Dear Folks,

I am seriously concerned with the way the ASARCO smelter in Tacoma WA is being handled. A vote on health standards is absurd. EPA's job is to protect public health. Votes, especially in WA, can be bought. Tacoma is infamous for its dirty smelter. It's time to change industries. The proposed standards are too high and do not protect citizens from pollution risks. Maybe the EPA hasn't changed after all. Industry is still first.
