view of many, since beer goes so well with Japanese food.

Telephone is 858-8989 for take-out (yes, they do have take out!).

In the Library

In addition to the free posters and silver and gold stickers for each book read for the summer reading club, Secrets of Silver and Gold, there are storytimes for ages 6 and up each Thursday through August 2 at 10:30 am. Each storytime will focus on an exciting theme:

The Friends of the Key Center Library would like to host an ethnic holdiay party the first week of December. Anyone interested in contributing food, decorations, or customs to this multi-ethnic celebration may contact Dory Myers at the library, 884-2242 before August 1. All religions, nationalities, and cultural groups are welcome to participate.

The Key Peninsula Business Association had an entry in the recent Gig Harbor parade. Shown I. to r., Shirley Olson, Doug Blundell, Stella Retherford, Claudia Loy, Jim Blundell and Pearl and Oscar Johnson hold up signs of participating groups. The theme was "A Community That Cares."

Seniors - Don't Give Up!

My wife Margaret had a mammogram at Humana Hospital in Tacoma, March 8, 1989. There was no problem. It was a happy anniversary present for us. I thought the procedure should be covered by Medicare, and corresponded with Medicare about it. They said it was not covered, so I sent a check for $139 and thought that was the end of it. Humana cashed the check and I kept the returned, cancelled check, which may have been good.

Surprise! On November 15, 1989, I received a corrected record of benefits from Aetna, which handles Medicare business from Peoria, Illinois, replacing the notice previously sent. Medicare was paying $111.20 of the $139, Margaret owed $27.80 to Humana. The rub was that Humana already had the entire $139, and they were not going to return $111.20 without a struggle.

So we went to Humana's old headquarters, but they were not there any more; it was now Allenmore again. Allenmore gave me the address of Humana's headquarters in San Antonio, Texas. I wrote a clear explanation of the whole deal. No answer. I tried phoning; was promised an answer within a week. Nothing from that either. So we simmered a few weeks. I wrote Medicare with one of my most powerful explanations, then simmered some more. Now a short letter from Aetna. They were on it! More waiting.

Then, one day, at lunch time, the phone rang. A male asked to talk to Margaret. They had been working on Humana. We would eventually get our $111.20. It's been a year, but the check did finally get here, with Margaret's middle initial listed as 7!

Seniors, keep those records! You sometimes win a round.

Improvement Club dance

The Long branch Improvement Club will feature dancing and comedy on July

Chris Alpine is a down-to-earth native Washingtonian who started out as a builder of log cabins and ended up as a comedian-actor-writer. Described by the Miami Herald as "hysterical, fast-paced and fun!", his originality and engaging style have entertained audiences from California to Florida.

Chris has been the opening act for Chuck Berry, Ray Charles, Willie Nelson, Chrystal Gayle, Dolly Parton, and now will be opening for Flashback here on the Key Peninsula.

Flashback (formally Oasis) returns for the second summer dance at the Longbranch Improvement Club on Saturday, July 7. Flashback features three Peninsula High School graduates, Lynn McManus (Veitenhans), Neal Veitenhans, and Terry Shaw (Veitenhans). Other members are Jim Cochran and Doug Baker. The group has been touted as "the best dance band in the Pacific Northwest". They have been received enthusiastically by large audiences at The Night Tacoma Danced, Semiahmoo Resort, Tacoma Bi-Centennial Pavillion, Washington Athletic Club, Tacoma Dome, Rainier Club, and Seattle's Sheridan, Olympic and Westin Hotels. Flashback drew a large crowd for last month's Memorial weekend dance.

Plant a garden

by Terry Thomas

This is a good time to plant a lateseason garden. There still is time to plant many vegetable seeds. Peas, green beaus, radish and carrots are all short season grops and should do well. Bush beans are a good kind of heart to grow because they produce a lot of beans in a short time.

To get started dig up your garden area. Pull out all the gross and weeds. Big. rocks should also be removed. Break up the dirt so its fluffy and easy to dig.

When planning your garden, plant peas in the back or on the north side. You can figure our where the north side is using a compass or by using the sun rise (in the east) and set (west).

Mix carrot and radish seeds together and sprinkle over an area, cover with a small amount of dirt and press down. As you harvest the radishes it will leave room for the carrots to grow.

Keep the weeds pulled away from your plants and hoe between the rows.

Your garden will need about I inch of water per week. Use a clean tin can for a rain gauge. Measure 1 meh from the bottom up and mark can with a waterproof pen. Place can in the middle of your garden. As you water your garden it will fill the can. When water reaches the 1 inch. mark on the can, your garden will have enough water. Use a sprinkler instead of hand watering for even moisture.

Water gauges make great gitts for your parents or grandparents who like to garden. It's also a good way to recycle tin cans. Have fun in your summer garden.

fourth of July since America was founded. Today, more fireworks are shut off for the Fourth of July in America than for any other national calebration in the woold.

The way a firework sparkles, sounds and the colors it shows are determined by the "ingredients" and the way they are packed into the firework easing. Black powder, or old fashioned gun powder, is the basic ingredient used in fireworks. Chemicals are used for the colors: charonal or iron hum with a bright orange, strontion salts makes red and barium nitrate burns bright green. Blue is the most difficult color to make.

Whatever kind of firework you like, remember that they all make fire. Fire will burn you whether you are bigor little, and whether you want it to ernot. I talked with fireman Rick Olson about some of the ways people have gotten burn using foreworks. He said many kids get burned by sparkters. Sparklers are so pretty that it's easy to forget they're very hot. Last year some kids were burned because they were barefoot and stepped on sporklers on the ground. Even after fireworks go out. they are but. Kids also have caught their hair on five or burned their hands. Some people last year also started brush fires because they used fireworks too close to dry grass.

Be sure to have an adult around when you have fireworks, even sparkfers. When Greworks are being ht, stay away. Don't throw freworks. Have a metalbucket of water ready to put fireworks in after they are used. You can also use an empty garbage can; you don't need water in it. Just put all your used fireworks in and cover with the lid.

Don't carry unlit fireworks anywhere in your pockets: People have also been hurt that way. Think ahead and you'll be time. The firefighters all like kuls, so they don't want to see any of you burned on the fourth of July.

Want to play Soccer?

Soccer players ages 6 through 12 can go to the Skyhawka Soccer Academy Basic Camp July 9-13, 9 am to 3 pm at Key Peninsula Middle School in Lakebay. Fee is $54; you get camp, a T shirt and soccer ball.

You must be registered at least one week in advance at Lakewood Commumity Center or you can call Pierce County Parks and Recreation for a Skyhawks application at 1-593-4176.

Nah, I'd rather play football...

Personal Youth Football is offering. a more youth football camp this summer at the Volunteer Park in Key Center. The camp will run from 5:30 to 8:30 pm, Tuesday July 24 to Thursday July 26. It is open to kids cruering the fourth grade through the ninth grade.

It will be a fundamentals camp for those kids who will be playing feethall or want to learn some of the needed skills to play in the future. The cost is $25 per player, fee includes a camp shirt. For more information regarding the campand the upcoming football season, please call. Coonie Word at 884-9717. (You could give the calling job to your parents.)

...or do you love horses more than anything?

There is a new group in Longbranch called the "Longbrancheres," and they want families that like to ride to join. There is a nice arena already built at the Longbranch Improvement Club in Langbranch and that is where they hold playdays and other events. They will also he holding events at Pinneer Days, including one the NEWS will definitely be there to take pictures for: animal dressup. There is an article and an entry form

Then there is all that other stuff at Pioneer

Mrs. "D" wants all of you to know that there will be kids' hobbies and crafts on display at Pioneer Day. If you collect something, or have artwork or things you have made that you would like to display, look for the registration form on page 11.

Speaking of Pioneer Day, the fishgond had a whole lot of work done on it this year so the fishin' should be better than ever.

or do you want to make a salmon stamp? (Instead of bite.)

The Washington Department of Fisheries has opened the competition for the design of its 1991 Salmon stamp. The winning art will be on salmon fishing

This year two new entry divisions have been added for grades 6-8 and 9-12. Student artists also have the option of emering their work in the General (adult) competition. The first place artist in the General division will receive $500 and his or her design will go on the fishing licenses. The winning youth artists will be awarded $150 (9-12) and $100 (6-8) prizes and their work will be displayed.

The 1991 theme is about the importance of protecting the natural habitat for salmon, so the theme for this year's contest is "Where it all begins - naturally", Artenuries must portray young salmon in their habitat. Any species of salmon canbe shown. August 31 is the deadline for entries; judging will take place September 5.

To get a copy of the contest rules and an entry form write to: Salmon Stamp Contest, Washington Department of Fisheries, Office of Information and Education (MS:AX-11), 115 General Administration Building, Olympia,

Or maybe you'd like to read about... salmon, or bears, or somebody's adventures, or gardening, or how to make doll clothes or put on a play or make a slingshot...

You can do all that at the Key Center. Library. If they don't have the book you want, the librarians will look through the computer files of all the books in all the Pierce County libraries for you. If they find what you want, they will order it and have it sent to the Key Center branch for you. Pretty cout, huh? They also have virientages to check out.

Justin case you didn't know, you can ger your own library card. Reading something you like can make the most buring day go by in a big hurry, keep you nice. and quiet so your mom stays in a good mood and make you ten times smarter! Well, maybe not, but reading is a great summer thing to do. The library has a special program this year that you can read about on puge 8.

On the other hand, maybe a trip to the museum?

The Children's Museum of Taroma. has an exhibit called "Kastles, Knights, Kids" that is supposed to be very good. The whole museum has been turned into a medieval town that you can walk through and touch; something you can't always do in museums. So your buse brother and sister can go too! (Is that good or bad?)

Anyway, the museum is open Tues day through Saturday from noon to 4:30 pm. "Kasıles, Knights, Kids" will be there until August 4 and then the museum will close for a few months while they get the next exhibit ready. It costs $2 per person to get in, with a maximum family price of $8. The Children's Museum is at 915 Court C in Tacoma. The phone number is 627-2436,

Goodwill Games - advertising for Washington state

The state Department of Trade and Economic Development has produced a tourism television campaign that will be seen by millions of people in over 80 countries prior to the 1990 Goodwill

The twelve 15-second television spots promote tourism destinations throughout the state and are appearing on channels of the Turner Broadcasting System worldwide.

The Goodwill Games, which will be televised worldwide, are expected to draw 2,500 journalists to the state to cover

A print advertising campaign will reach about 59 million people, through the magazines Travel and Leisure, Travel-Holiday, Conde Nast Traveler, Sunset, National Geographic Traveler, USA Weekend, Family Circle, Better Homes & Gardens, American West, Motorland and the Rotarian,

"The Goodwill Games, along with its cultural events and trade spinoffs, present a once-in-a-lifetime opportunity for a tremendous amount of the right kind of publicity for the state," said DTED director Ken Gouldthorpe. "We believe that the residual effects from the media exposure we will receive this year will benefit the tourism industry of Washington for many years to come."

The tourism industry in Washington generates nearly twice as much revenue today ($4.5 billion) as it did 10 years ago, while employment (60,000 people) in the industry has risen by 50% during the same period.

(from Team Washington News, Spring 1990)

In our area, the members of the Key Peninsula Business Association produced a pamphlet highlighting the Key Peninsula to attract visitors who are in Washington attending the games.

Local Attorney opens Key Center office

Born in Chicago, Glen Pszczola came to Washington in 1981 to attend law school and has remained in Washington ever since. For the last three years, Mr. Pszczola has operated from his home. He made the decision to permanently locate an office on the Key Peninsula because working here people still do "business on a handshake." Mr. Pszczola has a general practice with a focus on real property. He extends an open invitation to drop by his downtown Key Center office and get acquainted during the week of July 2 through 6.

Mr. Pszczola decided to become an attorney as a teenager after his 1963 restored Rambler classic was totaled in an accident. After weeks of discussions with the insurance company, who refused to give him more than $300 (the official bluebook value) for the car, Mr Pszczola went in desperation to an attorney. By that afternoon the insurance company was treating him with new respect and he had made a career decision.

New trends at the Harvest Time

Jerry High, new owner of the Harvest Time Country Store, has recently taken over the operation of the deli as well. He plans to offer the same items with the addition of fried chicken and

If you've seen some strange looking HT pins around, they came from the Harvest Time Store. Wearing one into the store gets you a free item. When we talked to Mr. High recently, it was coffee, but he has plans to offer other items in the future.

Obituaries

It is with deep regret that we report the death of our Peninsula friend and neighbor . . .

Norma E. Scott, 69, died June 12, 1990 after a prolonged illness. Born on December 9, 1920, she was raised in Portland, Oregon and came back to Seattle in 1963, where she met and married Robert R. Scott in October of that year. She moved to Home in February of 1964. Norma was a housewife for the last 10 years after retiring from a bookkeeping job with Telephone Utilities.

She is survived by her husband Robert R. Scott from Home; sons Daniel Tollefson of Montana and Edward Eivers of Portland; step-sons Gary Scott of Seattle and Terry Scott of Tacoma; step-daughter Marilyn Scott of St. Paul, Minnesota; brothers Donald and Herbert Dynge of California; eight grandchildren and 1 geat grandchild.

Graveside services were held Friday, June 15, 1990 at Haven of Rest Memorial Park. Remembrances may be made to Pierce County Fire District #16, 8911 Key Peninsula Hwy KPN, Lakebay, WA 98349.
