Dear Stan -

Here are the negatives and prints of me. I took one to a photo shop to see if it could be enlarged: Focus was not clear enough. And as you will see the film some how got light struck. A couple of shots not included herewith missed aim on the subject too far to be printed. About exposure you can figure that out for yourself. Aside from a few other minor points they are o.k.

New York rolls along and I try to roll along with it, but just manage to drag along behind, Life is more beautiful in Wilmington. I am bragging all over the place about our plane ride.
