

The Joshua tree, noted for its grotesque shape, grows to an average height of 20 to 30 feet, sometimes spreads to 20 feet. Many desert birds nest in its spiny branches and Indians use the small red surface roots for weaving baskets.

Dear Nannie - Received American Stores check, forwarded by you for which thanks. This is first rec'd.

I am wondering if you suff of a little present which I sent registered mail Dec 15th? If not please let me know.

Its just as well I didnt leave here Dec 26, other things have come up here & no special reason to hurry to N.Y. A Chinese theatre group arrives here this week from Shanghai, with whom I may have some dealings, etc etc

Weather has been unusually cold for these parts but with considerable bring sunshine.

No news of special interest

Love

Tom
