NEW YEAR'S BALL

The annual New Year's Eve Ball will be held December 31, from 9 pm to 1 am at the Civic Center. Billed as a most "Classy Affair" by the organizers, this year's ball features a first-class catered midnight buffet of succulent meats, cheeses, breads and hors d'oeuvres.

Music for all ages from the "Satin Sounds" will provide a festive and possibly romantic backdrop for ushering in the New Year, and the recently refinished dance floor, should make for very smooth dance steps. Party favors and balloons will be provided. Mixers may be purchased by those who bring their own beverages.

Reserved tables for groups are arranged through Sunnycrest Nursery at 884-3937, or Shirley Olson at 884-2481.

So get your best duds or dress out of the cleaners, and bring the gang...at only $35 per couple, it's less expensive and a lot safer than driving to Tacoma, Bremerton, or Seattle. You can even park your RV in the parking lot if you don't want to drive home.

Soon! Very Soon! Sooner than you know!

He's coming! Can't you sense it? In a few more days the highways and roadways of the Key Peninsula will ring to a happy, hearty, resounding, "HO! HO! HO! There will be a twinkling of the colored lights. There will be the chinking of sleighbells. Music of that joyous festive time of the year will grow from a distant whisper to nearby melody that will let all our boys and girls know that he has come. And when the excited kiddies run to his sleigh, he will hand them candy canes and spread peace and warm, delight-filled words, welcoming them to the wonderment of a quickly approaching morning near a colorful, light-festooned tree. And he will wish all of us a very Merry day. A day we know as Christmas.

And who is this jolly, well-rounded fellow sporting a flowing white beard and wearing a bright red costume trimmed in almost glowing white fur?

CHRISTMAS CRAFT FAIR

Articles pictured above will be among the variety of items displayed for sale in the annual Arts and Crafts Fair to be held from 9 to 5 December 6. The baby quilt and all the dolls are by Sueko Eriksen. The wreath and the poinsettia in a basket are by Claudia Loy. The goose and candles were done by Linda Ramsdell. Fred and Audrey Peer produced the animal marionettes and decorated eggs. These and many other locally produced items will be on display all day Saturday. Reservations for tables may be made through Vicki at 884-3642; Claudia at 884-3937 or 884-4169 or call the Civic Center at 884-3456.

For this event there is always a good turnout as the community really supports their Christmas Fair. Although hand-crafted items are being stressed this year, other items also will be available for Christmas shopping.

Lions Pancake Breakfast

Another of the popular Lions Club Pancake Breakfasts will be held on December 7, 9 am to 2 pm at the Civic Center. Serving hot cakes, sausage, eggs, fruit and beverages, the Lions provide what to many has become a Sunday brunch. Ticket sales are underway at $3.50 for adults; seniors at $1.75; juniors 6-12 $1.75, and those under 6 no charge. Lions netted about $350 last year and hope to do even better with this event. Benefits will go towards Sight and Hearing, as well as youth activities and drug-use education.

Chairman of the event this year is Jim Updike. Leading or working on the various committees are Rhys Wood, Russ Christine, Mike Palumbo, Bill Detmering, Stan Rippon, Allen Aplin, Jeff Robinson, John Robinson, Tony Trotter, Hugh McMillan. All the remaining members of the club will be helping one way or another. Arrangements are under way for entertainment by the Longbranch bellringers.

Letters to Editor

Readers will think I do nothing but complain, but this is to me a very serious matter and one that needs to be brought out.

The fact that the Civic Center does not fly the American Flag is a cause for concern, especially when it was not flying on Veterans Day. It does seem to me this is not such an onerous task to perform daily.

Perhaps some of us who objected to the flag being flown night and day improperly are to blame for the present lack of display. We are of the generation that was taught to love our country and honor its flag.

I personally typed up the Flag Code and presented it to members of the Key Peninsula Civic Center Association and its caretakers so lack of knowledge cannot be used as an excuse.

To me, this cavalier attitude to the American Flag is most disturbing. My ancestors fought to establish this nation, and have been fighting ever since to maintain it. The flag is a symbol and we should love and respect it and fly it proudly and correctly. This is not something that should be tabled and put aside, but a problem that should be addressed immediately.

My grandchild attended a pre-school a few years ago. We arrived with the teacher, and he was very proud to assist her in raising the flag. If a young lady at a small pre-school is able to raise and lower a flag, could not the Civic Center manage to perform the same task daily at sun-up and sunset. (As edited)

Park District Update

New officers were elected during the Park Board's November 11 meeting. Officers for the coming year are: Roy Madsen, president; John Steiner, vice-president; Daphne Daus, treasurer; and Terry Moore, secretary.

Daphne Daus updated the Board on the status of the Programs and Youth Activities Committee. Daphne was joined by Sally Kruger on Nov. 3 to address the Parent Group. Those in attendance shared their concerns about programs which could be considered beneficial to their community and made recommendations to the Park District on how they could be instrumental in instituting some of these programs. The committee is nearing completion on a survey form to be distributed at speaking engagements as well as to interested community members. The information gathered through the survey will be presented to the Park Board at the March meeting.

The Park Board accepted the billings to be paid as presented by each of the contractual organizations. The Civic Center presented a bill for the gravel in the parking lot and Volunteer Park presented miscellaneous billings for maintenance. These billings are paid for with the funds collected on behalf of the current Park District levy.

A member of the Board will be working with Oskar Schock in the selection of a permanent resident at Volunteer Park to act as security officer for the Park and Key Peninsula Middle School.

The Board would like to congratulate the Civic Center for the fine job they did in selecting the furniture for the Gold Room. IT LOOKS GREAT!

Where Is The Key Peninsula

By Mary Ann Huntington

An interesting bit of trivia was brought to the attention of the Key Peninsula Business Association at their morning breakfast meeting held November 7 at "The Eatery". The group has been working on a project to obtain signs along Highway 16 pointing the direction to the "Key Peninsula." One of the guest speakers at the meeting was Washington State District Traffic Engineer, Bob Truitt. Mr. Truitt told the group the signs could not read "Key Peninsula" as the area is presently named "R.F.K. Recreational Area" after the late Robert F. Kennedy. He also noted signs on Highway 16 could only contain 2 names and suggested a panel be formed to decide on the names. However, he did agree to erect "Key Center" signs on the north and south side of Highway 302 in Purdy and said this should take about 6 weeks to complete.

Other business included a very informative talk by Howard Polen and Tom Bush of Bush, Polen and Associates in Gig Harbor on the new Tax Reform Act of 1986.

KPBA president Cherie Mastro then showed samples of Christmas lights to the membership. The group voted to adopt the theme "Have a Country Christmas" to be used in all advertising this holiday season. Cherie also noted there's still time left to become a "Charter Member" of the Key Peninsula Business Association. The cost is $25.00 and the deadline is December 10, 1986. Mail your request to KPBA, P.O. Box 439, Vaughn, WA 98394.

Community Center

COMMUNITY RALLIES FOR KPCSC

On November 15, 18 Key Peninsula men arrived at the Key Peninsula Community Services' Center (Food Bank), several with tools in hand, to assist with a work project needing immediate attention. Their help had been requested less than 24 hours earlier. Most of these men, all volunteers, worked hard the better part of the day buttressing some weak sectors of our KPCSC building. When the need arose, they canvassed the community for, and obtained on loan, necessary items of equipment. While those with knowledge of the construction trades were working with hydraulic jacks and moving and placing heavy beams, others were removing and burning unusable combustible materials. Some made runs to the Key Western Building Center which provided needed materials at discounted prices as a community service.

When it was all over, the men who had time to eat were treated to delicious homemade soup whipped up on the spot by volunteer ladies led by Lorretta Jaggi.

The KPCSC and all Key Peninsula citizens for whom the KPCSC exists wish to thank Denny Hoff, John Carlson, Pat Cartwright, Richard Callahan, Bill Pomeroy, David Ahrens, Donald Tjossem, Fred Ramsdell, Mark Schaefer, Hugh McMillan, George Parrott, Robert Phair, Keith Stiles, Carol Morton, Russ Christine, Bon Gottwig, Tom Karnis, and Willard Johnson, all of whom gave up their Saturday on a moment's notice to help our community.

It was a truly all-Key Peninsula effort. The above-named men represent the Key Peninsula Lions' Club, the Longbranch Improvement Club, the Key Peninsula Fire Department, the Peninsula School District, the Key Peninsula Sportsmen's Club, the KPCSC, and private businesses. Several of them are members and some serve on the Boards of Directors of more than one or two of the organizations represented. They live in almost all parts of the Key Peninsula.

As one of them commented to another, who proudly agreed, "Now this is what Key Peninsula is all about, we're one big family and we help each other."

The Other Side Of Hanford

On December 5, 7 pm at the Huckleberry Inn there will be a dinner meeting of the Key Peninsula Lions Club. The speaker will be Don Swaim, reactor operations manager for the fast flux test facility. This is one of the many energy-related research facilities at Hanford, WA. Swaim has worked for Westinghouse Hanford Company for twelve years. Previously he served six years in the U.S. Navy's nuclear program. His topic will be, "The other side of Hanford," the education programs that are focused there and the economic impact on the Northwest. Discussed will be various types of research such as space science, robotics, genetic engineering, and artificial intelligence. Of course, nuclear power and the nuclear waste issue will also be discussed.

Non-Lions interested should contact a Lion member and attend as a guest.

Cootiette News

December brings plans for the annual Christmas Party on the 18th. This will be a potluck dinner and members are, one and all, excellent cooks.

Dates to remember in December: Navy Hospital on the 16th, and the Christmas Party at Cottesmore on the 19th. Martha Applegate has been busy making bibs for all the patients. She has done a beautiful job and we thank her for all her loving work.

Marie Schwenka's surgery has been rescheduled for December 11. We wish her well.

Sixteen Key Peninsula 5th and 6th grade boys have finished a good PAA season with 4 wins, 3 losses and 1 tie game. The Key Peninsula team, "Sounders" is one of the 50 teams managed by the PAA Youth Board. These teams total 820 boys and girls playing youth soccer in the Gig Harbor Peninsula area this fall. All PAA teams are possible because of parent support and volunteer coaches. The "Sounders" were coached by John Carlson of Home with Roy Tucker and Bill Worrell as assisting coaches. The boys live on the Key Peninsula and attend school at Evergreen, Vaughn, Morning Star and KP Middle School.

Reward $1530

Additional commitments to the reward offered for information leading to the arrest and prosecution of the person or persons responsible for removal, vandalization, or destruction of traffic signs on the Key Peninsula have swelled the fund to $1530. In addition to the list previously published, contributions have been received from the Longbranch Church Bellringers, $5; and KP Angel Guild, $10.

Several citizens have reported information which might lead to the arrest and prosecution of those miscreants who, through their irresponsible removal of traffic signs, have been directly responsible for serious accidents. Some of these accidents have resulted in the destruction of property and very serious injuries to innocent people. At least one of the victims is no longer living and it is believed by medical personnel who treated her that the tragic accident caused by the removal of a stop sign resulted in a serious shortening of her life.

To the guilty ones, Hugh McMillan says, "While we doubt that you have a conscience, we hope you are reading these words. We hope that in your sick mind(s) you will know that you have caused terrible pain to people who have done you no harm."

Fire Department Award

By Hugh McMillan

Our Key Peninsula Fire Department was presented the 1986 First Place trophy in the Management Excellence Awards' competition for Class B Fire Districts in Washington State at ceremonies in Spokane on October 25, 1986.

At the presentation banquet of some 500 Fire Commissioners and Chiefs from throughout the State it was announced that the award was based on the excellent administrative activities and public service (of the Key Peninsula Fire Department); extremely active (fire) Commissioners and Fire Chief; (the KPFD) received the highest voter percentage in the State for a lid lift; training is excellent with constant (Departmental) reassessment of needs.

The Management Excellence Awards were given in the following five categories, each based on the assessed property valuation requiring fire and emergency medical protection in the respective Districts and on income derived therefrom:

- A - over $1,000,000
- B - $500,000 to $999,999
- C - $250,000 to $499,999
- D - $100,000 to $249,999
- E - under $100,000

Prior to 1986, there were only three categories and these were based exclusively on the evaluation of properties to be protected within each District:

- A - over $350 million
- B - $50 to $349 million
- C - $50 million and under

Until this year, Key Peninsula Fire competed in Class A. That placed us in competition with some very high income fire districts. Nonetheless, our KP Fire Department had an enviable record. In 1982, the first year in which we competed, we were awarded Fourth place in Class A. In 1983, we took Third place. We did not enter the competition in 1984 but in 1985 we were awarded Second Place in the State. Considering that there were 411 Fire Districts in the State last year, that was an impressive achievement.

This year there are 419 Fire Districts in the State. Our community can be very proud that our Key Peninsula Fire Department was awarded First Place in its Class in the 1986 Management Excellence Awards.

The volunteers and career firefighters, Chief Kanno and the staff, and the three Fire Commissioners wish to thank the great Key Peninsula community for its continued support and friendship. Without that support, winning this award would not have been possible.

New Business DJ's Mini Mart

Don and Cheri Mastro started their tire business at their home location in 1979. On Dec. 15, 1982 they moved their business to its present Hwy. 302 location. They decided to expand and add a separate business on the highway property.

The mini mart and self-service gas station was recently opened with a sales arrangement with Mobil Oil company. The pumps were purchased from a mini mart in Belfair. Besides gasoline, oil is sold in cans. An advantage to motorists is the complete car care service available at the adjacent tire service business.

The mini grocery line includes bread, milk, candy, beverages and freshly-made (in house) pizzas, doughnuts and sandwiches. Cheri manages the business with the help of three full-time and two part-time women helpers. The Mastros are pleased by the response to their business offerings.

To become successful in life you must learn to work harder on yourself than on anything else.

Self discipline is step one to major personal progress.

Evergreen Eagle Boosters

The Eagle Boosters at Evergreen Elementary School will not have a regular meeting in December or January. Instead we will concentrate our efforts on preparing for the annual school carnival on January 30. This year Diana Sammons and Nancy Mercado will co-chair the carnival. The first organizational meeting will be at noon, Friday, Dec. 12, at school. All room mothers and anyone else interested in participating are invited. If you cannot attend but wish to help, please call Diana- 884-2956 or Nancy-884-3550.

During October and November, the Eagle Boosters sponsored two events. The first was the Pacific Science Center's Robotics Van, which came to Evergreen bringing robots for the children to experiment with and learn how to program. The other event was Mr. Jasper Tompkin's visit. He is a world-famous children's author and illustrator. Students were fascinated as he told his stories and drew pictures first at an assembly and then in each classroom. The Eagle Boosters hope to continue sponsoring such events throughout the year.

The mornings of December 8, 9, and 10 we will hold Santa's Secret Shop. To improve our gift selection, all the gifts were hand picked by our officers. More information will come home soon.

Thank you all parents who helped with the cheese and sausage fundraiser. It was a great success.

KARATE

The Key Peninsula Isshinryu is proud to announce the results of the 1986 Dr. Yip's Classic Karate Championship Tournament.

First, a word to say about the day. The event held at Gig Harbor High School welcomed about 150 competitors and over 500 spectators. Martial arts people travel from Oregon to Canada to compete in open tournaments, welcoming those in all styles.

Kim Wergin, a 20-year old lady from Salem, Oregon took home the colored belt Sparring and Forms first place trophies, and second place in the open division where the competitors make up their own routine. Excellent karate, kung fu and tae kujon do practitioners were present to test their abilities against others of similar age and ability or belt level.

The tournament begins with the youngest and least experienced, and works through the ranks to the black belt level. The first type of competition includes the "kata" divisions, also known as "form." Kata is a set routine performed solo in a choreographed manner. Each style has many kata. Some styles resemble others, while some are very unique, finding their origins in China and Okinawa.

After forms divisions are complete, the competitors prepare their hand and foot pads, and other safety equipment. Sparring is a controlled fight situation where each opponent attempts to outscore the other with quick strikes and kicks. Points are scored for effective target strikes. This division works up through the belt ranks also.

At the finish of sparring, there is a forms grand championship contest between black belt men and women, weapons and open division first place winners. A black belt grand championship sparring contest between the light, middle and heavyweights follows.

Vern Miller of Bremerton Kung Fu won forms grand champion with a breaking routine while walking on glass. Mel Cherry of Tacoma, also Isshinryu, won black belt sparring grand championship.

Students from Key Peninsula Isshinryu all showed admirable performances. Award winners were: Nick Stencil, aged 8, won first in peewee forms. Darin Lorton, aged 13, placed third in junior sparring. Mike Moore placed second in men's colored belt form.

Tops

Tops WA 1019 now meets in the Gold Room every Tuesday evening at 7:30 pm. Weigh-in starts at 6:30 and anyone who is interested is welcome.

We are very proud of Ann Larson who has not had a weight gain since she joined the organization and is almost at her goal weight.

Connie Schafer gave a most interesting program on color analysis with Cathy Schafer as her model. We try to have something for everyone and to encourage one and all to take off pounds sensibly.

Restaurant Guide

by Janice McMillan

Once in a while when I am in a restaurant I feel everyone knows something about the food that I don't. When I am in a place that is fairly crowded and everyone seems to be thoroughly enjoying their food and eating with gusto, I wonder, what did I miss? Did I order the one blah item on the menu? Am I too picky? Are my taste buds on strike?

I felt a bit like this at a recent lunch at the Tides Tavern in Gig Harbor. My friend and I decided to order a shrimp salad and a pizza and split them. The Original Shrimp Salad($6.95) was more than enough for both of us. It was a combination of lettuce, tomatoes, mushrooms, green pepper, cucumber, onions, celery, olives, alfalfa sprouts and small bay shrimp. The person behind the bar where we ordered lunch knew that we were going to split the salad so we each had a choice of salad dressing. The dressings are homemade and included Blue, Creamy French, 1000 Is., and Dijon Oil and Vinegar. A large amount is served in a cup on the side.

All these different ingredients (except the green pepper rings) are cut into a small size to match the size of the shrimp. This turns out to be a pleasant mixed vegetable salad with shrimp.

We chose a whole wheat crust (perhaps a mistake) 10" pizza with four items($8.00). Again, it was pleasant enough but the whole wheat crust seemed heavy, not crisp, and the underlying tomato sauce had a peculiar grainy texture. The whole thing lacked the zip necessary for a good pizza.

The Tides Tavern has plain wooden chairs and tables, a great feeling of being almost on the water which was very restful even on a gray and rainy day. The atmosphere is convivial and rustic. Even though it is a tavern, during the afternoon it appears to be more of a relaxed lunch place. We noticed several Gig Harbor business women lunching alone, very comfortably.

CONCLUSIONS: The food at the Tides Tavern is good enough, but I guess that when I spend almost $8.00 (no beverage) for lunch I expect something more. The Tides also has soups made daily, grilled hamburgers, and Super Nachos. They are open from 11 am until 10 pm (10:30 on Friday & Saturday). They have live music on Friday and Saturday and I hear that it gets quite lively.

BLOOD BANK DRIVE

ON MONDAY, DECEMBER 1 EVERYONE WHO CAN DONATE BLOOD IS ASKED TO DO SO AT THE KEY PENINSULA LUTHERAN CHURCH ON LACKEY ROAD. HOURS 4 - 8 PM. CALL KATHIE ARMSTRONG AT 884-3997.

"Rest assured that we are looking for you. Know for sure that sooner or later we will find you. Sooner or later, someone who knows will tell and collect the reward money and you will never know who told because we can keep their identity secret. Or maybe someone who knows will tell just because they know it is the right thing to do. Some people who have called in information have volunteered to contribute the reward money to charity. Maybe it would go easier on you if you turned yourself in now and confessed before it is too late. The Sheriff is required by law to protect you."

We ask that responsible citizens having information which might contribute to bringing those guilty to justice, please call either 884-4320 or 884-3319. If you wish, you do not have to give your name. You need only ask for a "code identity." Your information will be provided immediately to the Pierce County Sheriff and your "code identity" will be kept secret.

Many thanks to the several citizens who have provided information. Be assured that it is in the hands of the Sheriff and that it is being investigated. Should it serve to bring the guilty to justice, you will read it in the papers. When that happens - not before, please - call one of the above numbers and identify yourself.

From Our Scrapbooks

by Margaret Paul

From the 1956 Peninsula Gateway:

Peninsula High School students celebrated Sadie Hawkins Day Friday, April 20. Ed Bevis was elected King because of his outstanding beard. Queen Julia Stratford was elected by popular vote. Louise Roby and Darden Dickson won the best costume prize.

Recent visitors at the Robert Stratford home at Vaughn were his parents, Mr. and Mrs. R. A. Stratford of Grapeview, who have just returned from a six months' vacation in the southwest and a visit to Mexico. Mr. and Mrs. Louis Nederlee and family came out this last weekend to their summer home in south Vaughn. Mrs. Daisy Kinkaids spent Sunday with the Carroll Kinkaids.

Mr. Merle Kupka will leave soon for Sultan, Washington where he is to be the mechanic for the logging operation of Gordon O'Brien. Mr. Joe Bigley is still in the hospital, following surgery. Mr. Bill Lindner was the victim of an accident last Monday, when a tree he felled kicked back at him, breaking a small bone and twisting an ankle. He will be laid up for about six weeks.

Bill Ahearn, a product of Home, will head up the umpires for the Peninsula Boys' Baseball League this year... Ahearn has had considerable experience, having gone to Washington State College on a baseball scholarship after finishing a successful high school career at Vaughn. Later he played with the Navy Yard All Stars, then going to Hoquiam to play with their city team. Later, he was given a contract to play professional ball with the Bremerton Bluejackets in the western international league where he pitched for two years, 1946 and 1947.

The Key Peninsula Civic Center is still calling for an electric stove, a refrigerator and a piano. Members are grateful to all those who recently participated in a very successful work party at the Center.

Shannon and Dennis O'Hara are visiting at the Elmer Olson home at Purdy, while their grandfather, Mr. Frank Bill, is having a vacation in Montana and Idaho.

VPTO News

The next meeting of Vaughn Parent Teacher Group will be Dec. 9 at 7 pm. The meeting will be held in the front office area. This will allow the use of the gym for sitters and children.

Vaughn's Read-Lead program is going strong. The students have read over 2,300 hours. A big "congratulations!" to Brianne Oldenburg, Jesse Taylor and Sarah Walker, the first to reach 2,000 minimum.

Santa's Secret Shop is scheduled for Dec. 17, 18, 19. There will be lots of handpicked items ranging from 5c to $4.00. Volunteers are needed for help with sales. Please contact Cathy Beal at 884-4261.

Our appreciation to Trula Knudson for her thoughtful donation of a flag in memory of Myron Knudson. The donation was made during an assembly for Veterans' Day, and the flag is being displayed in a handmade glass case made by Richard and Beulah Lilley.

Hope to see you at our next meeting. Remember, we supply free sitters. We also look forward to seeing you at Winterfest Dec. 17, 7:00 pm.

HAPPY HOLIDAY

This delicious pumpkin recipe makes a very attractive dessert for a holiday party. I have made it twice and everyone who has tasted it agrees that it is wonderful.

PUMPKIN AND CREAM CHEESE ROLL-UP

- 3/4 c. sifted flour
- 1 c. sugar
- 1 tsp. bkg. pwd.
- 3 eggs, beaten
- 2 tsp. cinnamon
- 2/3 c. pumpkin
- 1 tsp. pump. pie spice
- 1/2 tsp. nutmeg
- 1 c. chopped nuts
- 1/2 tsp. salt
- Cr. Cheese filling

Preheat oven to 375°. Grease a jelly roll pan(15x10x1 in.). Line with waxed paper, grease and flour the paper. (Note below). Sift flour, baking powder, spices, and salt together. Beat eggs and sugar until thick and fluffy, beat in pumpkin, Stir in dry ingredients all at once. Pour into prepared pan, spreading evenly, sprinkle with nuts. Bake for 15 min. or until center springs back when lightly touched.

Loosen cake around edges with knife, invert onto a clean damp towel dusted with powdered sugar, peel off waxed paper. Trim 1/2" from all sides. Roll up cake and towel together, from short side. Cool completely seam-side down on wire rack.

Unroll cake, discard towel, and spread with filling. Reroll and refrigerate until ready to serve. Sprinkle with additional powdered sugar, if necessary for an attractive presentation. Makes 10 servings.

Cream Cheese Filling: Beat together 1 c. sifted powdered sugar, one 8 oz. pkg. softened cream cheese, 6 tbsp. butter and 1 tsp. vanilla until smooth.

Note: It is very necessary to use the correct sized jelly-roll pan for this recipe. My pan measures about 17x11x1, so I used folded strips of foil placed inside my pan to form the proper size. Be sure and grease these strips very carefully.

Washington history! Real, genuine, right from the horse's mouth. We were lucky to have the load of "A Small World of Our Own" by Robert A. Bennett. Published in 1985, this book should be easy to find in bookstores or libraries. By all means, find a copy if you have any interest whatever in Washington's early history. Most of us may not know that there were bloody Indian wars in Washington Territory during the mid-eighteen hundreds. The actual survivors of those terrible times have written their own accounts in their own words. The true stories, saved in old timers' scrapbooks, are very readable as assembled in the book.

The pioneer people, such as William D. Vaughn, for whom Vaughn was named, were incredibly hardy. Capable of doing almost any job, Mr. Vaughn survived Indian attacks, buffalo gorings, boat swappings, to name a few. He was a crack shot, excellent hunter, gunsmith, millwright and carpenter. He could get out logs and piling, or pilot a ship. The list goes on and on. The word "pioneer" comes alive as we read the true stories written by such people.

Hardships suffered by the brave women who pioneered this state were incredible. Imagine being left with small children with warring Indians all around, sometimes hiding in the woods as their homes were burned and family members murdered and tortured, giving birth in a covered wagon without medical attention and forced to stay with the wagon train as falling behind would mean certain death by Indians or renegade whites.

Some of the writers speak of traveling through roadless forests, swamps and mountains almost casually. Incredible distances were taken as a matter of course. Rivers were crossed and recrossed dozens of times in a single day. Oxen, farm cattle, horses and sometimes their drivers were drowned. Along the way people died of "consumption," cholera and, probably, pneumonia caused by extreme exposure. Loved ones were left behind as the struggle for bare life continued month after month.

Dreams of a glorious life in the virgin west descended to a day-by-day attempt to live another day, gain another mile. Desert heat, prairie blizzards, mountain snows were met and conquered. The Indians, at first friendly, came to see the whites as a plague to be destroyed. The white man's whisky no doubt destroyed not only the Indians' culture, but caused the death of many a white as well.

But read the book; it is interesting. It goes back to the very roots of our state. Maybe you will even understand why the old-timers called our mountain, "Tacoma."

Bingo

This is almost my "swan song" as far as Bingo is concerned. I have enjoyed meeting all the nice people who attend and it has been a rewarding experience. It would be great if someone would step up to take over the chairmanship of the program. I am definitely going to winter in Florida this year and thus will have no change of heart.

Thanks to the many who have helped so unstintingly over the years, especially to Mary Seidelman who has seen that help has been on hand each and every night Bingo has been played.

Also to Maureen Taylor for standing in for me on those occasions when I had to be elsewhere on a Wednesday night.

We had two green card winners on the 12th--these lucky people received double prizes. Michelle Stallone and Peg Johnson shared the $500.00 jackpot on October 29.

We will have Bingo on the 3rd, 10th and 17th of December. We will not play on the 24th or the 31st. We will have some special prizes on the 17th.

Do you have a four year-old at home who could benefit from a free preschool experience that would include art, music, snacks, and medical and dental screening? Does your family qualify as "low income" according to the Federal Income Guidelines? If so, the Peninsula School District, in coordination with Washington Educational Service District #121, will be offering such a program at the Vaughn Elementary School, starting (probably) on December 8 and continuing through winter and spring for the rest of the school year. Under this program, preschool will run from 12:45 pm to 3:30 pm four days a week, Monday through Thursday, and there will be room for about 18 children. In terms of priority for placement, children from the lowest income families will be served first. It is anticipated that it will be possible to provide transportation for any child accepted into the program who lives on the Key Peninsula, even though that child may live outside the Vaughn Elementary school attendance area.

Free Pre-School Program

Fliers describing the program have been posted on the Peninsula during November, and schools have been attempting to reach as many parents as possible to provide information about these new, free preschool classes. Parents who wish more information may call the Vaughn school at 884-9233 and/or pick up a packet of information at the Vaughn school office.

POETRY READING

Megan Aprile will read a selection of her own poetry on Wednesday, December 10, 7 pm at the Key Center Library. Much of her writing reflects the inner human experience, and humor, as a significant aspect of life.

She writes in a variety of forms, and is fond of the haiku:

September is the month through which August turns to bright October

The bare branches and the calm earth take the cold wet kiss of November.

Megan has been writing poetry since 1968, and gave an earlier reading at LAMA.

The community is welcome to attend this free program sponsored by the Friends of the Key Center Library.

Famous Author Visits
Minter Creek School

Jasper Tomkins, award-winning author and illustrator, visited Minter Creek Elementary School on November 18. He wrote The Sky Jumps Into Your Shoes at Night, The Hole in the Ocean, The Catalog, and Nimby.

Jasper Tomkins is a resident of Washington State now living on Orcas Island in the San Juans. He is a professional story teller and book peddler. He visits schoolrooms all over the country (especially in the Northwest) and has thousands of fans less than five feet tall.

Jasper Tomkins came to Minter Creek school and shared his excitement for writing directly with students. He told how he used his memories and experiences as a child to create his unique stories. Students in all grade levels worked with the author and then wrote stories of their own.

Minter Creek students write every day at school and are now beginning to formulate their work for the Young Authors Conference at the Peninsula School District in the spring. At this conference all district students will have an opportunity to become authors.

CHRISTMAS FAIRE

The Morning Star Waldorf school announces its second annual Old Fashioned Christmas Faire, Saturday, December 6, 11 am - 5 pm. This will be a fun-filled family day in the midst of the busy holiday season with music, crafts, food and many activities for children through grade 6, and is a wonderful opportunity for children to make gifts for family, friends and relatives. The activities for children include candle dipping, cone bird feeders, sachets, ornament decorating, wreath making, the famous "cookie kingdom," puppet shows, storytelling and more. For the adults there will also be quality handmade toys, a white elephant sale, baked goods and fresh fruit available. December 6 is St. Nicholas' Day and Saint Nicholas will visit the children at 2 pm. Festive holiday music will be provided by Dianne Everson, Pam and Philip Boulding and their Magical Strings, and others. The Faire will be held at Morning Star, located at The Woods, Gig Harbor. Admission is free and the activities for children are nominally priced. The proceeds from the Christmas Faire will benefit the Morning Star Waldorf School Scholarship Fund.

In its fourth year, Morning Star brings the unique Waldorf curriculum to our Tacoma-Peninsula area and is one of 500 Waldorf schools worldwide. Morning Star offers Preschool-Grade 5 in Gig Harbor as well as Preschool-Kindergarten in Tacoma. For more information please call 851-7827.

Everyone at Minter Creek gained something from meeting and spending the day with Jasper Tomkins. It was so exciting! Students, parents and staff were all inspired by this local author.

Minter Creek Elementary will celebrate its first annual Christmas Bazaar, "Santa's Workshop", on Sat. Dec. 13 from 10 - 5. Making and giving gifts are wonderful ways of sharing with family and friends.

Come join us in the spirit of the season. Baked goodies will be provided at a nominal fee and free coffee will be served. Money earned from this event will go toward books for our library. Booths are still available for $15.00. For more information call Barb Sherrod at 857-5138.

Upper Sound Grange

Musicians of the Washington State Fiddlers Association entertained members and guests of the Upper Sound Grange No. 705 on Nov. 7 at a booster night open potluck dinner. Samples of members' hobby work were displayed and included knitted items, home-canned fruit and vegetables, ceramic work, mounted pictures, flower arranging, sewing handwork and a novel candlestick of knotted candles.

Explorers Craig Smith, Michelle Sidmore and Jenny Schira of Post 213 waited tables; Gordon Detienne, Lt. Commander VFW Post 11990, was in charge.

At the head table were the State Grange Deputy for Pierce County, Bob Johnson with his wife Katie; Sam Akins, local Grange Master, and wife Pat; Marguerite Bussard, Lecturer; Elsie Olson, oldest member with 67 years of continuous membership; Elza Bryant, State Deputy Master, and his wife Dorothy; and Helen Marcum, Pomona Grange Master for Pierce County.

Lecturer Marguerite Bussard announced that Upper Sound Grange will be having a Christmas potluck December 5, 7 pm at Key Peninsula Civic Center. She also requests members to bring canned food for the food bank meeting at 8 pm. There will also be election of 1987 officers.

HEALTH CENTER HAPPENINGS

by William F. Roes, M.D.

There is nothing that strikes terror in our hearts at the Health Center like a man clutching his chest complaining of crushing pain radiating into his arm. These are the hallmark signs of an impending heart attack, and all too often we see people walking in our door when they should be riding in an ambulance to the hospital. Heart attacks and related heart and blood vessel disease are the leading cause of death in the United States as well as the Key Peninsula. Sometimes the onset of coronary artery disease is insidious, with an actual myocardial infarction (heart attack) as the very first symptom. More often, the early symptoms are chest pains related to a lack of blood flow to the heart muscle (angina pectoris). Patients typically describe this as a squeezing or pressure in the chest, sometimes radiating into the arm or neck. This is sometimes associated with nausea or sweating, and often a sense of impending doom. Episodes of angina often precede a heart attack, and increasing frequency of the episodes are very worrisome. Differentiating between a prolonged anginal episode and a heart attack can be quite difficult, and basically is a matter of watching for changes in a cardiogram or blood tests that occur with time. For this reason, when we are unable to distinguish between the two, the safest course of treatment is to transport the patient to the hospital via ambulance for further testing and observation in the Coronary Care Unit. Once acute myocardial infarction is ruled out, angina pectoris is diagnosed or excluded on the basis of an exercise treadmill test (a cardiogram done while the patient exercises) or coronary angiography (X-ray dye studies of the heart's blood vessels). If you suffer from occasional chest pain associated with exercise, contact your doctor, but if you're suffering from severe discomfort call the fire department at 911. Don't strike fear in my heart and risk your own by driving to the Center in that condition!

From all of us to all of you, Merry Christmas and a Happy New Year!

NEW BOOKS IN THE LIBRARY

BAIDARKA/George B Dyson: Baidarka is the word for a portable boat made of skins stretched over wood frames and widely used by Alaskan coastal natives and Aleuts. This book, published in Edmonds, Wa., is the result of the author's singular 15-year pursuit of dreaming, researching, and building this canoe-type craft. It includes history, personal experience and adventures, and plans.

FOXFIRE 9. The ninth volume in a series. Eliot Wigginton began teaching high school over twenty years ago in Rabun County, Georgia. The students were bored, and he was unable to communicate with them. So he turned their attention to the elders of the community. From these storehouses of knowledge about the old ways of doing things, the students learned the skills, techniques, and crafts on all the essential and nonessentials of life.

They came to know the people and their stories. They also learned interviewing, writing, photography, publishing. The Foxfire books are their books. Volume 9 includes chapters on herb doctors and healers, examples of five general stores, quilting, a Catawba Indian potter, wagonmaking, scary stories, log cabins, and more.

WILD CALIFORNIA: VANISHING LANDS, VANISHING WILDLIFE/A. Starker Leopold/Photographs by Tupper Ansel Blake. This photographic survey of the remaining primitive, wild areas of California was funded by the National Audubon Society and jointly published by the University of California and The Nature Conservancy. The purpose is preservation and restoration. The closing quotation is from Aldo Leopold's A SAND COUNTY ALMANAC: "There are some who can live without wild things and some who cannot. Like winds and sunsets, wild things were taken for granted until progress began to do away with them. Now we face the question whether a still higher standard of living is worth its cost in things natural, wild, and free. For us of the minority, the opportunity to see geese is more important than television, and the chance to find a pasque-flower is a right as inalienable as free speech."

The Minter Creek PTO will have its second Santa's Secret Workshop on December 11 and 12. The secret workshop is a valuable experience we offer your child. The ability to choose presents for loved ones helps create the spirit of giving for our children. This is not a fundraiser, we have chosen gifts that are reasonably priced to allow everyone to participate. Many parents volunteer their time to make this a successful event and one in which we can all share a true feeling of family and friends.
