NEIGHBORHOOD NEWS FROM WAUNA TO LONGBRANCH

March, 1982 Volume IX, Issue 3

TELEPHONE COMPANY SEEKS RATE INCREASE

The telephone rate increase has sparked many heated discussions in recent months. Mr. Don Dennis, division general manager of the Gig Harbor branch of Telephone Utilities of Washington met with a staff reporter to answer questions about the new rates and continuing service problems.

Mr. Morris began by explaining that when the Utilities Commission receives a rate increase application the requesting company's books are meticulously audited to see if an increase is warranted.

Mr. Morris stated that despite inflation and the installation of new equipment the phone company has not increased its basic rates in the past nineteen years. "I believe that even with the increase our rates are lower than those in surrounding areas", he declared.

Current service disruptions are higher than normal because they are still repairing damage caused by the storm last November and a power surge on February 9 according to Mr. Morris. He said each service box must be checked and all burned-out circuitry replaced.

Mr. Morris says that high voltage power lines in the area are partially responsible for the static and interference we have been experiencing and is unavoidable. Another contributing factor is the escape of electricity from the lines. In February, the Peninsula Light Company and Telephone Utilities crews coordinated efforts to rectify this problem by a process they call "balancing". This procedure minimizes the amount of electricity escaping from the lines. As a result, electrical interference will be reduced.

Should you still be experiencing problems, however, the following procedures were recommended:

1. report the service problem as soon as possible. The phone number is located on the first page of your telephone directory.
2. give your name, phone number and location so repair crews can more quickly identify the problem area.

COUNTY LIBRARY DISTRICT TAX LEVY ISSUE

A March 9 ballot issue will decide whether the Pierce County Library District will retain its regular property tax levy of 50¢ per $1,000 assessed valuation, or will have its funding reduced to about 42¢ per $1,000 by the State's 106% lid law. Eligible to vote on the issue are residents of all unincorporated areas of the County plus residents of Eatonville, Orting, Steilacoom and Sumner.

According to Library Director Carolyn Else, without a successful ballot issue the district will fall about $150,000 short of what will be needed to continue present service levels in 1983.

The lid law limits taxing districts to annual property tax revenue increases of 6%. For the library, as for fire districts, property tax is nearly its entire base of financial support.

The lid law allows voters to override it for one year at a time. Under this provision the March 9 election, if successful, would exempt 1983 library property tax collections only. The difference in tax paid would be about 8¢

ARTS AND CRAFTS FAIR TABLES AVAILABLE NOW

Look ahead to the spring Arts and Crafts Fair. It is growing to be the largest in the history of Key Peninsula Fairs and will be held at the Civic Center on April 3rd between 10:00 AM and 4:00 PM.

It is an excellent opportunity to find that special something for Easter. There will be a wide variety of handmade arts and crafts. Some of the things that might be found are children's and adult's quilts, baby clothing, jewelry, china, chocolates, Easter foods, and plants. These are but a few of the many articles available from which to choose.

If you wish to reserve a table call in early as they are going fast. A $10.00 fee will be charged for each table. For reservations call Mary Seidelman, 884-2448 or Maureen Taylor, 884-4437.

Food and beverages will be available throughout the day.

NEW RESIDENCE NUMBERS FOR KEY PENINSULA

New addresses are coming to our Key Peninsula. Patrons on the Vaughn and Lakebay routes received notice late in December to call the County Building Department (593-4580) to arrange to receive their correct house number. There is a backlog of calls now but the building department will contact everyone as soon as possible. There will be new maps of the area with all the new street names.

Fire Chief Med Schwenka said to put up your new numbers as soon as possible. You might locate the numbers on mailboxes, road entrances, and any separate driveways off the main road. It would be very good to put the numbers on the house itself. Chief Schwenka stated that many times persons call in to report a fire or aid call and know the route and box number but do not know the road name. This new system should save time in answering calls.

If you live on a long private road, you might have a name for it. You can have private roads registered, so call Mr. Schwenka for details if you are interested.

The post office will provide cards for you to notify magazines of your changes of address. Remember to have them stamped at the post office and you will not have to pay postage on them.

Persons on the Gig Harbor routes will be notified later this year concerning new addresses. Continue to use the old ones until then, but be sure you know the name of your road in case of an emergency.

YOUR PREZ SEZ:

We at the Civic Center are continuing to strive to keep the Center a full service Center, serving the elderly, the handicapped, young people, and low income as well as other organizations and activities. We do not wish to alienate any group or any person from the Center.

As I mentioned earlier, we still have room for more activities at the Center as well as room for more clubs or organizations. We also have programs that could be sponsored by the Center but they lack committee chairmen. Your participation is cordially requested.

My wife and I, and Dick and Vicki Hale took over the Skating Session on Friday, February 12th, while Dale and Claudia Loy were on holiday. I was happy to see so many of the parents who came, either to watch or skate with their children. I would like to encourage more parents to come and skate, it makes a great family sport.

Again I would like to welcome anyone who wishes to come to our board meetings, but be careful, we might put you to work.

NEWSLETTER STAFF INVITES NEWS

The Newsletter staff will try to bring you news and features of interest to the community. If you know of a happening in the community or your neighborhood that deserves attention please tell us. There is a wide variety of events that could be used. Let us hear of them. Do you know someone new to the area, a new business, visitors, weddings, births, or travelers?

It isn't necessary to write the news item if you don't wish. Just tell us of the event, or person, and any information you can obtain. Our reporters will make contacts and write the article. News stories should answer the questions; Who? What?, Where?, When?, Why?, How?.

Feature stories can be on any subject of interest. They can be informative, chatty, or just amusing. If you have an idea for a feature story, write it and send it to the Newsletter.

This month we have started Your Opinion which is a letters to the editor column. We encourage you to use it.

We will include all, as space allows, if not one month, then another. For obvious reasons the editors and copy writers reserve the right to edit or rewrite all copy except letters to the editor

To get your copy or information to us you may drop it off in the office or leave it with the caretakers at the Civic Center. There is also an envelope at Walt's Fine Foods where articles can be left. Or, you can call one of the editors: Ricole Schottland, 884-2951 or Elaine Williams, 884-3555.

Any material submitted should include a name and telephone number we can call if we have questions.

more per $1,000 of assessed property value, or, for example, a total of about $4.80 more for the year on a home valued at $60,000.

The law will return to limit revenue in any following year without a voter override. The library continues to benefit from the override, however, since 1983's higher revenue level would form the base on which future years' levies will be calculated.

Should the ballot proposition fail, the County Library Board of Trustees will choose which services to cut in order to balance the budget. In 1974-75 revenue shortages not related to the 106% lid law caused major cuts in library service hours, book purchasing and staffing levels.

The district has been rebuilding since that time, as well as expanding to meet growing demand for service, and has avoided major cutbacks through voter approved 106% lid law overrides in 1976, 1977 and 1980.

Little by Little

By Ruth Little

One hundred years ago when wars were fought with guns, often with the soldiers on horses, Mark Twain wrote this very cynical war prayer: "O Lord, our God, help us to tear their soldiers to bloody shreds with our shells, and help us to drown the thunder of the guns with the shrieks of their wounded. Help us to lay waste their homes with a hurricane of fire; help us to wring the hearts of their unoffending widows - help us to turn them out roofless with their children, to wander undefended in the waste of their desolate land, in rags, hunger and thirst. Lord blast their hopes, blight their lives, protract their bitter pilgrimage - water their way with their tears.

We ask it in the name of the Spirit of Love of Him who is the source of love and the friend of all the sore beset."

What would Mark Twain say today? War then was a Sunday school picnic compared to the neutron bomb or some of the war chemicals being produced now.

Are we by our tacit approval guilty of atrocity? It's frightening!

Now for something less tragic. I'm always amazed at the things left at any public place. The following is a partial list of what was found at Yosemite National park in just one season; 6 human skulls (partial), 487 pairs of glasses, 3 automobile bodies, 109 single shoes, 16 toupees, 4 full wigs (one turquoise), 41 sleeping bags, a bathtub, 2 church pews with cushions, 4028 lipsticks, 24 bins of tin and aluminum cans and 4 typewriters. There was much more. I selected a few of the more bizarre items.

And now in case you've been reading the newspapers that seem to be full of burglaries, murders, etc., and have forgotten how many kind, friendly persons there are around us, here's a true story that happened recently to friends of mine. They are an old couple who were in Gig Harbor having a meal at one of the many nice restaurants there. When they finished eating and asked for the check, the waitress said their meals were paid for and she pointed to a man eating at a nearby table who had paid their check. My friend, who told me of the incident, said she was "in shock" and hadn't even given their name to their kind donor, who said he was rather new to this community. They did of course exchange a few words but she feels they parted without letting him know that they deeply appreciated his kindness and show of friendliness.

Your Opinion

TELEPHONE COMPANY

Most of us are aware that the Telephone Utilities Co. of Washington is asking the Utilities Commission for permission to increase their rates. What most of us do not know is what we can do about it.

The majority of people here are stuck with party lines. In most places party lines have been obsolete for at least 25 years!

Now that the company has put in its new wonderful equipment, we have to give our numbers to an operator who cuts in every time we dial direct long distance. Many people have to call long distance for doctors, their children's schools and even the simplest business calls. For most of us, these charges add up to much higher phone bills than people on the Bell System where the boundary for local calls is much larger.

For the services we receive our bills are too high already. Many times the phones do not work at all. Other times they work, but static and humming noises distort the voices. It seems that we should be paid to be used as guinea pigs while they try to get it right!

There is something that we can do about stopping this raise in our rates. On February 5, 1982 I wrote a letter to the Utilities Commission, Highways and Licensing Building, 7th floor, Olympia, Wa. 98504. I urge others to do the same and ask you to send me a copy at P.O. Box 346, Vaughn, Wa. 98394. I, along with others, plan to go to Olympia March 9th. The Commission will review this increase, and I would like to take some copies of letters with me. Anyone wishing to come along is most certainly welcome.

In my letter, I have proposed that the TU of Washington receive an increase in their rates when they do the following:

1. Party lines be discontinued;
2. All calls this side of the Narrows Bridge in Pierce County be made local.
3. Clean up the static and noises in the lines.

If we can get enough people to state their dissatisfaction, the commission will surely take notice.

Thank you,
Joy S. Ozier

My great-granddaughter, Erin, just 3 years old, who lives out on the Aleutians, was busy one day last week tracing with colored crayons, the outlines of her mother's cookie cutters on each arm. They had recently had a man working for them whose arms were tattooed.

KPAA GAME NIGHT

The Key Peninsula Athletic Association (Volunteer Park) game night that was to be held March 6, 1982 has been cancelled.

Though our organization believes we were in compliance with all written statutes governing such events, the State Gambling Commission's interpretation of those Statutes has disallowed our membership, as defined in the By-Laws of this organization the Gambling Commission recognizes only the Board of Directors as members. The Commission has ruled our total membership to be inadequate for the purpose of holding a fund-raising game night.

The K.P.A.A. has not in the past demanded dues as a requirement of membership. Our only requirement is that a person must reside in Fire District #16 (the area serviced by the park) and be interested in the park and its activities.

To those 80 or more people who meet the membership requirements as determined by this organization, as set forth in the By-Laws of this organization and who were willing to commit their time and energies to this project; also, to those many more, outside the Park District, who were anticipating this event our thanks for your support and interest.

We hope, in the near future, to clarify our membership qualifications to the satisfaction of the Gambling Commission and to re-apply for a license.

With Appreciation,
K.P.A.A. Board of Directors

TWO TO MEXICO

Each year Peninsula High School offers its advanced Spanish students the opportunity to take part in a cultural exchange program organized through the Tacoma School District.

This year, two students from the Key Peninsula have been recommended by their instructor as candidates for the spring trimester trip. Shawn Tovey of Lakebay, and Wendy Hunter from the Vaughn area will leave for Mexico City in April. They will travel to another area to stay with host families. They will attend school and take part in the regular daily routine of their families.

Shawn and Wendy are presently selling tickets for a drawing to be held March 17 at Foss High School. A variety of prizes donated by area merchants include dinner at the Lobster House, gift certificates from Ragamuffin, and many others. Approximately 50 prizes have been donated.

Raffle tickets are $1 each or 6 for $5. The proceeds will help finance their trip.

3. priority will be given to those with a special need for service, such as heart patients, so be sure to inform them of such circumstances when you call.

When questioned about the possible elimination of toll charges between the Key Peninsula and Gig Harbor, Mr. Morris stated emphatically that the phone company has no such plans now or in the future. He did admit that a petition drive by residents could be presented to the Utilities Commission requesting an "Extended Area Calling" study but that such a study would be time-consuming and, if successful, might necessitate another rate hike. As an alternative, he suggested subscribing to their Toll Pac service.

Toll Pac is free and offers a forty percent discount on station to station daytime calls to three pre-determined localities. When subscribing to Toll Pac the customer selects up to three locations within a forty air-mile radius. This could include cities as far away as Seattle or Kent. The customer guarantees to use the service at least thirty minutes per month and is billed accordingly. A comparison sheet is included with each billing to enable the customer to see the exact amount of savings each month. This service may be discontinued without penalty if the customer so chooses.

ALYCE'S ANNEX CAFE AND ANTIQUES

In Longbranch, overlooking Felucy Bay, is a unique cafe, Alyce's Annex. It is adjacent to Wartenbe's Mercantile. Mrs. Alyce Wartenbe is the owner, cook, waitress and cashier. She creates a pleasant atmosphere in which to eat, enjoy and relax.

The menu is varied and consists of such home-made edibles as clam chowder, turkey soup, sandwiches, pies and cheesecake. These are tasty and the portions are generous. All tables offer a view and it's possible to contemplate the panorama of the bay, marina and, on clear days, Mt. Rainier in the distance.

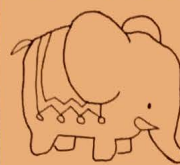

Take the time to browse through the rooms of antique and new collectibles that are for sale. Among the antiques are handpainted china, furniture, clocks and a collection of oil lamps. There is a variety of handmade dolls which are made by Dorothy Blankenship and Mrs Eads. On the counter are some boxes of cards decorated with dried flowers arranged in attractive designs. These are created by Mrs. Lavine Moore, Bob Wartenbe's sister.

At present the Annex is open from 10:00 AM to 4:00 PM and is closed Mondays and Tuesdays. Alyce hopes to be open more days and perhaps longer hours when the weather gets warmer.

LAND USE QUESTIONNAIRE

A computer compiled report on results of the survey made last July by the Key Peninsula Land Use Committee (KeyPLUC) has just been completed; the survey covered the area of Pierce County west and south of the Gig Harbor Plan area (which ends at the section line followed by Cramer Road where it crosses Rt. 302.) Since the Pierce County Planning Department is now developing a growth management plan for the entire county, we felt it was important to have comprehensive information on what Key Peninsula residents think about the land where they live or work before the County's plans are made. We expect results of the questionnaire to have a significant impact upon the County's final plan.

The following is an abridged form of the questionnaire. Adjacent to each of the choices for each question is the number of respondents who selected that particular choice as well as the percentage of total responses this constitutes. All answers were treated as strictly confidential.

A total of 1858 questionnaires were distributed; of these, 1028 were returned. There were over 1900 individual respondents to the questionnaire because questions # 5 through #20 called for replies from each member of a household, age 18 or older; thus, within this group of questions there was a greater number of respondents.

A good deal of effort was put forth by KeyPLUC volunteers to create as valid a questionnaire as possible. It is hoped that these survey results will help us all to understand how we as a community feel about the course of future growth and development on the Key Peninsula. In this connection it is interesting to note those features of the area which have influenced most of us in choosing it as a place to live.

As the County-wide plan is developed it is anticipated that there will be public meetings and other opportunities for citizen input. The results of the KeyPLUC questionnaire should be particularly useful in this process. A copy of the full questionnaire and its results has been given to the County Planning Department and a copy is also available at the Key Center Library.

KeyPLUC would like to express their thanks to all residents who participated in any way with this questionnaire and to the University of Puget Sound Computer Services Department for their help in processing all of the information.

Following the questionnaire is a summary of the highlights.

HIGHLIGHTS

When looking at as many numbers as are listed above, it's easy to miss or lose sight of some of the highlights. For instance, when percentages of the answers to the question regarding fellings about population growth are combined, it develops that 86% of the respondents said they wanted the population to grow more slowly, and 33% said they don't want the population to grow at all. By the same kind of aggregation of answers, we also see that while 38% want minimum lot sizes of less than 1 acre, 57% want 1 acre or more, and 32% want minimum lot sizes of 2½ acres or more.

At the first few meetings on land use in the Fall of 1980 (at one meeting, there were over 100 people), an issue that was brought up by several people and that seemed to be of concern to many was that their retirement income, and consequently their security during their later years, was dependent upon the subdivision and sale of parcels of their property. In answering the question whether respondents were dependent on subdivision and/or sale of their land for future income, 11% said yes and 80% said no.

It is interesting to note that there are some positive correlations between answers. For instance, answers to the question of why people moved here and to the two questions about commercial development correlate positively. Specifically, of all those who gave an opinion to both questions on commercial development, 69% said they want commercial development confined to Key Center, Home and Longbranch; an almost equal 65% said they moved here because of the rural, sparsely-settled character of the area. In addition, 57% said they moved here because it's scenic. These feelings were expressed again on the openended questions at the end of the questionnaire. People were asked to write what they wanted to see happen and what they didn't want to see happen in the next ten years regarding appearance, life style and atmosphere on the Key Peninsula. There was also room for additional comments. A large number of people took the extra time and effort to write in answers. All responses to these open-ended questions were tallied together, and the three most often mentioned concerns were to remain rural (595 people), to restrict growth (462 people) and to restrict shopping centers (407 people).

NOTES:

- NOTE A: "%" figures are percentage of respondents answering this question.
- NOTE B: Figures pertain only to the first respondent per questionnaire.
- NOTE C: Figures pertain only to the first respondent per questionnaire. "%" figures are percentage of those marking a response other than "not applicable."

KEY CENTER TAVERN OFFERS NEW MENU

The Key Center Tavern is celebrating its first year under the management of Phil & Jackie Arps with the completion of a brand new kitchen.

The new kitchen allows preparation of a much wider variety of popular foods. The favorite with customers so far is the Chicken & JoJo's, served with cole slaw and French bread. Also on the new menu are fish, hot dogs, chili dogs, French dip sandwiches and roast beef sandwiches. Side orders of deep fried mushrooms are becoming a favorite snack.

RESPONSIBLE REPRESENTATION FOR DISTRICT 26

Ms. Barbara Granlund, a member of the House of Representatives for the 26th District, is trying to be as responsible in representing her constituents and the best interests of the state as she possibly can during these economically difficult times, according to a letter she recently wrote to Mr. Bob Schottland. In order to do this she needs the people to keep her informed about their concerns.

She stated that she did not vote for the sales tax increase during the special session because she feels that before we look at tax increases, we had better get our priorities straight with regard to the type of budget cuts that need to be made. She went on to say she is not going to support any tax increase on existing revenue sources at this time.

Ms. Granlund also believes that it is essential to revitalize small businesses rather than endangering them since they are, collectively, the largest employer in the state.

Silver Threads

A van load of enthusiastic theater goers went to Seattle recently for the popular musical Seven Brides for Seven Brothers.

Clem Kurz, who is temporarily living in Olympia during the legislative session, made arrangements for a van load of seniors to tour the capitol in early February.

Attendance was better than usual during late January when a melodramatic floor show was billed. The heroine was clapped, the villain was hissed, and the hero arrived in time to save the day. The Society is proud of its Thespian, Eleanor Stock, who put on an excellent performance.

Seniors are serving refreshments during the month of February for the bingo games at the Civic Center.

Sandy Newhouse gave an excellent presentation at the February 17th meeting about the exciting things being planned for the Key Peninsula Health Center. Much interest was shown by Senior Society.

An attempt is being made to tell the story of the KPHC to as many service clubs as are interested. If your club has not been contacted and you would care to have a speaker for your next meeting, call the Health Center, or Eleanor Stock, who is scheduling speakers.

At a recent meeting of the Senior Society a survey was completed by the members regarding the senior lounge. According to the results, the members decided that the lounge would not be used enough to warrant the added expense.

A new activity has been added to the list of fun things to do--shuffleboard. Much practicing is going on with a tournament in mind for the future.

Soon spring will be here with its new weather, new flowers and, we hope, new members for the Key Peninsula Senior Society. Remember there are no dues, and all who are fifty five or over are more than welcome. Come and enjoy the fellowship and activities with others. The time again--every Thursday at noon, a potluck in the Gold Room of the Civic Center.

NEW LUTHERAN CHURCH PLANS PROGRESSING

Plans are being completed for the first unit of the building for Key Peninsula Lutheran Church. The location will be at the corner of Lackey Road, and the Longbranch highway. Much of the land has been cleared and levelled in preparation for work to begin this spring. Many persons in the community have donated trees and members are using a sawmill to cut the lumber. It is hoped to have most of the dimensional lumber ready by the time building begins.

Key Peninsula Lutheran Church is having special Wednesday evening services during the Lenten season. They are centered around the theme "The Cross and the Common Person." These will be practical, down-to-earth messages to help persons in their everyday lives. The meetings are held in homes with a soup supper at 6:30 p.m. and the service following, to conclude by 7:45. If you are interested in attending, call 884-3606 for further details.

POWDER PUFF FOOTBALL

The football field at Peninsula High School will be the scene of the Powder Puff Football Game March 6 at 7:30 PM. It will be a match between the Junior and the Senior girls teams.

For the first time the girls will be suited up in full pad outfits. The rules of tackle football will be observed.

A raffle is planned with more than one prize. Tickets can be obtained at the game. For information about the game or raffle call Mike Tovey at 884-3878.

This is a fund-raising activity, the proceeds going to all football programs at the high school.

NEW BOY AT B, SAGLES

Brint and Jeanne Sagle announce the arrival of their third child, a son, Coby Gale, on February 17. Coby weighed 8 pounds 4 ounces and was 20½ inches long. He will join brothers Bowie and Jeremy at home.

Proud grandparents are Mr. and Mrs. Stan Rippon and Mr. and Mrs. Wilmer Sagle.

SQUARE DANCERS

The Skirts-N-Flirts Square Dance Club would like to invite all graduate dancers to their March 20th Wearin O' the Green dance.

Workshop begins at 8:00 PM with the dance from 8:30-11:30 PM.

Green costumes are optional and the club will be serving green finger food. There will be many fun things happening so please join us for this dance.

KEY PENINSULA LIBRARY

A few of the many new books at the library now are Lawrence Welk's latest book, "You're Never Too Young", and "Celebrity Homes II", which shows the private worlds of thirty international personalities.

If you are planning a trip, "Trouble-Free Travel" has many excellent ideas to avoid problems. For cooks there is the "Better Homes and Gardens New Cookbook". For all the Peg Bracken fans there is her delightful "A Window In My Kitchen".

An interesting speaker on vegetable gardens will present a program at the library on March 9th at 7:30 PM.

Remember the new hours.

Dr. Scott R. Drake explains procedures to Sharon Miles.

"We believe in learning about our new banking customers in the Purdy area," stresses Sharon Miles, Assistant to the Purdy manager.

"This a true statement," says Scott R. Drake, D.D.S., M.S., who has opened the Purdy area's first orthodontic practice. He has completed his Master of Science degree in his specialty following Army service in the dental clinic at Madigan Army Hospital at Ft. Lewis. A Michigan native, he has returned to the Peninsula area to care for the unusual dental problems of growing children and adults.

PAST AND PRESENT

Now there is a Longbranch Automotive Garage operated by Jerry Hanson of Herron Island. Years ago at this site was a two-story building known first as Library Hall which was free from taxation. Later it was known as the German Hall. In the '20's the original building was dismantled. The top floor was used for dances, the lower floor for a small library and dining area.

At high tide a German group known as Sons of Herman would cruise in for their popular dancing and singing. On nice days there were picnics near the hall down by the water. This is where the community celebrated its 4th of July.

SPEECH CRAFTING WORKSHOP

A speech crafting workshop is being offered at Purdy Elementary School. The seven week class will meet Wednesday nights from 7:00 to 9:00. The cost of the workshop is $10. For further information call Delores Nicolai, 851-4074 or 857-4329.

EXERCISE WITH AEROBIC DANCE

A new series of aerobic dance classes begins Monday, March 8th. Classes will be held Monday and Thursday mornings from 9:30 to 10:30. There will be two sessions Monday evenings from 6:00 to 7:00 and from 7:00 to 8:00, and one session on Thursdays from 7:00 to 8:00 PM.

Anyone wishing more information may call Vicki Henschel, 884-3642.

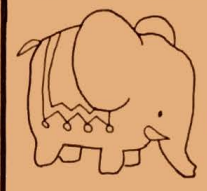

KEY PENINSULA BOOSTERS

The Key Peninsula Boosters are holding a breakfast meeting at Huckleberry Inn on March 9 at 7:00 AM.

The speakers will be Roy Denton from R.E.A.C.T. and Phil Dougherty, who will talk about establishing a security patrol in the community.

The meeting is open to the public.

FIRE DEPARTMENT PLANS FOR FUTURE

Medric Schwenka and Horace Kanno, Fire Chief and Deputy Chief of Fire District 16, have gathered together a committee of civic minded citizens to plan for the future needs of the Fire Department. The state has successfully involved citizens in planning the needs and growth of the department and deciding on the ways and means of financing the plan.

The committee will be given an orientation to familiarize them with the current and future problems. The Key Peninsula area is growing so fast that there is a need to plan now for the expected population growth. The department would like to see a long-term plan proposed, perhaps over a five or ten year period.

The aging equipment is one major concern. It is no longer possible to get parts for the 1958 firetrucks. Sometimes the aid cars are the only available transportation to a call. The firefighters are a volunteer staff, with the exception of the Chief and Deputy Chief. During the day, most of those firefighters are at their regular jobs, which leaves a relatively small force should a major fire develop.

BURNING REQUIREMENTS

The Fire Department requests that anyone having questions on burning requirements call 884-2222. If you plan on destroying a structure, contact us; we may be able to help.

KPCC BOARD MINUTES

The meeting was called to order at 7:35 PM.

Due to the resignation of Shirley Frame, secretary, a special election was held in which Donna Bosch was elected secretary for the remainder of the two-year term.

Roll call of the area representatives and organization representatives was called. Some areas have not been represented at the Board Meetings. New representative for Minter area is Scott Doherty.

The minutes of the January 14 meeting were read. A motion was made, seconded, and carried to approve the minutes as read.

Jim Taylor presented the Board with the new tape recorder he had been authorized to purchase for recording Board Meetings. It was decided the tapes of meetings be kept for five years, rather than two years. A motion was made, seconded, and carried to purchase cassette files for storing the tapes.

Old Business

Help is still being solicited for Bingo.

Mike Salatino, business manager for the Newsletter, reported many changes are being made in the paper and its staff to make it a better source of news for the community. Ricole Schottland is the new editor, and Marian Wagner is treasurer. Plans are under way to enlarge the paper with more advertising and reports from board members' respective areas. The Board was asked to advance the Newsletter a sum of $700 to set up its own bank account, thereby being able to keep a closer watch on expenses and profits. Motion was made, seconded, and carried to advance the Newsletter $700 to be paid back to the Center in minimum payments of $50 per month, and monthly balance of said account not to exceed $1,000 in any one month. Any suggestions for improving the Newsletter are welcome.

The KPAA's Reno Night petition has been denied by the State of Washington due to their lack of having a proper list of dues-paying members of their organization. The president reminded representatives of the organizations if the Civic Center does not have such a list, we could be denied our Reno Nights as well.

Judy Williams gave an informative report on the K.P. Health Center, in which she told a brief history of the organization and its progress to date.

Bob Schottland presented the Board with the four bids received for remodeling the kitchen. The low bid was from Hunter Construction in Gig Harbor. Remodeling is expected to take about 90 days to complete. Since HUD does not finance equipment that is not permanently attached to the kitchen, bids for the kitchen equipment will be revised and resubmitted.

A motion was made, seconded, and carried to postpone final decision on the use of the Senior Lounge until the March Board Meeting.

Calendars for scheduled events in 1982 were given to members. People are still needed to chair several events. There is also time available for other fund-raising events if anyone is interested.

There have been problems getting the Center cleaned up after Bingo and ready for Thursday morning Aerobics group. A motion was made, seconded, and carried to discuss this with the boys doing the cleanup to see if they can adjust their schedules to comply with both groups.

New Business

It was moved, seconded, and carried to purchase a new desk for the caretaker to keep important records, etc.

Vickie Henschel has volunteered to contact local antique collectors about having an Antique Show and Sale later this year.

The president requested each group having items at the Center submit a list of these items so they will not be confused with items belonging to the Civic Center. This list will be kept on file, with additions and/or deletions made as necessary.

A motion was made, seconded, and carried for the president to appoint a By-laws Committee of at least four people to review and update the By-laws.

The meeting was adjourned at 10:00 PM.

Respectfully submitted,
Donna Bosch

ANGEL GUILD

The first Angel Guild meeting of the year was held on February 1st at the home of Shirley Olson. President, Vickie Henschel called the meeting to order. The main topic of discussion concerned the Thrift Shop, the proceeds of which help support the Health Center. New ideas were discussed to clean out and upgrade displays and merchandise.

The Angel Guild is a volunteer group which was formed to help support the local health center at Key Center. Their main source of income is the Thrift Shop, located next to Kukura's Nursery in Key Center. The shop is run by guild members and is open from 11:00 AM to 4:00 PM every Friday and Saturday. The Thrift Shop is looking for clothing, household items, sporting goods, etc., which are of good quality and salable. They are also looking for new members who would like to help staff the Thrift Shop.

The meetings of the Angel Guild are held once a month, and the next meeting is on Monday, March 22 at 11:00 AM at the Pierce County Library in Key Center.

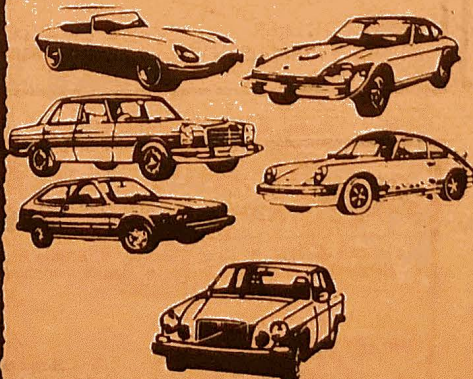

Persons interested may call Vickie Henschel, 884-3642. Stop by the Thrift Shop during business hours or just come to the meeting.

DOLL CLUB SHOW AND SALE

The Pierce County Doll Club is sponsoring a spring doll show and sale on March 27, 1982. The event will be at the V.F.W. Post #91, located at 2000 S. Union Street, Tacoma. The hall is across the street from Allenmore Hospital. The doors will open at 10:30 AM and close at 5:00 PM. There is a fifty cent admission charge.

THERE'S ONE AT EVERY MEETING

THE CONFUSED LISTENER: He tries to be helpful but can't follow the proceedings. He rises to say there's a motion before the house; and has to be told it was rejected half an hour ago. He has a habit of sitting in the last row and of complaining he can't hear. Throughout he carries an outraged attitude of "why don't people tell me these things."

THE PROFESSIONAL SECONDER: He never thinks up an idea, and is so overwhelmed when someone else does, that he comes in with a loud "second the motion". Any non-sensical scheme any one can think up gets his nod.

He then settles back to enjoy the confusion, or dozes until time for him to chime in with another second.

SIGN IN a loan company window: "Now you can borrow enough money to get completely out of debt."

Stephen Groves Cleveland, 22nd and 24th President was born in Caldwell, New Jersey, March 18, 1837 and died in Princeton on June 24, 1908. He worked against the Tammany Hall machine and improved the efficiency of the Executive Branch.

In his second term there was an economic depression. He used his influence to repeal the Sherman Silver Purchase Act and met the crisis.

The only popular action in his second term was his use of the Monroe Doctrine to settle the boundary dispute between Venezuela and British Guiana.

WRITERS' WORKSHOP SCHEDULED

Andrew Jackson, the seventh President of the United States, was born March 15, 1767, in Wexham, S.C. He served in the Revolutionary War at age 13 and was captured by the British. He had a varied career in politics and the military.

When he was elected to the Superior Court in 1798 he accepted because he felt "that the citizens of a free commonwealth should never seek and never decline public duty."

He got the name Old Hickory in the War of 1812 when he exhibited stern discipline and demanded privations of his militiamen and himself.

Jackson was elected President in 1828 but his victory was dampened by the death of his wife on December 22, 1828.

He brought a new spirit to the presidency. He was a champion of the masses and the new West. The new meaning he gave the term Democracy was his greatest gift to the country.

GOOD NUTRITION HABITS BEGIN WITH PARENTS

Children generally learn good eating habits from parents who consider good nutrition important. "Children learn to eat the foods they are served," says County Extension Agent Olga Fuste.

The process starts with nutrition-conscious parents who usually prepare, serve and eat a greater variety of foods. The more foods a child will eat, the better the child's nutrition.

Parents have a responsibility to teach their children good eating habits and good attitudes about nutrition. The best time to develop these habits is during the child's preschool years. A child entering school with good eating habits will usually continue eating more nutritious foods and fewer low-quality snacks.

To build good eating habits, serve a wide variety of foods in the home. Try a new food as often as once a week. Use foods that are low in fat and high in starch and fiber like raw fruits and vegetables and whole grain cereals. Talk to the child about the color and texture of the food as well as changes in color or appearance as the food is stirred or cooked. Point out the four food tastes: sweet, sour, salty and bitter.

To minimize mealtime problems make meals as relaxed and comfortable as possible. Give children attention during the meal. Allow children to serve themselves as often as possible. Show respect for the child's opinions.

Should problems develop in spite of your best efforts, relax and be creative in overcoming them.

Let children help plan the menus or shop for and prepare a simple food for a meal. Turn an ordinary meal into a pretend picnic, a party or a trip to a restaurant. Play "What is it?" After placing a food in the child's mouth, let the child guess what it is. The child may ask questions that can be answered with a yes or a no. If your attitude is pro-nutritional, the child will probably develop good eating habits as well.

VAUGHN SCHOOL CARNIVAL

Polish your boots and dust that Stetson for the country-western carnival at Vaughn Elementary School this Friday, March 5th, from 6:00 to 9:00 PM. The Parent Group invites the entire community to join in the festivities.

Have your favorite "outlaw" thrown into the hoosegow or test your luck and skill at one or all of the twelve game booths in the gym. Games will include such favorites as the duck pond, fish pond, tic-tac-toss, cowboy shoot and football throw. Popcorn and balloons will also be available in the gym.

The ever-popular plant booth will be back to tempt all the green thumbs anxious for spring; while Granny's attic will offer books and white elephants for the bargain hunter.

There will be both a cake walk and cupcake hop, but if you don't win, Granny's pantry will provide you the opportunity to purchase take-home desserts.

Chili, hot dogs, home-made pie, coffee and pop will be available in the Kountry Kitchen, to bring your appetite.

Thanks to the generosity of local merchants and residents the raffle prize list is still growing. First prize is a hind-quarter of beef, second prize is a portable black and white T.V. and

SPAGHETTI DINNER SUCCESSFUL EVENT

The Key Peninsula Middle School Parent Group, the school staff and students want to thank the entire community for its support of the spaghetti dinner and raffle on Thursday, February 4th. The event was so successful that the Parent Group will be donating over $1200 to the school library for the purchase of books and materials.

Although more people attended the dinner than had been anticipated, service was surprisingly quick. The eager diners spent the waiting time chatting with old friends, making new ones and listening to the music provided by the Swing Choir under the leadership of Miss. Allen.

Over fifty prizes were donated for the raffle and silent auction. Although we were unable to obtain a list of the winners, the staff of the Newsletter would like to extend them the happy congratulations of the community.

third prize is a cassette recorder. Other prizes include offers of services, certificates, and merchandise. Students are selling tickets at home and around their neighborhood. Tickets may also be purchased at the carnival. You need not be present to win.

Y'all Come!

The Key Peninsula Middle School is certainly one of the newest assets to our community, but little is really known about the school or its programs. Our local newspapers haven't covered all of the many activities and programs at the school, and many Peninsula residents have never seen the new school. Next month's copy of the Key Peninsula Newsletter will take a look at this school and some of its programs.

The KPMS Parent Group will meet in the school commons at 7:30 PM, March 18. Parents are encouraged to attend.

The guest speaker will be Mr. Peter Coleman, who is associated with Lutheran Social Services of Washington. His talk will be on Child Abuse.

We urge all concerned persons to attend.

If you have and no longer use, any of the following items please consider donating them to the Middle School. The items most needed are games such as UNO, Mastermind, Backgammon, checkers, chess and manual typewriters in working or repairable condition.

THANKS!

The staff of the Newsletter would like to thank the Key Peninsula Community Action Center for the use of their typewriter this month when ours broke down.

"FENCING IS OUR BUSINESS - NOT A SIDELINE"

KPAA Hijinks

This issue marks the first of a series of articles published for the purpose of informing you, the members of the Key Peninsula Athletic Association, of the happenings at you Key Peninsula Sports Center--Volunteer Park.

Me a member? As stated in the KPAA By-Laws, "All interested persons residing in Fire District #16 are members of the Key Peninsula Athletic Association...with an equal right to attend meetings and vote in the annual December election of officers and representatives. There are no membership dues and no initiation."

Meetings are held on the last Monday of each month at 7:00 p.m. in the office of the KP Civic Center. Check the Newsletter Calendar for the exact day and time.

This year's Board of Officers and Representative Assembly face the coming season with enthusiasm and brightened spirits. While the County has cut off monetary support for the parks in this area, the voters in our district did pass the M & O levy necessary to keep our park operational. These monies are not immediately available, however. The KPAA Board and Representative Assembly will continue its policy of self-generated income lending additional revenue for park use and thereby lessening the need for further tax burdens on our members.

Fund-raising events to be sponsored by the KPAA this year include, a pre-season baseball tournament and a tennis tournament. Other suggestions being taken under consideration are a fishing derby and a fun run.

The game night planned for March 6 has been cancelled because KPAA was not able to obtain their license from the Gambling Commission at this time.

KPAA sponsored activities serve not only to generate funds, but to promote park use and to provide recreational activities for the community at large. The possibilities of KPAA sponsored activities are unlimited. We need only to hear from you, our members, as to the type and scope of activities you wish offered. If you have an idea or suggestion for an activity you may write the KPAA, P.O. Box 397, Vaughn, WA. 98394, or contact Ann Barbee, Vice-President of Scheduling, at 384-3087 or present your idea in person to the Board at the monthly meeting.

Highlights from the January KPAA Board meeting are presentation of the Annual Financial Summary, discussion of the Game Night project, decision to advertise for both a live-in park-security person and a food concessionaire to operate the stand this season, initiation of a project to study the future development of the approximately 15 remaining acres of park grounds and to draw up a comprehensive set of plans detailing that development.

Coming items for discussion are 1982 fees for use of park facilities, Middle School use of park facilities, prioritized agenda for park projects, renovations and improvements.

Any comments, questions or suggestions pertaining to the information offered in this column are welcome and may be directed to the KPAA Representatives, Mike Harrison, President, Wally Endicott, Vice-President, Dewey Hostetler, Secretary, Avon Gay, Treasurer and Ann Barbee, Vice-President of Scheduling. Questions concerning scheduling of Park facilities for use by individuals, or organizations, should be directed to Ann Barbee, 884-3087.

KEY PENINSULA SCHOOLS NEWS

Vaughn School announces a new reading program for first grade students. During the school year, students will read up to one hundred books with the help of fourth and fifth grade students. The first grade students read to the older students and the older students help them with any problems they may be having. This program, supervised by their teachers, guarantees that each first grade student will have a chance to read the required amount of material.

Parents of Evergreen students can help fight inflation and budget cuts by checking their homes for extra school books and return them to the school. Your school needs your help. Please support them in any way that you can.

Evergreen Elementary School is collecting Campbell Soup labels to redeem for a variety of items. In the past, students have obtained books and indoor activity items.

If you would like to help out, send your labels to school with your Evergreen student, or drop them off at Colony Real Estate in the K.C. Corral during business hours. A few labels from everyone add up very quickly. March is the final month.

THERMOSTATS CAN BE FIRE HAZARD

Some models of electric heating thermostats manufactured by White-Rodgers Company should be inspected, the company reports.

Thermostats may have another "brand name" and still be manufactured by White-Rodgers Company. All may be identified by the distinctive shape of the control knob. Their name also will appear on the back side of each front cover.

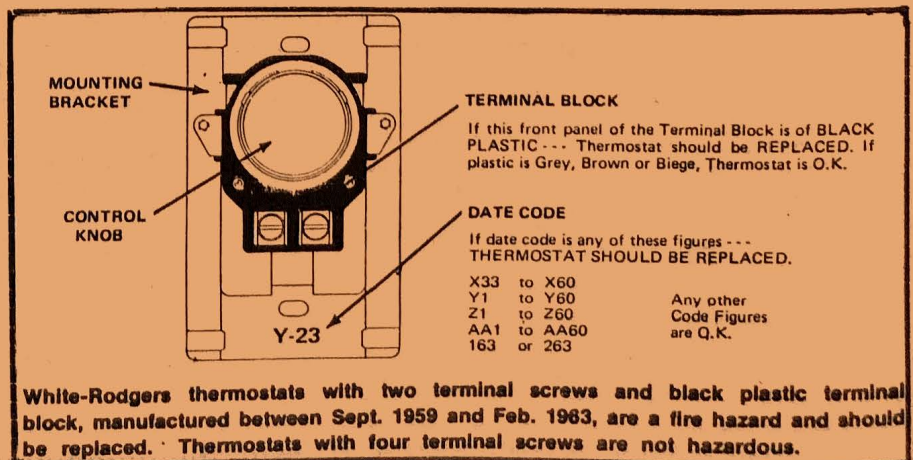

These thermostats are used for control of electric heating by ceiling cable, baseboard or wall units. There is no concern for thermostats controlling central furnace systems, nor for low voltage controls.

The problem is one of identification, which can be done by date code, or by color identification. CAUTION: Be sure to turn off electric power before attempting identification. For either method: remove snap-on dial plate. This will expose two screws which hold the front cover in place. Remove these two screws and take off front cover. At this point refer to diagram at bottom of page for details of identification.

Publicity on this program has been intermittent on approximately a two year basis since 1968. White-Rodgers Company has been very cooperative in trying to locate these faulty thermostats and recommending their replacement.

Replacement thermostats may be obtained on an exchange basis for $5.25 per unit, excluding installation charge. We do recommend that replacement be done by a qualified person.

A list of electrical contractors agreeing to this price may be obtained by calling:
In Tacoma: City Light Inspection Office - 383-2471, Ext. 281 or Fire Prevention Bureau - 593-4436.
In County: Pierce County Fire Marshals Office - 593-4615.

TAX RETURNS OF 1981, PART 2

By Walt Paulsen

TRAVEL AND ENTERTAINMENT DEDUCTIONS

Expenses of an activity that is generally considered entertainment, amusement or recreation, in addition to being ordinary and necessary business expenses, MUST also be directly related to the active conduct of the taxpayer's trade or business in order to be deductible.

Business meals provided to customers are the most common type of entertainment and their cost is fully deductible. In addition, deductions can be taken for the customer's spouse and taxpayer's spouse when general conditions of deductibility are present. Cost of entertaining business associations and clients at home (food and beverage) is also deductible providing it can be shown to be commercially rather than socially motivated.

ENTERTAINMENT FACILITIES AND CLUB DUES

Generally, expenses attributable to an entertainment facility are not deductible. This may include real or personal property considered to be entertainment, amusement or recreational such as yacht, hunting lodges, fishing camps, swimming pools, tennis courts, airplanes, automobiles, hotel suites, beach cottages, ski lodges, etc. However, disallowance would not apply to costs attributable to automobile or airplane on business trips, tickets to sporting and theatrical events or costs otherwise allowable business entertainment and business meals (out-of-pocket costs) at these facilities.

Club charges (including country, social, athletic and sporting clubs) are deductible if the taxpayer establishes that facility was used primarily for the furtherance of the taxpayer's trade or business and is directly related to the active conduct of such trade or business.

TRAVEL AND VACATION EXPENSES

If business persons combine business and pleasure trips, careful planning can result in tax savings. If the purposes of the trip are primarily personal, the traveling expense properly allocable to the taxpayer's trade or business is deductible.

TWO JOBS AT DIFFERENT LOCATIONS

If taxpayers have regular jobs in two locations they can deduct the travel and living expenses (food and lodging) at the location of the "minor" employment.

SUBSTANTIATION OF EXPENSES

Taxpayers are required to substantiate travel and entertainment expenses with receipts and a diary to establish the deductibility. Documents could include airline and railroad tickets, hotel and motel receipts, convention and meeting agendas, credit card charges, restaurant and night club receipts, checks and sporting and entertainment tickets.

Retention of receipts is a vital factor in securing a deduction because: (1) it establishes that the primary purpose was of a business nature; (2) it permits the taxpayer to corroborate by his own or by third party as to the amount, time and place, business purpose and business relationship of the deduction; (3) I.R.S. utilizes such documents when auditing returns; (4) it helps the taxpayer identify those charges that are clearly a personal expense.

BUSINESS GIFTS

Generally, an employer is allowed up to $25 per person for business gifts; however, after 8/13/81 up to $400 is allowed for (1) length of service, (2) productivity or (3) safety achievement.
